A Time of

Someone has said that all of life is a search . . . and this is particularly true during the high school years. At this time every phase of life takes on new importance as the impatient young adult seeks identity. Eagerly he probes for knowledge because knowledge is essential to confidence. Desperately he yearns for happiness as the panacea for the restlessness within him that seeks expression. Ultimately he "strives to know himself . . . and to find himself is as important as the spaceship that may reach the moon . . . for when he finds the world within himself, he then belongs to the age of man."

—The Arbutus

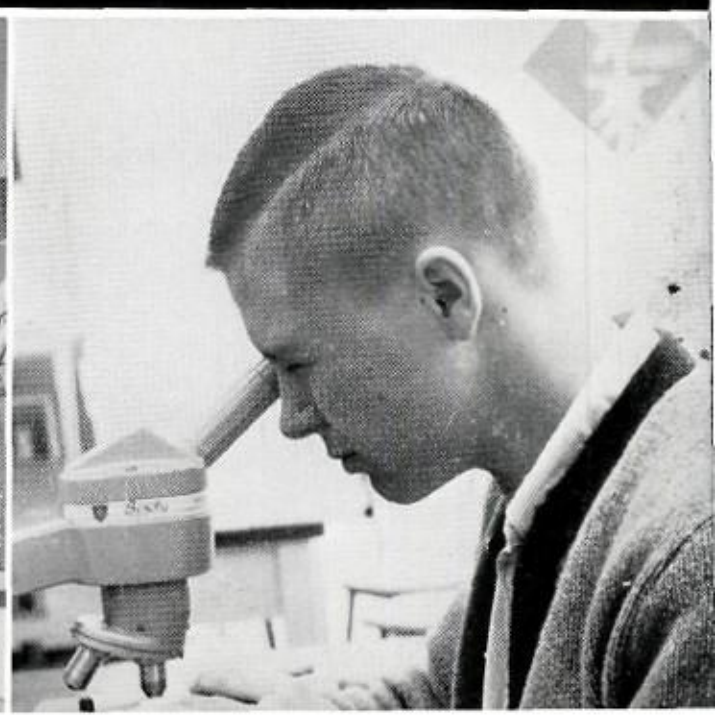

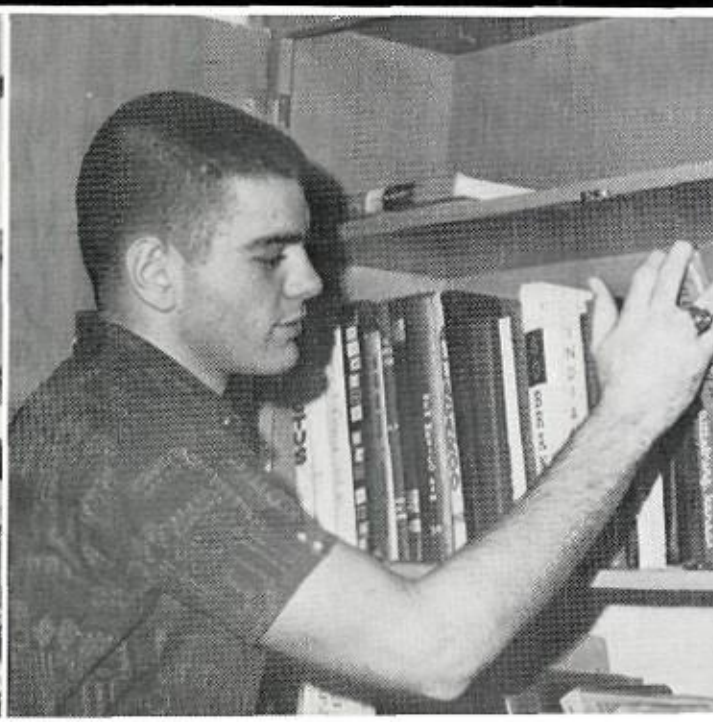

Searching.

for Knowledge

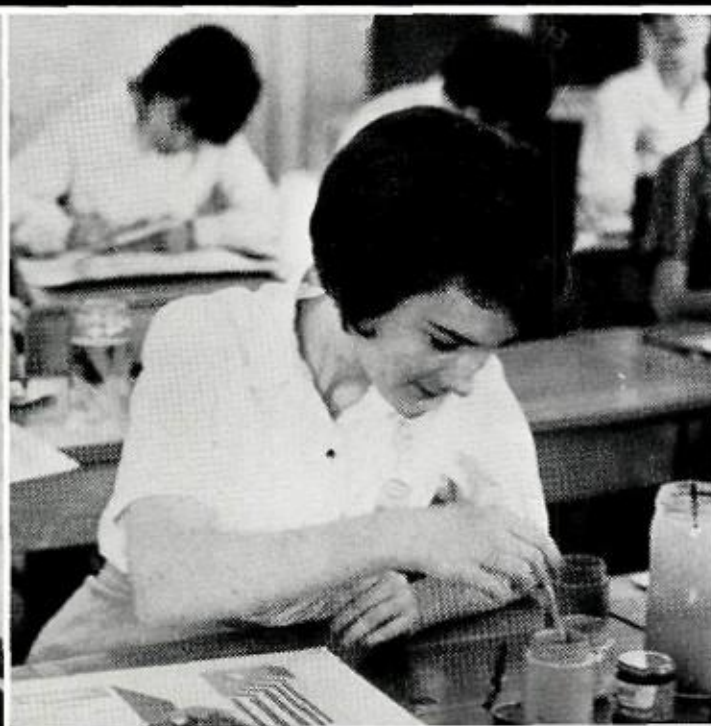

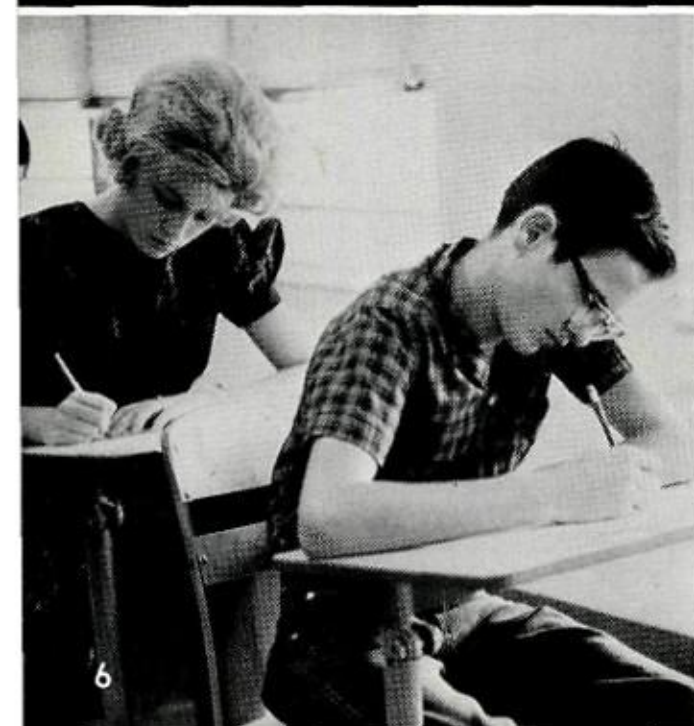

As one approaches maturity, learning takes on new meaning. The world of science, literature, and the arts beckon, and the student follows cautiously through chemistry, English, literature, Latin and a hundred other academic courses. The realization grows that there is so much to learn and so little time, for the more one studies, the more one discovers his ignorance. The serious student feels compelled to know all that has preceded him, for the void of the future with its unlimited possibilities stretches before him. Perhaps during these years it is enough to know how to learn . . . knowledge will come, for it is the beginning of understanding and true wisdom.

for Self-Expression

There is that in us that seeks expression. Intangible, compelling, it must be realized. Some find release in art . . . paint and canvas combine to portray great happiness, gnawing anxiety, indescribable joy. Others lose themselves in make-believe . . . a bit of costuming, footlights, and a poignant imagination bring to life the foolishness of the Emperor, the solitude of Hamlet, or the pathos of Cyrano. A simple melody suffices for some as it bears them out of a mundane existence into the hall of dreams and beyond. Through art, dramatics, music—each is striving in his own way for expression of that spark of emotion that sets him apart from those around him.

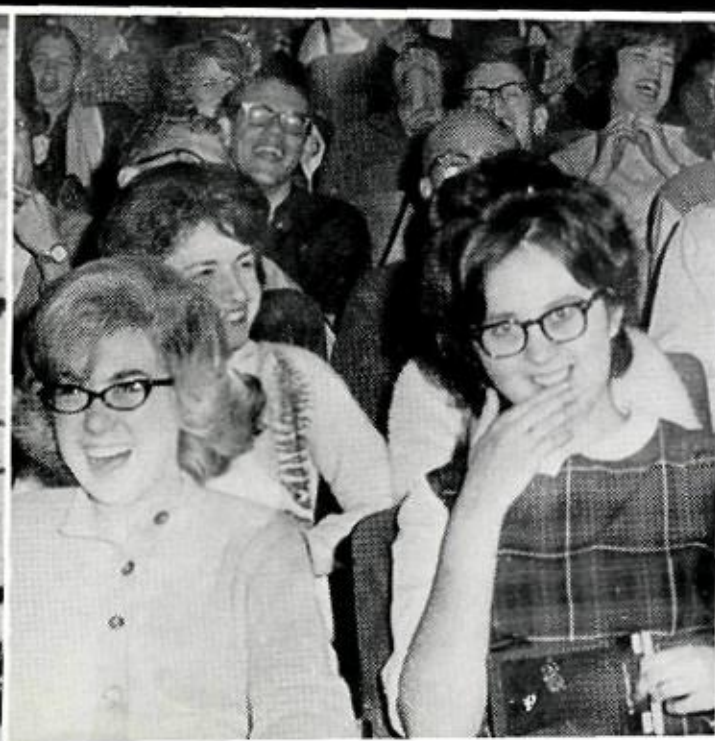

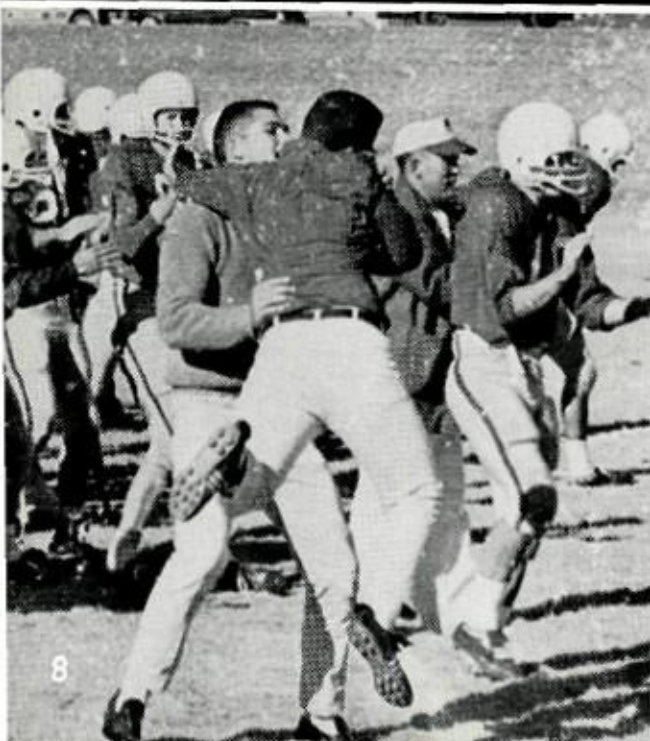

ROYAL WEAVERS

for Happiness

No one can define real happiness, but the teenager has found bits of it working for Cowtown until party time . . . putting the finishing touches on a never-to-be-forgotten Senior Carnival . . . crossing the goal line for the score that wins the game. Yet, even he realizes that happiness is but an illusive shadow and so he says with the poet . . . "There is that in me—I do not know what it is—but I know it is in me—I do not know it—it is without name—it is a word unsaid; It is not in any dictionary, utterance, symbol—It is not chaos or death—it is form, union, plan—It is eternal life—It is Happiness."

—Walt Whitman

campus life

Where does one look for identity? Literature? Art? Nature? Certainly clues will be found in each of these, but one finds true identity only in relationships with other human beings. Therefore, we must look at after-game parties, at Cowntown, at Mardi Gras, at homeroom parties, in Student Council activities and in club projects. We must plumb each phase of our school life in order to develop the whole personality.

Guided by Student Body Officers, Monterey Student Council, in an effort to unite the largest student body in the history of the school, co-ordinates as well as directs all important activities. Through this leadership, the entire student population is incorporated into all Monterey functions in a combined effort for success.

In order to better equip themselves as leaders, the newly-elected officers attend summer workshops, which enable them to work closely with the students and administration.

Running for President of the Texas Association of Student Councils created extra work and added responsibilities for the council officers. Linda Williams, Mike Malcik, Marcie White, Jay Ribble and Janie Kinney prepare campaign material to use at the election held at the state convention in Houston. Leadership, experience and prestige were objectives of the campaign for the state office.

Committees Co-ordinate

Whenever a school activity is announced, the students of Monterey can be sure a Student Council committee has begun planning and working for a successful party or assembly. Each committee is under the direction of a capable leader who is responsible for such events as Cowtown MHS, Mardi Gras, Exchange Assembly and the Rey Rosters. Committee chairmen are appointed by the Executive Committee of the Student Council, with the exception of the Chaplain and the Parliamentarian, who are elected by the Council members.

Susan Warshaw, Mike Atkinson, Arlene Barasch and Janie Kinney form the backbone of the Assembly committee.

Sherry Smith and Kay Hubbard, as chairmen of the Recreation committee, make arrangements for all school social activities.

Preparing Christmas decorations for the halls of MHS are Robert Whitehill, chairman; John Sparks, Larry Ewing, Merle Wiser and Barbara Cody, members of the Plant and Decoration committee.

SC Projects

Donna Upshaw, Publicity committee chairman, totals the money received from the sale of Rey Rosters, which were one of the main projects of this committee.

Jay Ribble, chairman of the Safety committee, presents Marcie White, head of the Courtesy committee, with an ice scraper, a project sponsored by Jay's committee.

Carl Moore, chaplain, and Kenny Gideon, parliamentarian, examine the revisions to the constitution before they are presented to the council for debate.

Recreation committee members hoist the traditional Plainsman to welcome MHS cowpokes as they enter Cowtown.

Besides serving as chairman of the Citizenship committee, Lou Scoggin found time to sell over 70 megaphones for the Student Council.

Autumn Activities Intensify

As Coach DuBose, imitated by Lou Scoggin, introduces the Plainsman eleven, Thirsty Dalrymple, as portrayed by Lynn Hamilton, slinks into the high-spirited atmosphere of the first pep rally.

Plainsmen give a Texas welcome to Carl Moore, Monterey exchange student to Sweden.

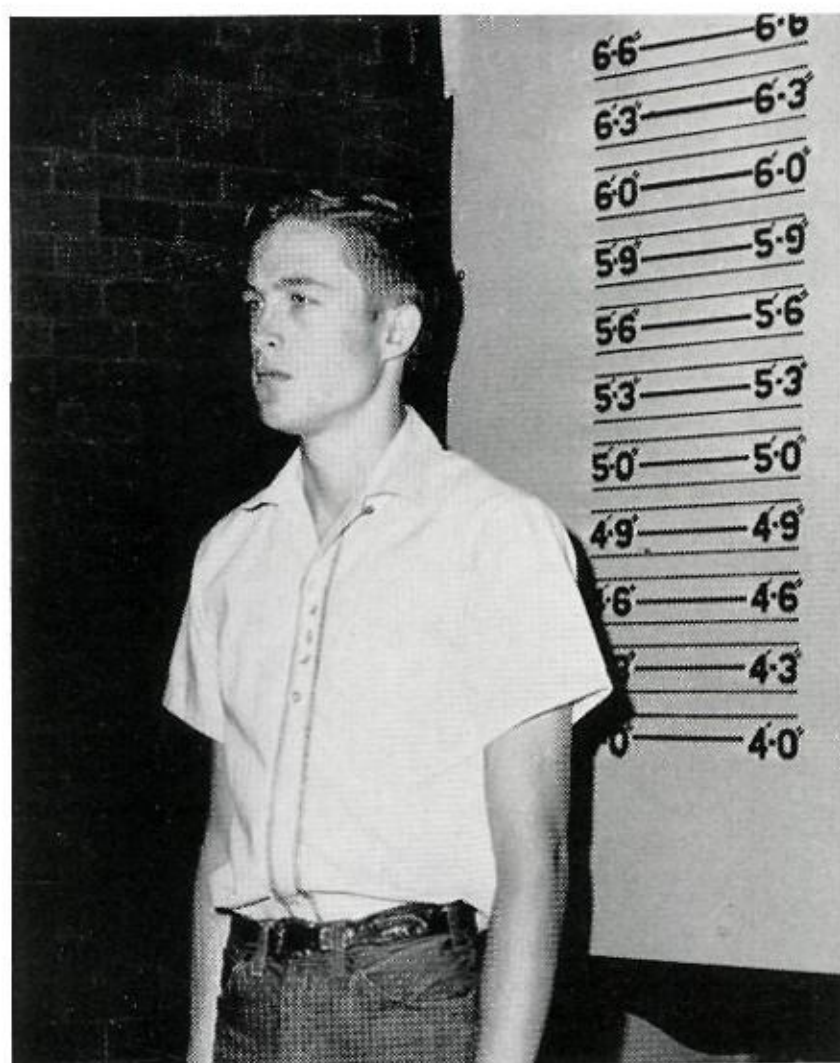

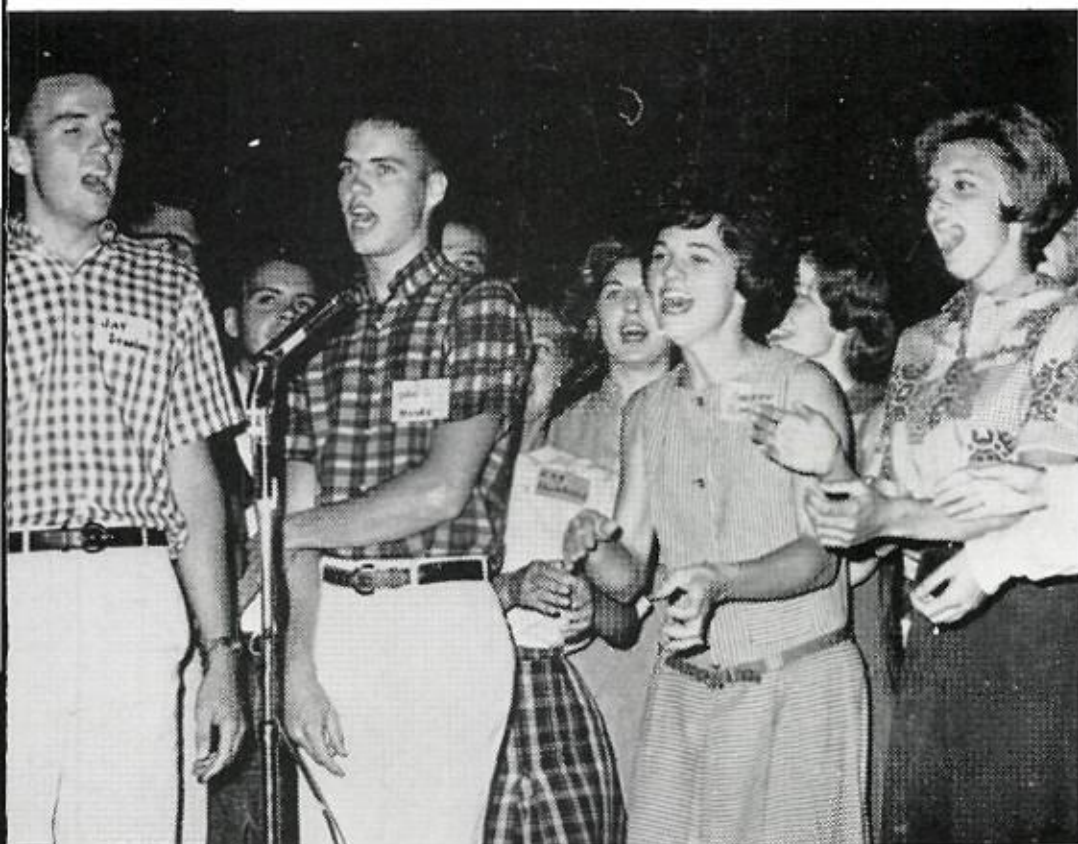

Wayside Singers Richard Knox, John Pugh, David Sawyer and Wesley Wallace sing of the virtues of the Salvation Army at the Hootenanny, a special attraction at Cowtown MHS. Various Monterey folk singing groups, who were introduced by Monty Landers, entertained cowboys and cowgirls during a break in the dance scheduled in the boys' gym.

Student Body Participation

Bales of hay and western dress provided the atmosphere for Cowtown, MHS, as Plainsmen and their dates had an opportunity to perform all the latest dances such as the Surfer Twist and the Fat Lady to the rhythm of the Bermudas at Cowtown.

Fall is a busy time of year, especially in a big high school. Autumn of '63 marked changes in school appearance and routine. A temporary portable classroom building appeared on the campus, and detentions replaced demerits. It seemed that pep rallies, football games, bus trips and class assemblies had hardly begun when the fall season ended, and the Christmas holidays ushered in a new semester.

As Wilburn Beesinger stands in front of the camera, the photographer snaps his identification card picture. I.D. cards became compulsory to every MHS student.

Presenting their rendition of "This Little Light" are members of the two Lubbock high school student councils at the watermelon party for the two councils held in the Monterey patio.

Plainsmen, Parents Capture

Mrs. Hart, accompanied by her son Tommy, struggles through a passing period MHS style during the Parent Visitation Tour.

"No matter what the weather, or what the time of day" certain faithful Plainsmen always find time for goal decoration.

A football fan always comes prepared. Miss Jan Cannon is no exception. Equipped with blanket, umbrella, megaphone, raincoat and stadium cushion, this ardent spectator wishes the Plainsmen well.

Fall Spotlight

During the course of the year, there comes a time when students feel the need to introduce their parents to life at MHS. Through the Parent Visitation Tour, each mother and father were given a glimpse of classroom activities that constitute each Plainsman day. This year, as every year, students faced the difficult problem of synchronizing school work with the bus trips, football games, after-game parties, pep rallies and the Plainsman spirit that are all so much a part of Monterey.

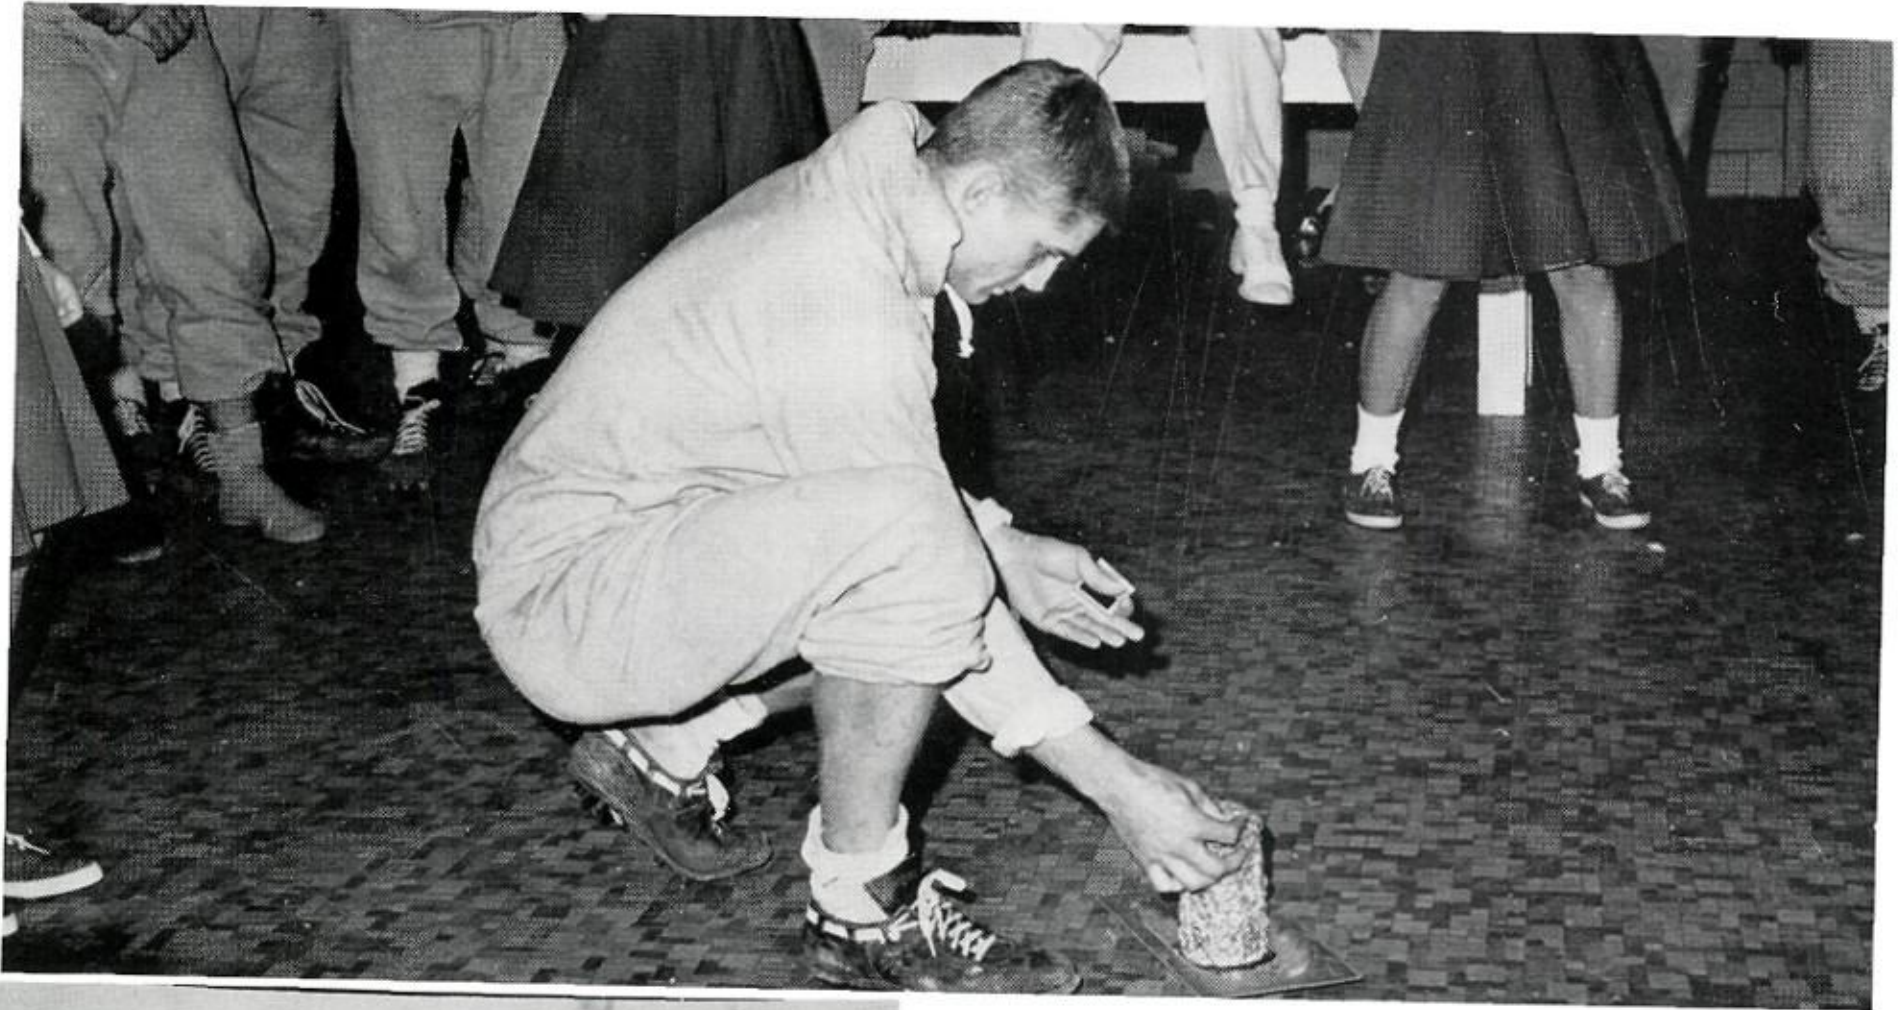

Climaxing Monterey's first night pep rally, Student Body President Mike Malcik presents Sports Queen Chris Adrean with traditional red roses and a congratulatory kiss.

As the bus caravan en route to Pampa pauses at a roadside park for supper, cheerleaders and enthusiastic students stage an impromptu pep rally which boosted Plainsmen to a 28 to 6 victory over the Harvesters.

Winter Premieres as Grid

Too soon the year ended . . . the rekindling of a priceless tradition marked a passing season . . . Christmas holidays found Plainsmen thinking of others as they tackled the annual canned food drive . . . but yet . . . too soon it was over.

The temporary portable classroom unit and too many cars detracted from the beauty of the Monterey campus.

Season Closes

A flag at half mast, a cancelled pep rally and the sudden insignificance of the Silver Spurs reflect Plainsman sorrow at the death of a President. Cold Winter weather drives activity indoors as basketball season begins.

Streamers of red and blue and a battle cry of "Bug the Westerners" augment Plainsman spirit before the annual Silver Spur contest.

Symbol of a sorrowing school, the flag at half mast reminds Plainsmen of the passing of a President.

Unusual Assemblies Punctuate

Gallant Plainsmen Tommy Armstrong, Robert Horseman and Mike Atkinson escort Toni Mace as she returns from the annual Courtesy Assembly. Courtesy Week is traditionally climaxed by Dress-Up Day and the assembly.

The beat of drums and the twang of electric guitars herald the arrival of "The Sparkles" from West Texas State University, who provided a welcome intermission to classes at a pay assembly.

With the "bang-bang" of mock pistols and the swirl of blue denim skirts, Exchange Assembly dancers convince audiences of the advantages of being from "Big D."

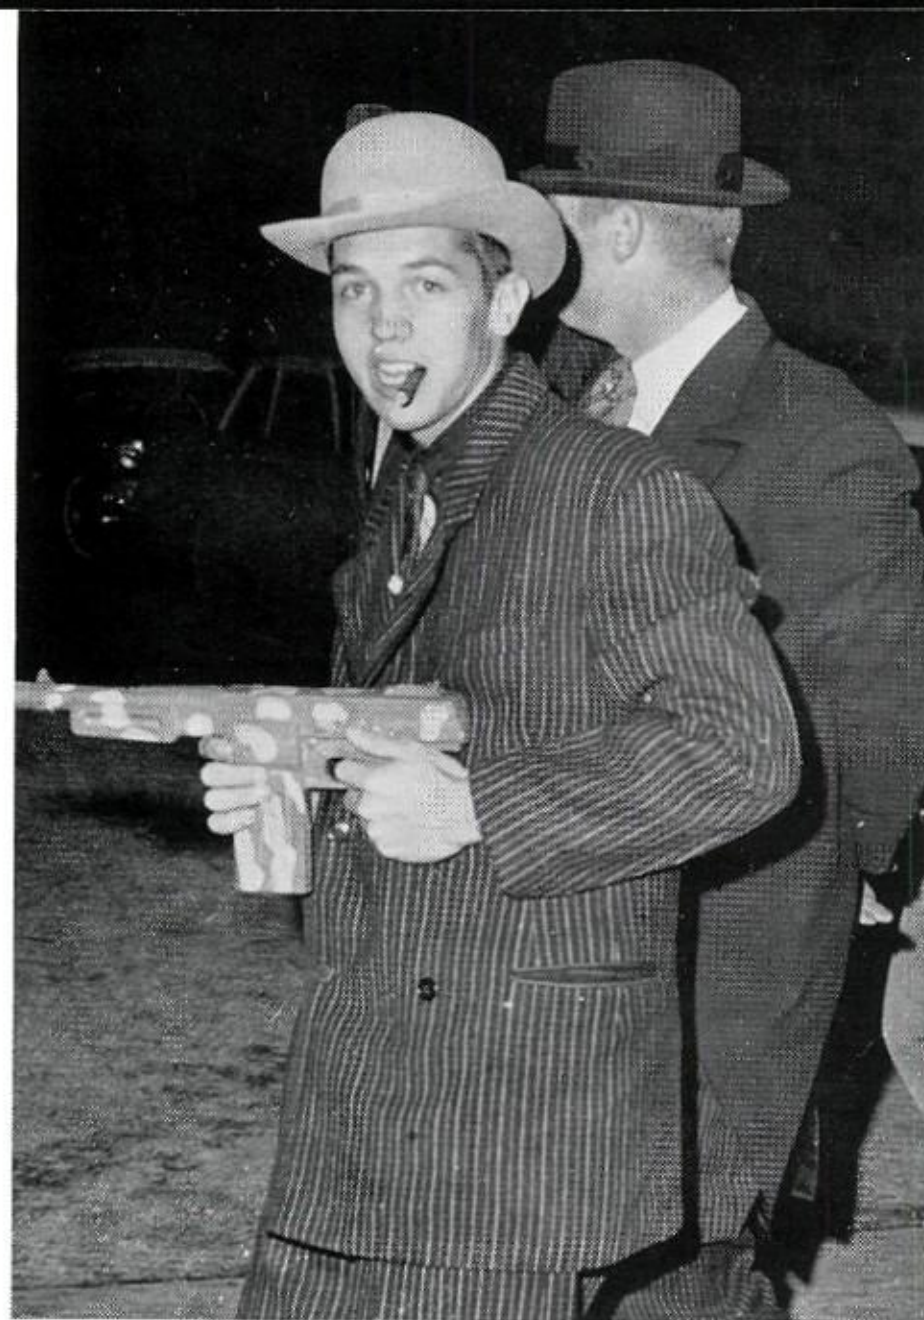

"If you get an outfit, you can be a cowboy too" echo singers in the Exchange Assembly finale accented by Wesley Wallace's hilarious mishaps. On a more serious note, Carl Moore elaborates on Swedish culture in an assembly presented by the summer exchange student.

Slow Season

Spring fever makes its annual appearance at MHS as diplomas and vacations begin to occupy the minds of anxious Plainsmen. A variety of assemblies and activities help fill remaining weeks until school ends.

Masquerade Sets Mood

Gangster Mike Anderson bows in to Mardi Gras following a harrowing sub-machine gun chase.

Plainsmen find balloons, crepe paper and confetti an unforgettable part of Mardi Gras as they drift down Pirate's Alley to the Cove and on to the coronation of Mardi Gras royalty.

Amid the frantic screams of surprised fans "The Beatles" take the spotlight following an appearance of the "Wayside Singers" at The Cove, Mardi Gras's unique night club.

portraits

An avid search for identity leads some few students into places of honor. They are not necessarily the scholars, nor are they always the life of every party; they simply give of themselves and thus endear themselves to the faculty and to the whole student body. Each year they are honored, not for the sake of honor alone, but because they have helped make one school year happy and successful. In finding themselves they have helped create one year that will live in memory for 2700 others.

A SENIOR PERSONALITY gives of himself . . . to his teachers, his classmates, his class. He is outstanding in every phase of school life. Eight seniors have merited this honor by giving that extra measure to Monterey High School.

DONNA UPSHAW is chairman of the Publicity Committee, yet she finds time to maintain excellent grades, participate in the Exchange Assembly and supervise publication of the Rey Roster.

DUANE HOOVER served as president of the NHS first semester. He is also a member of football and track teams. A willingness to help characterizes Duane.

GWEN BOTIK has served three years on Student Council. Monterey's campaign for TASC president owes much to Chairman Gwen. She is an invaluable member of the Class of '64.

Chairman of the Recreation Committee entails enumerable hours of work behind the scenes. KAY HUBBARD has been a vital force in the success of all-school parties.

Personality brings to mind the name MARCIE WHITE. As head cheerleader, she has displayed the true vitality and spirit of a loyal Plainsman. A quick smile and friendly word personify Marcie.

Good humor, intelligence, and a dash of charm equals GWEN CONNELLEY. She represented Monterey at Girls' State and in ISL tennis. She also planned and executed "A Dream Come True," Senior Banquet.

A parliamentarian has his hands full keeping order in an active student council. KENNY GIDEON has fulfilled his duty besides working on the revised constitution. Scholarship and Kenny are synonymous.

CAROLYN DUBOSE is the student who is always there to do the job. This girl gives her all to her school. As senior vice-president, she has added to her class in work and enthusiasm.

Juniors belong to a class that is neither novice nor experienced . . . they are in-between. Being caught in the middle of anything is a difficult, trying adventure. From this class must emerge students who can lead, work and follow, for they determine the reputation of Monterey High School in 1965.

Some few find their place quickly. They personify the junior tradition of hard work and are well-known and loved . . . that is why they deserve to be called JUNIOR PERSONALITIES.

Everyone loves the sound of song and laughter, and who could combine them more perfectly than MARY LYN ROBERTSON. She was selected for All-State Choir and is a member of Cantores, NHS and the Musicians Guild.

The juniors themselves have shown what they think of I. D. WALKER by electing him President of the class. I. D., a well-rounded individual, is interested in choir, NHS, Hi-Y and Pre-Leg. He is an asset to the class and a deserving personality.

Whenever there is a meeting, a job, a rehearsal, BYRNIE BASS is there. A quiet manner disguises the drive of this ambitious vice-president. H-Y, Pre-Leg and the Golf Team occupy another part of Byrnie's life.

Cheerleading is only one small part of the services VICTORIA COCHRAN has given her school. NHS and Latin Club have also felt the pep and drive of this November Teen of the Month. As chairman of the Junior-Senior Prom, Victoria has proved that she definitely is a personality among the Juniors.

Enthusiasm and eagerness describe DANESE McDONALD. Student Council, Spanish Club and Y-Teens have profited from the vivacious energy demonstrated by Danese. She has that intangible quality that makes her well-liked by all.

The designer of the set for "And God Created Texas" was that unusual junior, MIKE ATKINSON. Besides fulfilling the duties of Junior Assembly Advisor, Mike keeps busy with Hi-Y, Latin Club and NHS. His many, varied talents are invaluable to every class project.

Every sophomore enters high school with curious anticipation of the new year. There is so much to learn both academically and socially that for the first few months he feels overwhelmed. However, apprehension is soon forgotten by those who quickly involve themselves in the activities of high school. Their classmates look to them for ideas and for leadership. A few outstanding people set the tempo for the fast pace of the Sophomore Class . . . they are the SOPHOMORE PERSONALITIES.

Knowledge, dependability and efficiency describe MARY ANN HAMILTON. Possessing a quiet manner, she devotes many hours to Spanish Club, Publications and academics. She also maintains honor roll grades.

DON BOTIK, a sophomore everyone knows and likes, has worked on the class skit, class party and class assembly. He's the kind of fellow that soon becomes indispensable to his class. Don is a class vice-president and a member of the tennis team.

Reliability summarizes the personality of GREG MOOREHEAD. Whatever the situation, he is always conscientious, courteous and sincere. Greg is always on hand when there is work to be done. That's why he's a valuable vice-president of his class.

As cheerleader SHERRY WIMAN is constantly demonstrating the spirit of the sophomores. Choir, Y-Teens and the Sophomore Assembly round out the active schedule of this lively sophomore.

Personality, cheerfulness and poise in just the right proportions compose SHARON JONES. Not only is she intelligent, but she is also full of fun and eager to do her part. Sharon is a member of the Monterey Tennis Team.

That unique ability to get along with everyone comes naturally to TOM BRUMMETT. Football is his main interest, but he still finds time to be active in Spanish Club. Tom is the kind of guy it's fun to know.

Mardi Gras Royalty

By definition Mardi Gras is the last day of Carnival. At Monterey, Mardi Gras is the last all-school party. Traditionally the masquerade ends at midnight; at Monterey, it ended at 9 pm when Monty "Fox" Landers and Marcie White were crowned King and Queen of Mirth. Class Dukes and Duchesses attended the Royal Court.

clubs and organizations

Finding the proper niche in the club program is not always easy. One must not only find the club of his interest, but also a place where he can be useful and happy. Some clubs are designed to aid self-expression; some are devoted to vocational guidance; others bestow honor for a job well-done. The diversified club and organization program helps each individual in his search for identity. That feeling of belonging comes only after one has lost himself in service to clubs and organizations of his choice.

Vocalists Strive for "Firsts"

Outstanding honors and recognition come naturally to Mrs. Marjore Newton's A Cappella Choir. Led by Ivan Chambers, president; Joel Hughes and Marty Ratcliff, vice-presidents; Sharon Jones, secretary-treasurer; Terri Smith, historian; and Rose Glazener and

Versatile Sophomores March

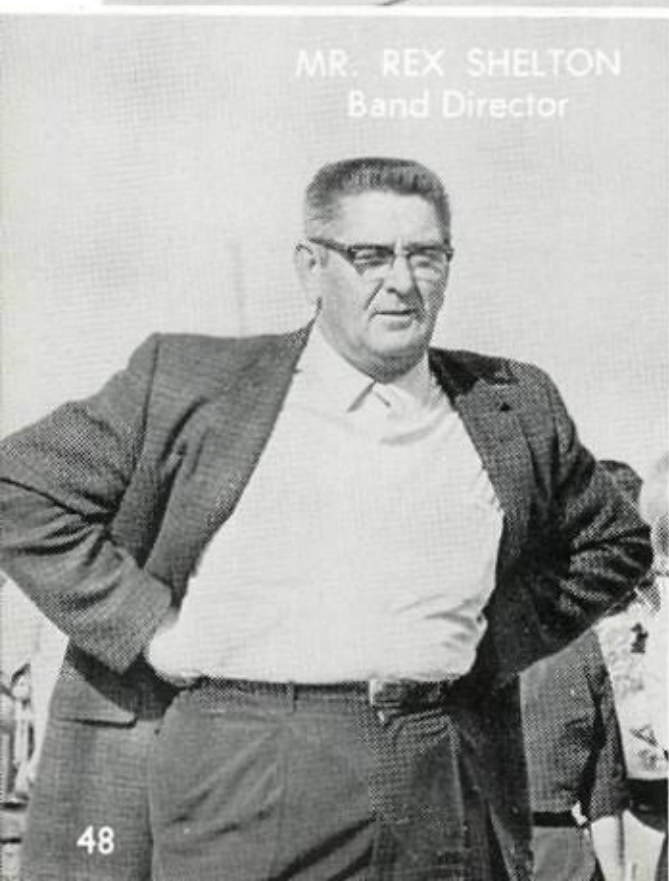

With the completion of a successful year, a second band, composed of sophomores only, was again included in the Plainsmen routine. The band year was well underway as the 100 marching sophomores took a second place rating in the Tech Rodeo Parade.

Drills Brighten Gametime

The success of each organization contributes to the success of the school as a whole. In turn, each organization is dependent upon the success of the individual.

The MHS majorettes and drum majors added to the distinction of two bands and a school while earning awards in competition throughout the district.

Junior-Senior majorettes Sandi Parmer, Pam Munson, Judy Stewart, Chris Adrean and drum majors Carl Noble and Clifford Rice prove that playing an instrument isn't all it takes to make a first class band as they step high on the field in leading the Red-Blue band.

Janet Gann, Marsha Dement, Daye Dunn and Jeannie Pennington, sophomore drum major and majorettes, take their place as leaders on the field in perfecting marching routines.

An idle tuba in an open field reflects within its bell a faint image of hours of hard work and devotion, thus, making "Marching MHS" recognized in local, area and state competition as a master band.

Music Makers Combine Talents

Musician's Guild officers Rose Glazener, Ivan Chambers and Carl Noble screened programs and activities for the '63-'64 club year.

Expanding their musical interests to an organization outside of the regular curriculum, members of the Monterey music departments participate in the programs of Musician's Guild. Taking part in the first activity of the year, the initiation party, the club membership totaled approximately 110 students from band, choir and orchestra.

Selecting programs consisting of special performances by musicians in the community is the main duty of the club officers and sponsor. Ivan Chambers, president; Carl Noble, vice-president; Rose Glazener, junior vice-president; and Terri Smith, secretary, cooperate with Mrs. Marjore Newton to add a bright note in the '63-'64 schedule.

There are few courses in which the work put out is beneficial to an entire student body as well as to the student himself. By working on the school paper, students gain experience in journalism while supplying some 2,500 Plainsmen with information concerning past, present and future events.

Students devote two class periods a day as well as many hours of "overtime" to making the MIRROR a first class paper and news sheet. The members of the CHAPARRAL staff commend their fellow workers for an excellent job on the publication of a 3-time winner for the best newspaper in the state, the MONTEREY MIRROR.

Exchanging papers with other schools throughout the state gives staff members a chance to compare ideas. Exchange Editor Ann Cuddy and Photographer Pat Elms prepare newspapers for mailing.

The only thing Noah had that Pub Office doesn't have was an ark. Several times during the year, "observant" photographers overlook a running faucet in the darkroom and loyal staffers meet the "flood" with a mop and lots of elbow grease.

Sometimes work in Pub Office seems a little too much for anybody. MIRROR news editor Barbara Cartwright half-heartedly faces one of those times.

Chaparral

Recording memories of an unforgettable year and tracing the joys and sorrows of each Plainsman is a task met and conquered by a small group of students who work two class periods daily on the publication of the CHAPARRAL. Through this course, students not only gain experience in journalism but learn to work as a team.

These students combine lay-outs, copy, cutlines, pictures and many hours of work after dusk to present a reflection of a year at Monterey. Step by step, the CHAPARRAL covers each event, from the first day of school until the last, and records lucidly, in pictures and words, memories of a year spent as a Plainsman.

F.T.A. officers, Kay Hubbard, Barbara Cartwright, Teresa Wright, Barbara Brunson, Jean Williams and Sharon Banks, lead club members in hours of planning, studying and preparing for a successful venture into a teacher's world.

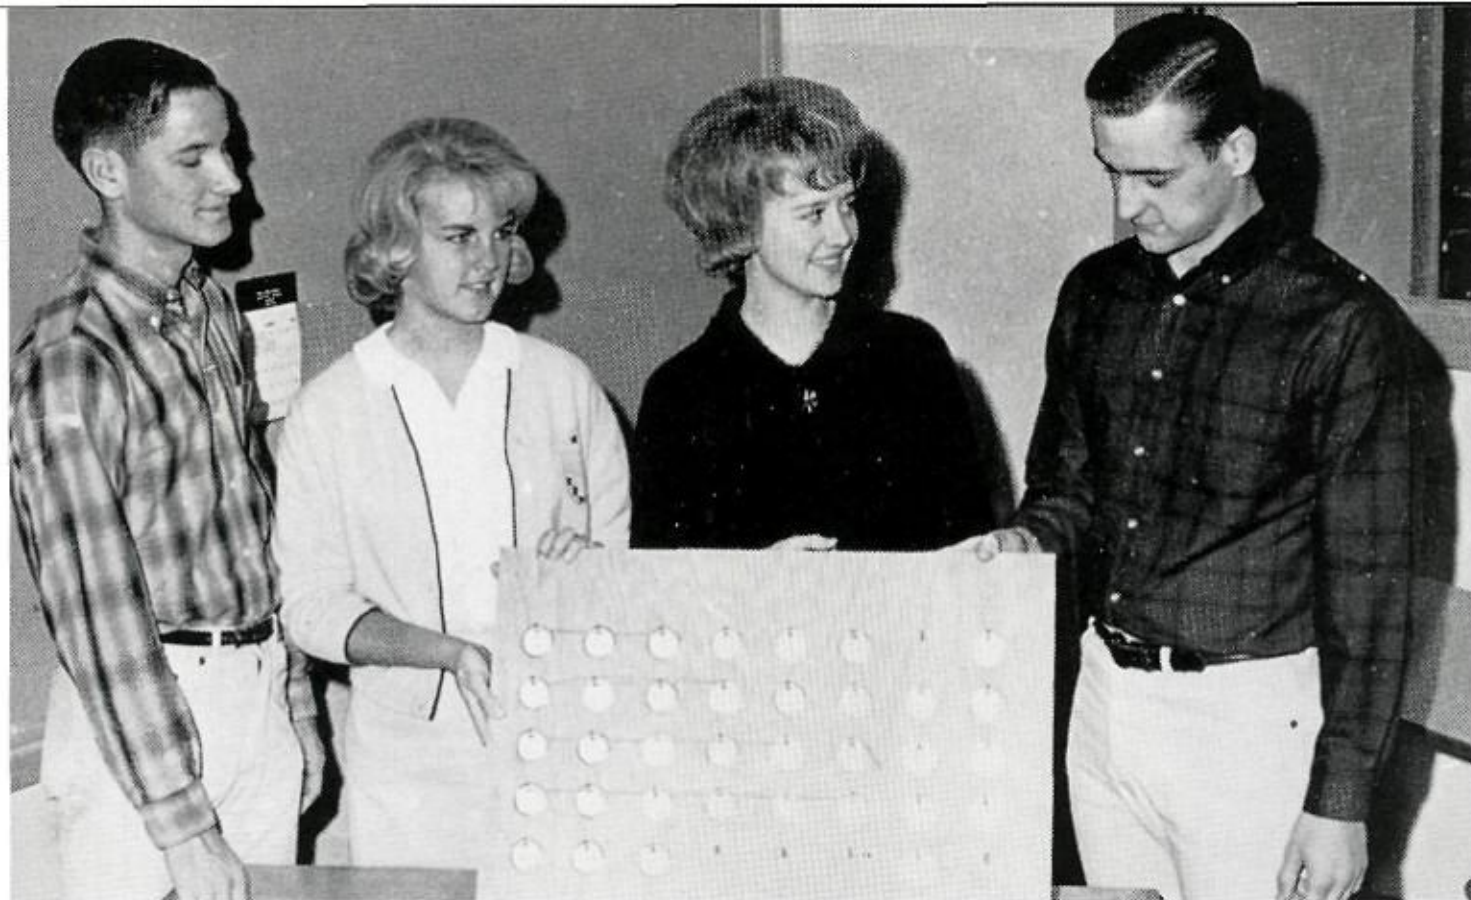

Organizations Inspire Today's

Just as a building must have a foundation before it can be built, so must a student before he or she can build a future. Future Teachers of America serves as this foundation for those students interested in the teaching profession. As the year progresses, members gain knowledge in this field. At the conclusion of their study, FTA students are given a chance to experience and test their abilities by teaching classes in local elementary schools.

President Theresa Wright; Vice-president Jean Williams; Secretary Kay Hubbard; and Treasurer Sharon Banks assist Mrs. Fay Clary, sponsor, in planning and directing the FTA activities during the year. Other officers Judy Graves, James Slagle and Dwight Hume also try their hands at teaching and aid in club programs such as the Dunbar Exchange Program, the FTA Bake Sale and the annual installation of officers.

"Now you know I wouldn't gyp you," assures secretary Kay Hubbard to fellow FTA member Karen Maze as she compiles orders for club pins.

Officers Duane Hoover, Sharon See, Carroll Jan Key and Alan Kay survey the roster of NHS members while debating committee chairmen for the annual slave sale and book drive.

Scholars, Tomorrow's Teachers

No school can exist without those who excel in academic achievement. These students become a vital part of the school make-up and find an opportunity for expression in the National Honor Society. In meeting the high standards of membership, one assumes the responsibility of developing the qualities of scholarship, leadership, character and service.

Miss Bessie Bullock, head sponsor, Miss Nell Marie Wiley, Mrs. Norma Turner and Mrs. Bobbie Clanton screen the qualifications of those applying for membership. Students, to be eligible, must be either a junior or senior with honor roll grades for a preceding semester at MHS and must meet the requirements of the club initiation.

The NHS agenda includes programs led by world travelers, musicians and panels as well as the spring banquet held in honor of graduates.

In the flickering of candle lights, pledges accept the responsibility of lighting the flame of knowledge for America's future.

Guiding members through the '63-'64 year are Y-Teen Officers Lynn Hamilton, Jane Barton, Beverley Smith, Judy Traylor, Robbie Dorman, Pam Kallas, Kathryn Smith, Connie Bridgeman, Sue Ann Sides, Susan Rampy, Donnie Ewen, Karen Orr, Vicky Scott and Sharon Abernethy.

Service Clubs Build Ideals,

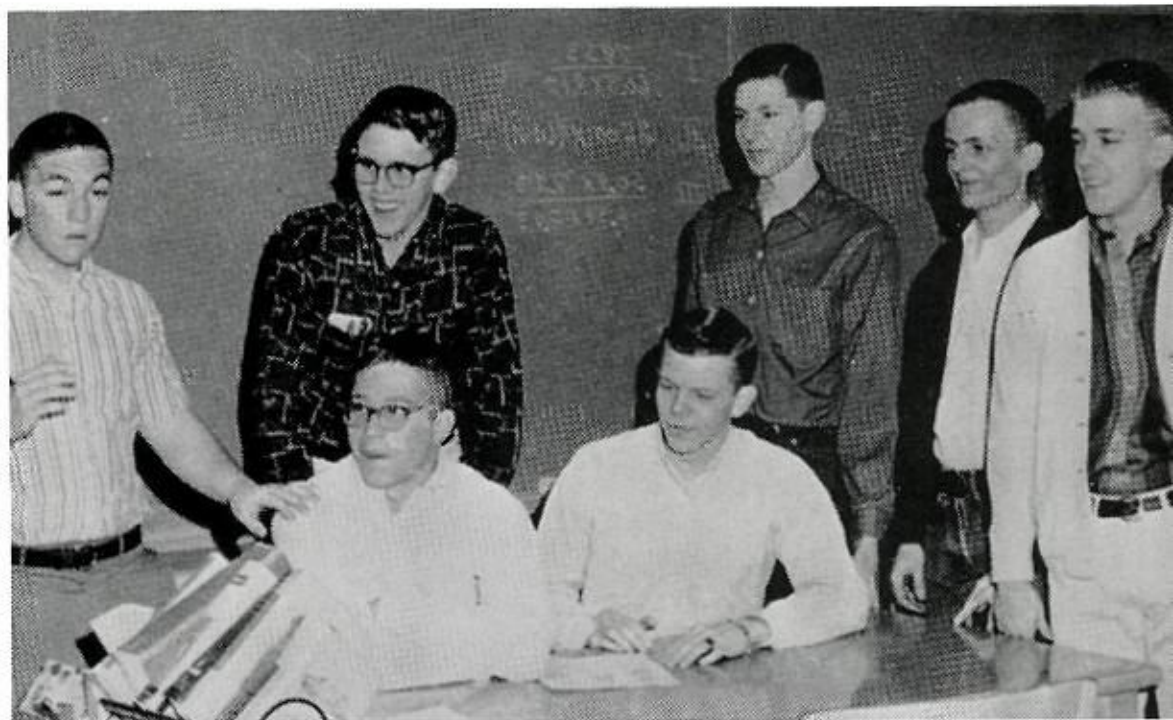

Monterey's Y-Teen Club was established in 1957 for the furthering of Christian ideals and fellowship. Through the club's many community services and projects, Y-Teens uphold these purposes. Each member who takes part and adds to the club's success finds self-satisfaction. Y-Teen membership is open to all Plainsman girls. Participation is limited only by the individual's interest in the club and her eagerness and willingness to work.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Jeanelle Culp, club-sponsored projects include giving Christmas gifts to needy girls at Guadalupe and selling football programs. Other Y-Teen activities during the year include installation, the "Big Sister-Little Sister Party" and a Sweetheart Banquet.

Y-Teen members, Gail Alderson, Lee Anne Womack and Peggy Parker, discover that there aren't any "beans" in these bags as they fill knapsacks for a Christmas project.

Combining ideas for Senior Hi-Y projects and programs are '63-'64 club officers Carl Noble, president; David Hollinghead, secretary; Johnny Barton, vice-president; and Duane Paige, chaplain.

Prepare Leaders

Learning about government today serves as the basis for leadership of tomorrow. It is this purpose which motivates the organization of Hi-Y and promotes the idea of molding today's student into tomorrow's citizen.

Through the guidance and counseling of Mr. Samuel Vaughter, Coach Gerald Myers and Mr. Darrell McClure, members of the group, composed of sophomore, junior and senior boys, are encouraged to take part in the regional Pre-Leg activities and the Youth In Government program held in Austin.

The boys also participate in a Spring Conference and National Convention. Other opportunities to learn more about the working of government are offered through films, guest speakers, reports of the delegates and various programs throughout the year.

Mr. Vaughter was honored in the National Hi-Y Ways, a magazine for clubs in Texas. He was honored for his outstanding work and service in various Hi-Y organizations.

Looking over plans for Pre-Leg are Sophomore Officers Steve Anderson, vice-president; Ken Brummett, president; Ronald Willingham, treasurer; Bob Schreiner, secretary; and David Walker, chaplain.

Français Defies Texas Tongues

In a contemporary society, one often finds that his mind has closed to life outside his own community. In studying a foreign language, it is possible to broaden this view and through the art of communications, develop tolerance and understanding.

In stressing the importance of dealing with those from other lands, Mrs. Eleanor Brown, sponsor of Les Parisians, aids the club in selecting programs. Featured in these selections are exchange students, fencers from Texas Tech and those acquainted with arts and customs of France..

Second and third year French students eligible for membership take active part in club activities such as the Halloween and Initiation Banquet and Dance, Rummage Sale and the annual Twelfth Night Banquet held in January.

Each year French club members dedicate many hours of work, plans and more work to make the annual rummage sale a complete success.

As a fleeting year met its halfway point, French Club officers Arthur Hafner, Gloria Isom, Ernestine Manning, Judy Samson and Pam Nausley joined some 2500 other Plainsmen in greeting the Christmas holidays.

Officers Robert Whitehill, Jim Giles, Keenie Wylie, Janelle Cox, Kay Frederiksen and Marlene Levenson outlined Spanish Club activities and planned club hours with speakers and programs connected with the Spanish language and customs.

Spanish Club Weakens Barrier

In a world of international concerns, mastering a foreign language is of utmost importance. Los Buenos Vecinos seeks to acquaint future leaders of our country with Latin American customs and language for overcoming the existing barriers between our country and theirs. Activities during the year, such as a rummage sale, a Christmas party and a reception for foreign students, kept the 150 members of the Spanish Club occupied.

Club officers Keenie Wylie, president; Jim Giles, vice-president; Janelle Cox and Kay Fredrikson, secretaries; and Marlene Levenson, treasurer, help to promote better relations with Spanish people here and abroad to be "Buenos Vecinos"—"Good Neighbors."

Club sponsors Mrs. Genelle Kelly, Mrs. Suzanne Abbott and Mrs. Okla Jean Rice keep members well informed by providing speakers from other countries to speak to the members.

Marvin McCarty, Senior at Texas Tech, recalls his tour of Europe to members of the Spanish Club.

SPQR Upholds Heritage;

Scraping away the remains of SPQR's Saturnalia, Mike Atkinson, Bonnie Seveland and Pam Day watch the last remains go slowly down the drain.

In modern times, there are those constantly striving to relate the past to the present. Therefore, the study of Latin and programs of SPQR, the Monterey Latin Club, serve as a link in preserving the heritage of our language. Club projects and special activities kept SPQR members busy throughout the year. A rummage sale, Saturnalia, Senior Banquet and initiation were on the agenda for the '63-'64 year.

Officers Carl Moore, president; Jerry Smith, vice-president; Gwen Connelley, secretary; and Cal Carfrae, treasurer; worked together to acquaint new members with the customs and language of the Romans.

Sponsors Mrs. Karla Garber, Mrs. Josephine Jardine and Mrs. Jo Ellen Murphy contributed to the club year and the participation of members in the various activities and projects of the club.

Clubs Cast Literary Influence

After checking books, refiling and taking care of fines, club officers Bruce Roberson, Joanne Mady, and Julie Ricketts once more have the library ready to serve 2,500 Plainsmen.

Each club provides some type of contribution to the school, community or the student himself. Literatores de Ignorantia, better known as the Library Club, serves some 2500 students as individuals, as well as an entire school. Under the sponsorship of Miss Pansye Harris, the club attempts to increase interest in library work. Club membership is available only to those students serving as library workers. Participation is limited only by the extent of interest of the member.

Monterey journalists escape to a world of pen and ink through membership in Quill and Scroll. The honor society offers an opportunity for discussion of present-day journalism with experts in phases of the vocation. Included in club-sponsored projects are selling of annual covers and a workshop at Denton.

Officers Mike Anderson, Rick Parrack and Jan Calle order club pins for Quill and Scroll members.

Quill and Scroll members take full advantage of selling annual covers as a money-making project.

FHA, FFA Train Students

Endeavoring to learn more about modern living, Future Homemakers of America promote the joys and satisfactions of homemaking. FHA girls also work to foster the development of creative leadership in home and community life.

Supervised by Mrs. Francis Nesmith, club projects and socials were planned by President Chris Huffhines and Vice-Presidents Liz Ashcraft, Diane Dorsey, Mary Sue Winegar, Donna Wall and Lynda Burrell. Assisting them were other officers Gloria Daniels, Carolyn Cox, Janet Carter, Janet Douglass, Wanda Suchui, Julie Ricketts, Karen Bradley and Susie Crutcher. A Big-Little Sister Dessert Party in October acquainted new members and readied them for future activities including caroling at hospitals during the Christmas season and selling football programs. The annual FHA banquet, themed "Roman Holiday," brightened the club year.

Gailan Wade, Paulette Vaughn, Lou Hodges and Sue Hodges piece together the traditional FHA emblem.

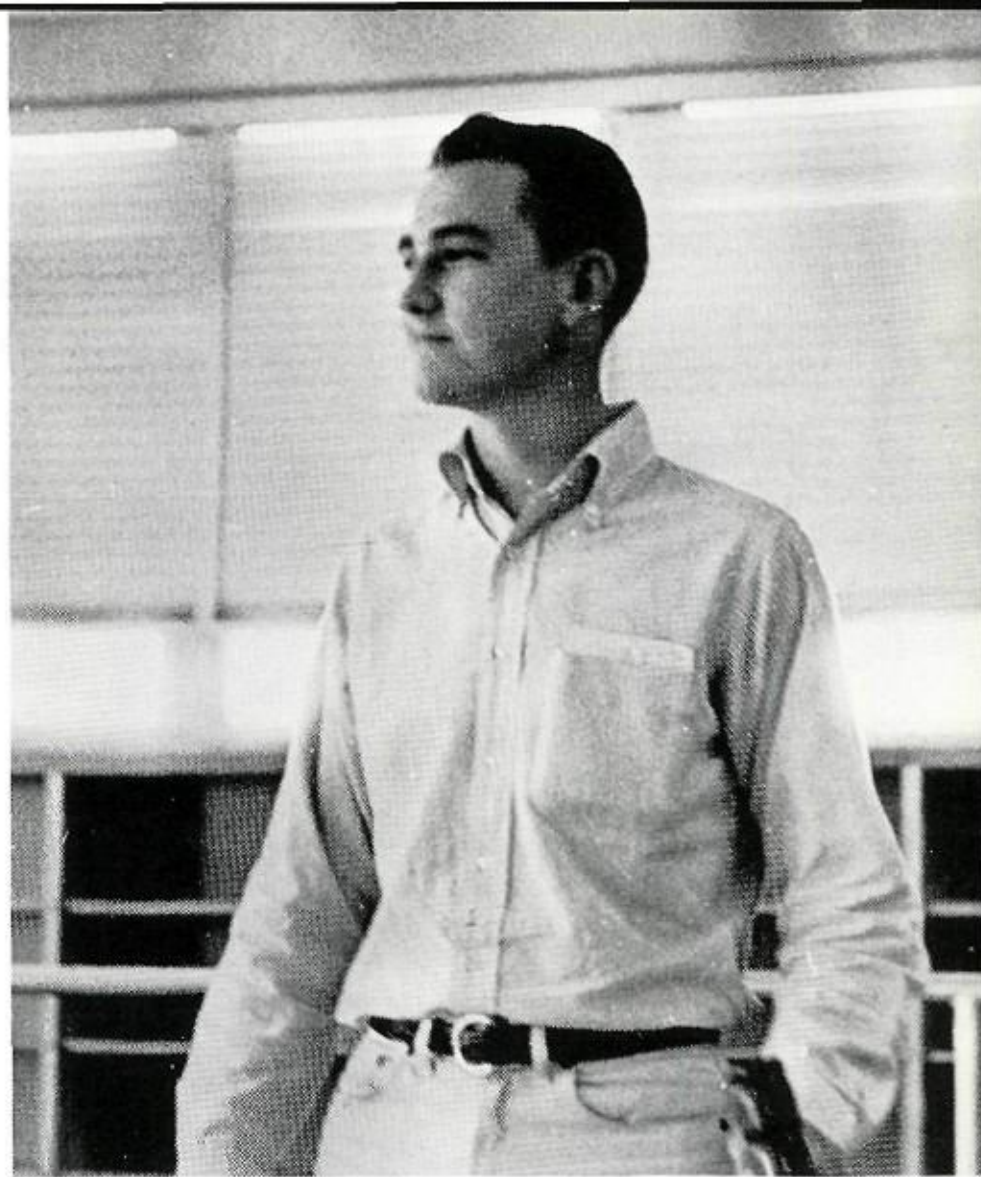

Roses, a rustle of taffeta, a candlelight ceremony . . . and the city-wide initiation of FHA officers is underway. Chris Huffhines and Karen Bradley add Monterey's part to the annual affair.

for Future

Members of Future Farmers of America devote themselves to acquiring agricultural knowledge. The MHS chapter, like many other FFA clubs throughout the nation, was founded because of the desire of boys for farm education. The club was represented by James Garner, president; Wallace Klatt, vice-president; Omer Morgan, treasurer; Dick Bolton, secretary; and Walt Wood, sentinel. Sponsors Mr. Waylon Carroll and Mr. Thomas Neely piloted and aided the club during the '63-'64 term.

Actual experience and a chance to apply their knowledge was provided for at the agriculture farm. Ag boys gave individual and extensive care to the animals by frequent visits to the farm during, as well as after, school hours.

The annual election of a FFA Sweetheart served as a diversion from the regular routine of livestock raising and crop judging.

Maintaining order in club and committee meetings is only one of Senior James Garner's duties as he serves as president of FFA.

Prize-winning at the State Fair for four Ag boys was just "a bunch of bull." Tommy Armstrong, Lawrence Smith, Bill Powell, and Bill Swart purchased their livestock last spring, cared for and fed the animals during the summer months, then showed them in the State Fair in October.

Classroom

D.E. initiates might be keeping their noses to the grindstone, but more than likely they are pushing a nickel across the floor. "Torture" such as this was common at the annual initiation party.

Monterey's Chapter of Distributive Education, organized in 1955, strives to promote local, state and national vocational training. Members are kept active with a combined program of school and employment, as well as an initiation program, a state-wide convention and an Employer-Employee Banquet.

Sponsored by Mrs. Jewell Foster and Mrs. Christine Roberson, club officers are D. L. Swofford, president; Jim Sheffield, vice-president; Sharon Alderson, second vice-president; Janice Fletcher, secretary; and Lou Ann Watts, treasurer.

The Yuletide season was made a little brighter for elderly people throughout the city as D.E. students selected gifts to fill their various needs. Delivering packages and making brief visits to the shut-ins during the holidays heightened the Christmas spirit for those who participated.

Training Molds Businessmen

To train youth for leadership tomorrow and to acquaint its members with the fundamentals of employment are the objectives of Monterey's Vocational Industrial Club. Sponsor Mr. Omer Bantz and President Larry Sears preside over meetings and encourage attendance at district and state meetings. Other officers are Jerry Lewis, vice-president; Sharri Mills, secretary; Melba Horton, treasurer; Linda Hedgcoth, reporter; and Randall Cates, sergeant at arms. VIC members must be able to take orders and advice readily.

A Get-Acquainted Picnic in early September opened club activities while an Appreciation Banquet for the employers and an End-of-Year Picnic, with next year's members as guests, added to the club year. A Recognition and Award Meeting climaxed the calendar of activities and brought the VIC Club program to a close.

A scrapbook and glimpse into the past year fill the memories of VIC officers Randall Cates, Linda Hedgcoth, Larry Sears, Melba Horton, Sharri Mills and Jerry Lewis. Presiding over meetings and taking minutes take up most of the officers' free time.

Randall Cates finds all he needs to stand tall in the electrician field is the aid of a ladder and expert training offered by ICT. All students participating in ICT hold membership in VIC.

Young Moderns Cultivate Taste

Monterey's Modern Dance Club was organized three years ago to give Plainsmen girls interested in dancing a chance to expand this interest as well as improve their abilities. Sponsored by Mrs. W. A. Pittman and Mrs. Becky Houston and led by Neva Cowan, president; Barbara Whiteley vice-president; and Suzy Sanders, secretary; the club offers a study of dancing and an opportunity to learn several basic dance steps.

Art-minded Plainsmen find a chance to display their natural talents while evaluating them as well in TAT, Monterey's Art Club. Sponsored by Mr. Delmos Hickmott and led by officers Jimmy Tate, president; Mike Murphy, vice-president; Karen Orr, secretary; and Judy Estes, program chairman; the club agenda, which included speakers and programs concerning art, outlined new ideas and possibilities in an artist's world for "Tomorrow's Artists Today."

Striking a familiar pose, Mary Lynn Robertson and Charlotte Houle demonstrate one of the many routines done by members of the Modern Dance Club.

Trying their hand at trying to make Mardi Gras an even more enjoyable event, TAT members gather paper, glue and balloons to add a highlight of color to the annual gala affair.

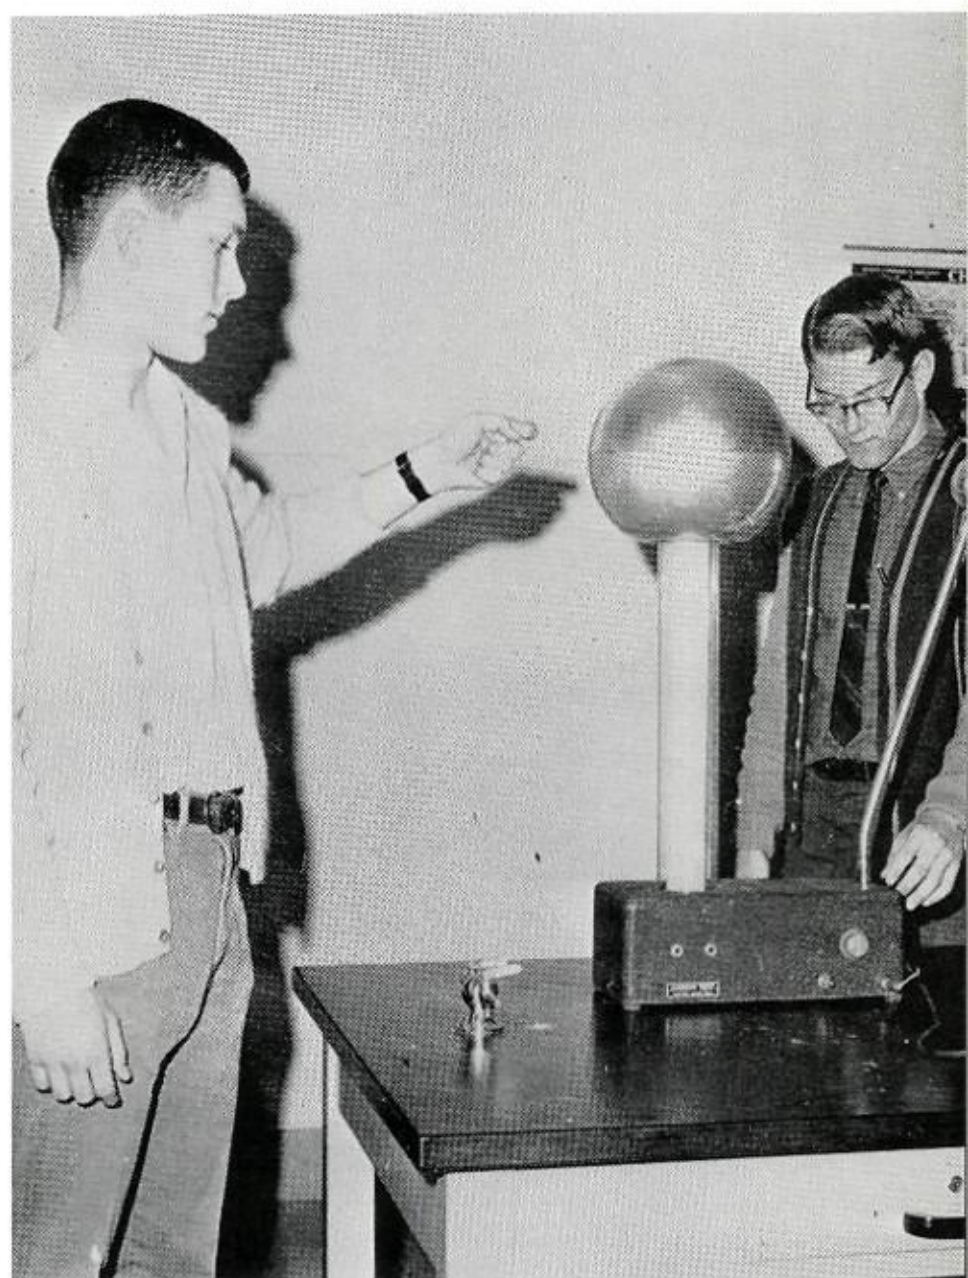

Sending out a frantic SOS, Jim Makins puts his membership in the Radio Club to use as he radios-out a "snowed-in" message to one of his fellow members. Jim, a senior, is one of 15 members in the club who experiment with radios of many kinds.

Hobby Clubs Stir Interest

Membership in the Radio Club is available to all those who are interested, although the essential qualification for voting membership is passing a state examination. Under the guidance of Mr. Don Cheyne, Officers Dale Lam, president; Jim Makins, vice-president; and Lyn Fisk, secretary, planned club hours with construction-theory-demonstration programs and films.

An interest in science is the only prerequisite for membership in the Science Club. Under the sponsorship of Mr. W. C. Watts, Officers Tom Morahan, president; Brett Pijan, vice-president and Charles Hendrix, secretary; select programs during the year to stimulate interests of the members and broaden their knowledge of science. Field trips and programs presented by guest speakers and students add variety to the regular club schedule.

Franklin didn't have a thing over Brett Pijan and Charles Hendrix when it comes to making electricity. Inspiring young physicists take advantage of the chance for experiment through the Science Club.

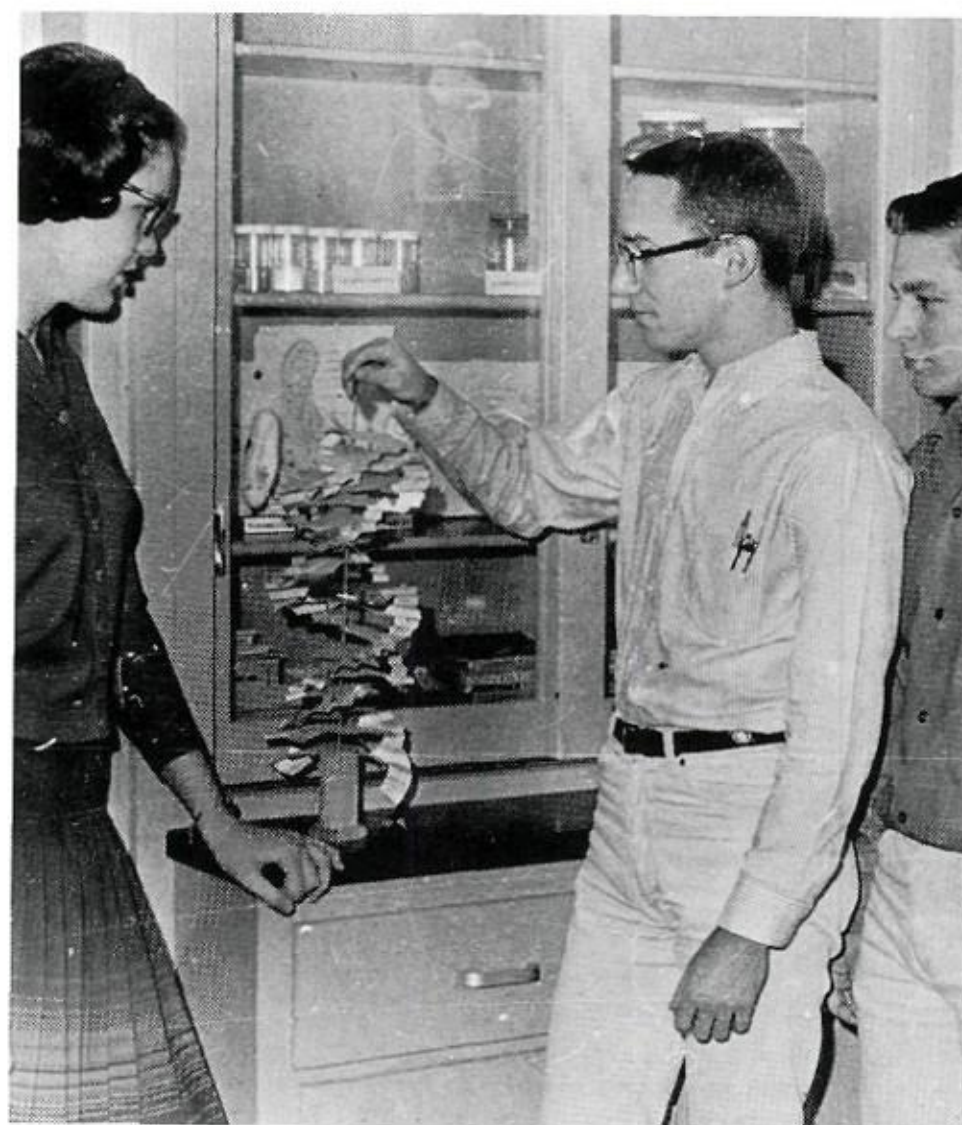

Cal Carfrae, Pre-Med president, shows off his scientific ability to Jimmy Loke, Chemistry president, and Susan Beeker, FNA president, as he correctly identifies the cranium "with his eyes shut."

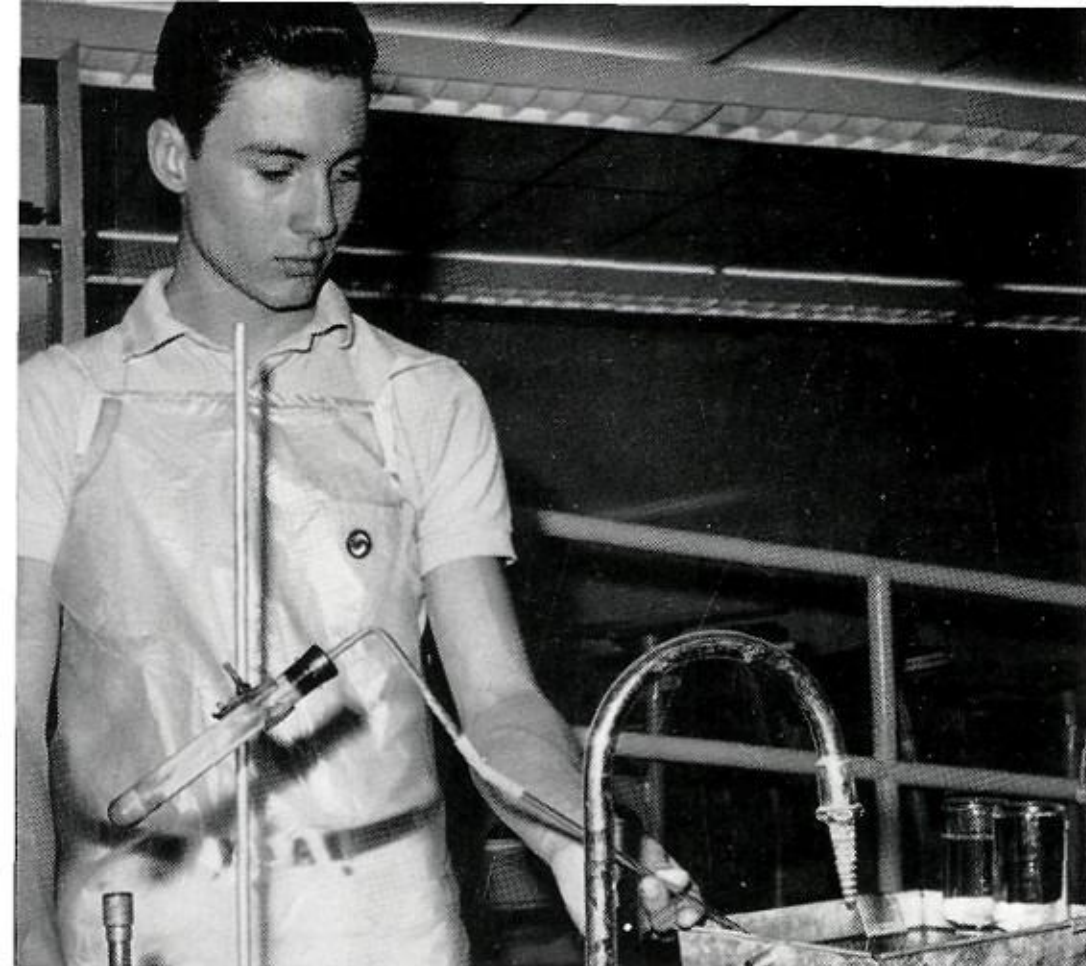

Future Medicos, Chemists Mimic

Even though everyone doesn't know about those funny looking trees in Pre-Med, Arthur Hafner explains the RNA process to Bonnie Seveland and Vernon Nesmith.

Each individual student seeks a place in his school's society. For those Plainsmen looking forward to a future in the medical field, Monterey's Pre-Med club offers a program emphasizing possibilities in this profession.

Sponsor Sherrill Pounds and Cal Carfrae, president; John Avinger, vice-president; Ernestine Manning, secretary; Penny Nichols, treasurer; Bonnie Maynard, scrapbook chairman; Kent Graham, parliamentarian; and Marty Ratcliff, program chairman, selected programs throughout the year dealing with a career in medicine. These programs included speakers connected with all phases of medicine.

With apprehensive thoughts for the success of his experiment, Jerry Dunn observes the chemical reactions of one of many lab problems given to chemistry students.

Casey, Kildare

Future scientists often find that the program offered in the classroom is lacking in opportunity for informal discussion and experimentation available to members of the Chemistry Club. Sponsor Mr. J. C. Richardson and club officers Jimmy Lokey, president; Ricky Platz, vice-president; and Arlene Barasch, secretary, selected films, panels and noted lecturers to fill the club's '63-'64 calendar.

The future beckons to a high school girl and holds for her a career in whichever profession she might prefer. The program offered by Future Nurses of America gives those interested in nursing a chance to test their abilities and the extent of their interest in the profession. With the help of Mrs. June Ducker, school nurse, and Mrs. Zoie Newsome, sponsors, officers Susan Beeker, Janet Penn, Jane Hartwick, Leticia Spireş, Suzette Whittle, Sylvia Lane, and Bonnie Townsend help members in candy striping and a junior volunteer program.

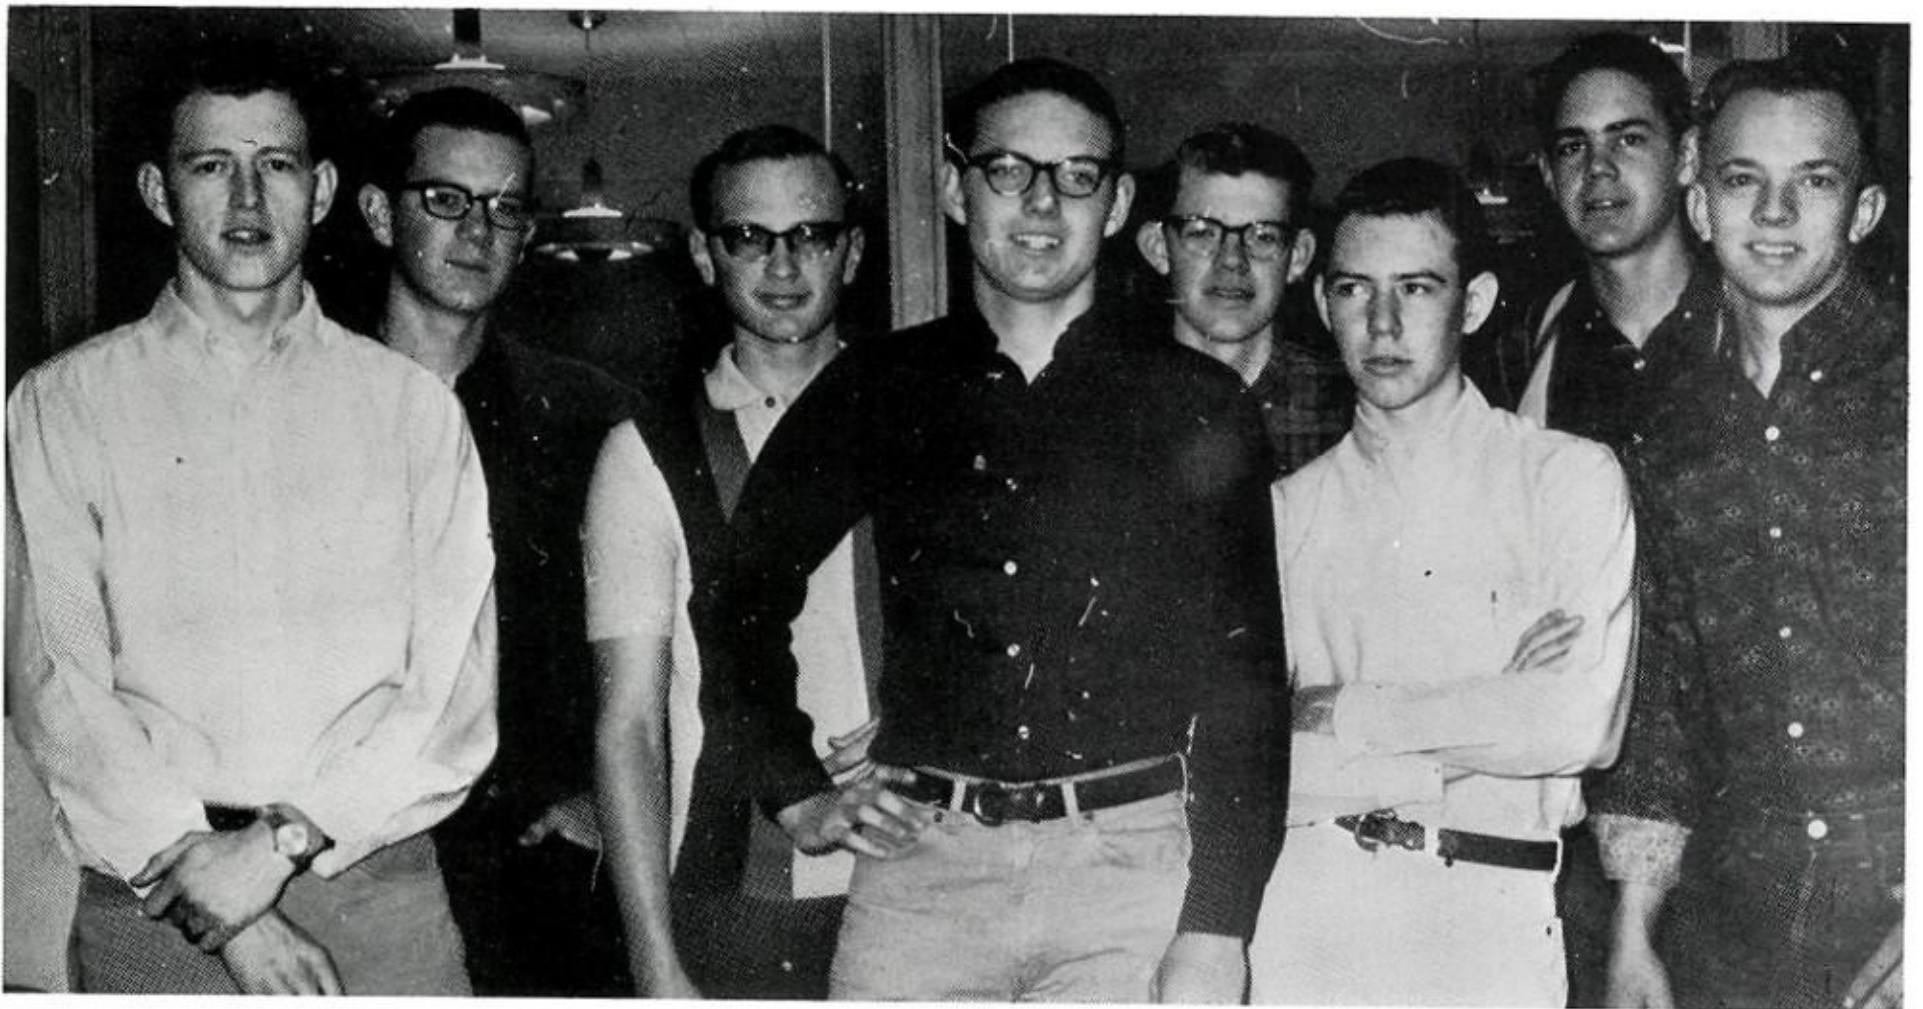

Being used as a guinea pig proves to be quite treacherous to Irene Harris as Susan Beeker gives her a blood transfusion at the annual FNA initiation.

AV, Speech

Perfection is the key word for those who wish to excel in the Audio-Visual department. Managing stage techniques for assemblies and taking care of sound for pep rallies demands a willingness to work from each member. Among the daily duties of an AV member are keeping track of projectors throughout the building and ordering films from the central office. The work of the Audio-Visual Department provides vital service to the staff and students of Monterey.

Helping MHS through another successful assembly, Audio-Visual boys Jim White and Ches Marston adjust light bars to give the proper effect needed on the stage.

Light and sound are only two problems of the AV department. Members Don Simpson, Paul Duncan, Bobby Stone, Danny Sheffield, Jim Makins, Tommy Turner, George McCauley and Randy Selman maintain all AV equipment and handle film orders.

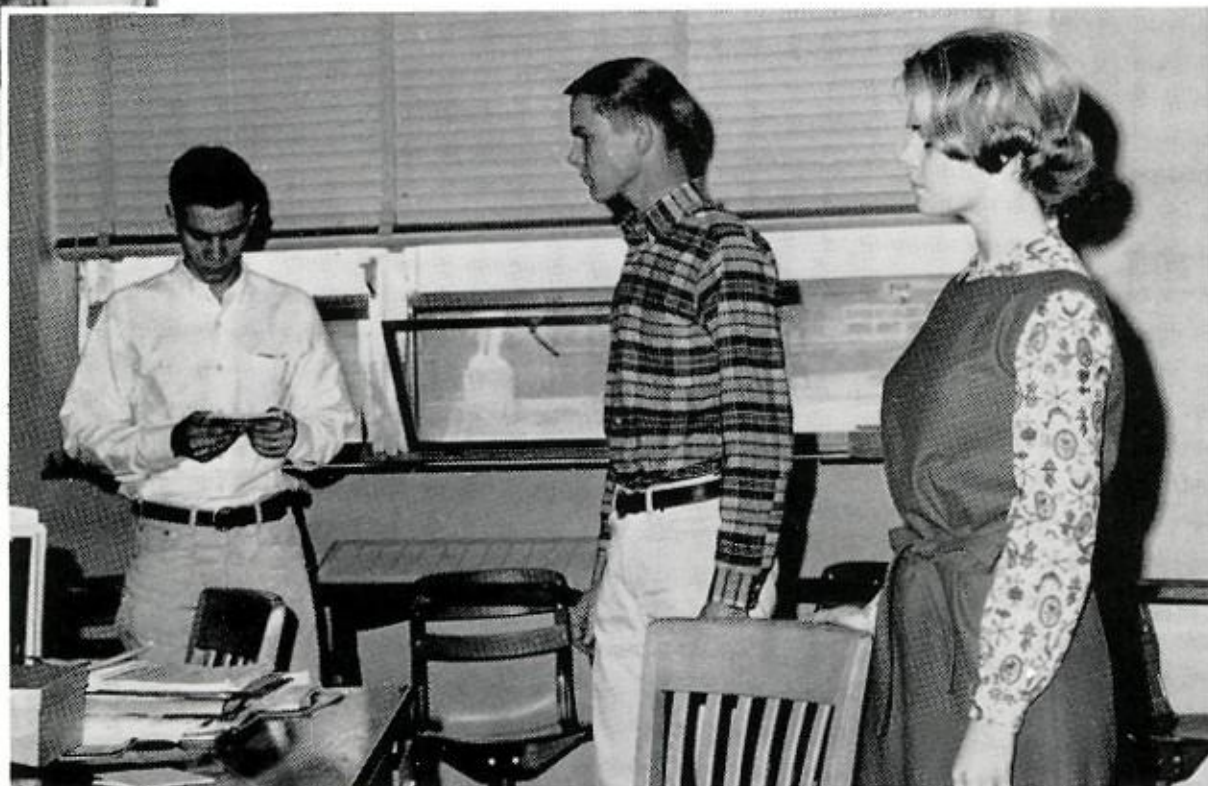

Departments Improve Skills

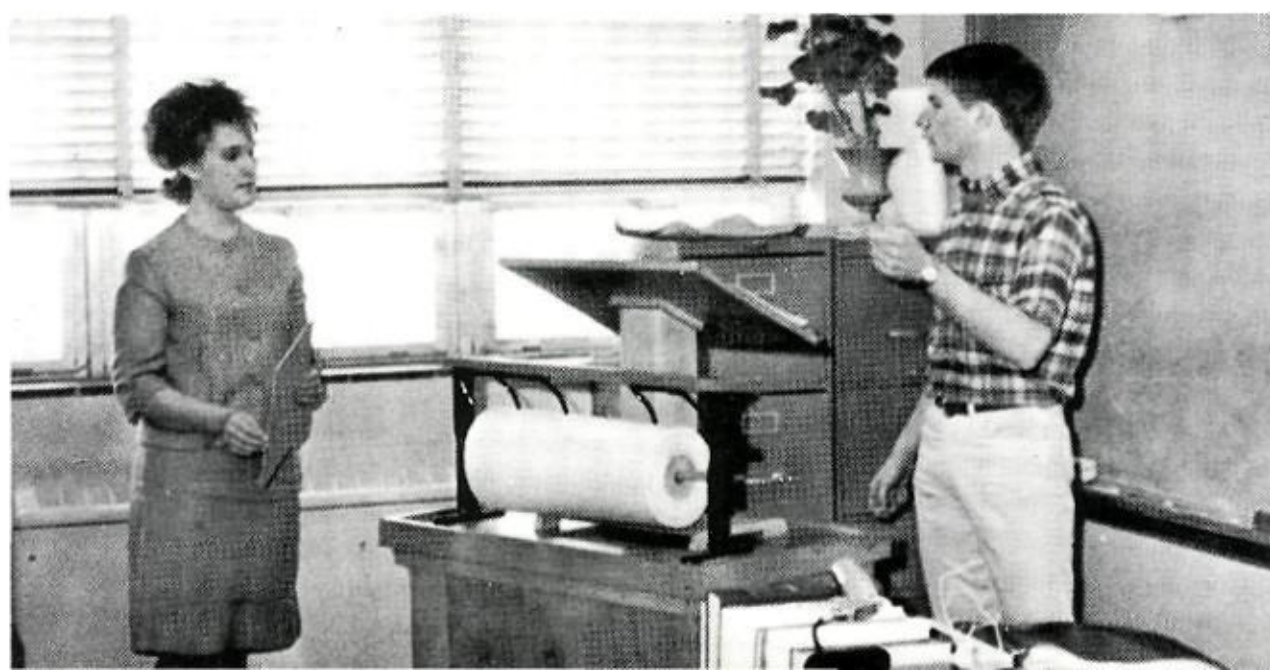

Costuming is a very difficult and intricate job for Mr. D. M. Howell. Checking for possible rips and tears, Mr. Howell works on last minute preparations for the Senior Play.

Increasing standards of excellence is a common goal in every field. For those interested in the advancement and betterment of dramatic arts, Monterey's National Thespians, sponsored by Mr. D. M. Howell and led by officers Marion Delavan, Chris Coker, Pat Thompson, Martha Sanders and Cheri Brownlee, offers a program in which each member is given the chance to express his own talents.

National Forensic League sponsored by Mr. D. M. Howell and Mrs. Christine Roberson gives MHS students their own "say-so" as they get a chance at public speaking and debate. Led by President Bruce Roberson, Vice-President Bob Mitchell and Secretary Pat Stalnaker, those seeking membership are judged on a system of points.

Listening for that ever important line, Gary Bernard and Carla Bell wait patiently for Robert Lacy to give them their cue.

Challenged to answer a debate question put before her by Chris Todd, Helen Goulden considers a possible reply to be made about capitol punishment. Students in debate view foreign problems through many hours of research and development topics.

sports

An innate desire to compete goads the athlete to prove himself—not only to himself, but to others as well. He feels the need to belong, and once he does, he must become an integral part of his team. He knows too, that his best effort is worthless unless the whole school is behind the team in one great effort to win, for those people are the reason he tries . . . the reason he gives his best. Stars are few, but he feels a warmth in knowing that in some small way his tiny effort made the victory possible.

Cheerleaders

Spirit—A gift to the student body from the seven most spirited Plainsmen, the Monterey cheerleaders. These seven girls—Susan Jones and Sherry Wiman, sophomores; Sally Eastwood and Victoria Cochran, juniors; and Merle Wiser and Betty Jane Brown, seniors, headed by Marcie White, spark Plainsman spirit at pep rallies, games, through goal post wrappings, announcements, bus trips, banners and locker tags.

Enliven Student Body

Spirit and enthusiasm, displayed by the cheerleaders, have become synonymous with MHS this year. Chanting victory cries at pep rallies and at games, these seven spirit boosters have increased participation in all school activities. With limitless energy they set up the student body as one of the most highly spirited anywhere. They have encouraged good sportsmanship while cheering for victories and have rejoiced when Monterey achieved both.

Hoping to perfect the execution of new plays, Head Coach DuBose sits watching the action on the field with other team members.

Even with the able leadership of coaches Don Smith, Jim Shillingburg, Jim Dillon, and Head Coach Bill DuBose, the Plainsmen were unable to end the season with a record better than three wins and seven losses. Working hard and long the entire season, the coaches helped keep the spirit high and determination to win strong. The hardest and final blow for the coaches came in the last game of the season when LHS defeated the Monterey eleven.

Rebels, Sandies

The final quarter proved a fatal one for the Plainsmen as they fell to the Tascosa Rebels 19-0 and to the Amarillo Sandies 20-13 in the two district openers.

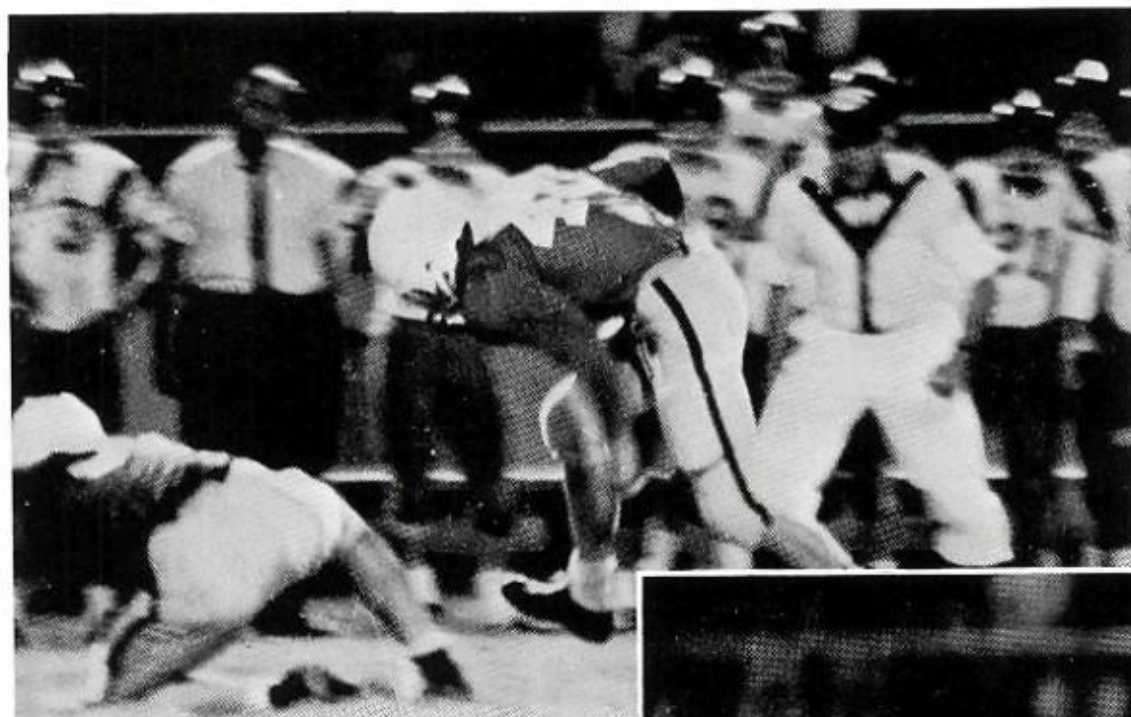

Even playing on their own field did not help the Monterey gridders in their battle with the Amarillo eleven. The final 30 seconds were the worst for the Plainsmen, when the Sandies scored the tie-breaking touchdown of the game. John McIntyre, probably playing his best game of the season, charged for 90 yards rushing and 53 yards passing. Canup also played an outstanding game on offense, going over for the second MHS tally. Both Monterey touchdowns were scored in the second quarter. Outstanding 'Men on defense were Lynn Stroud, Richard Saari, and Tommy O'Kelly.

Playing on unfamiliar ground hurt the Plainsmen in their bout with the Rebels, district-winning contenders. The second half proved the most exciting. Exceptional defense was seen in Junior McCarty, Rusty Spradling, and Danny Dutton.

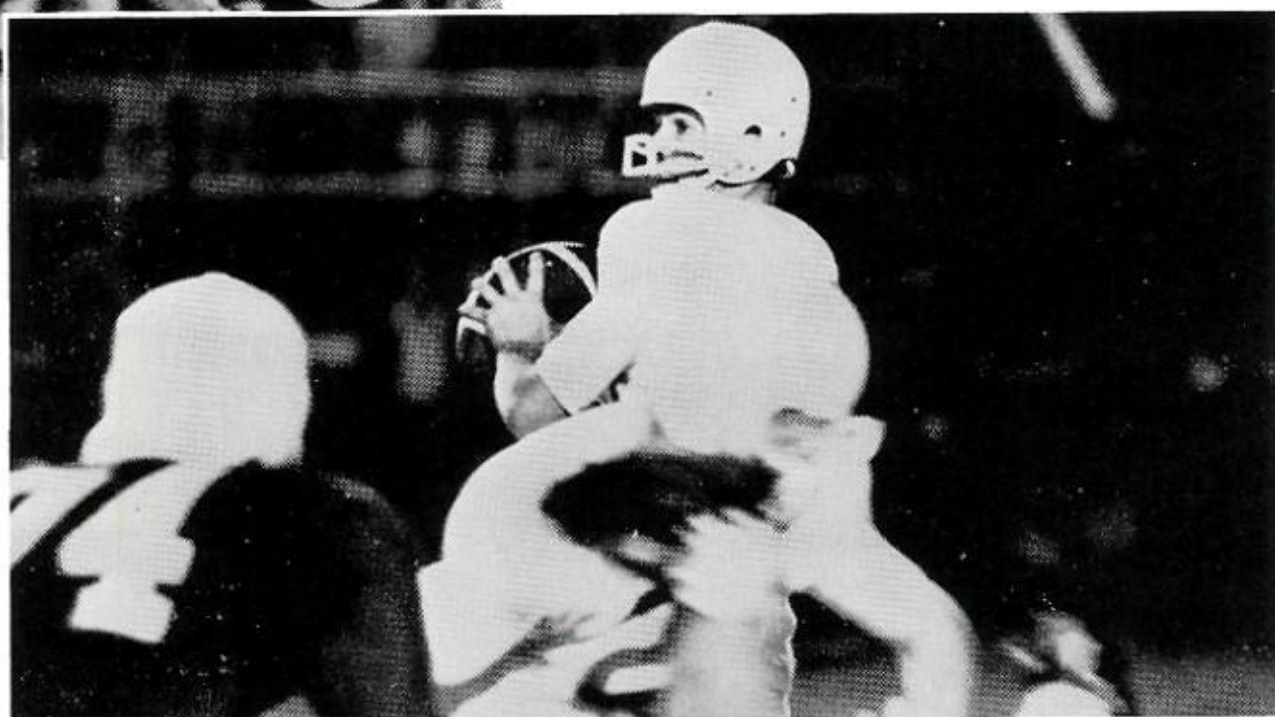

Engrossed in the actions on the field, these pensive Plainsmen observe the deadlock on the scoreboard at the Sandie-Plainsmen game.

Challenge MHS Eleven

Determined halfback Tommy O'Kelly attempts to start a rally by gaining yardage in the game against the district-winning contenders. The Plainsmen made 55 yards by rushing against the Tascosa Rebels.

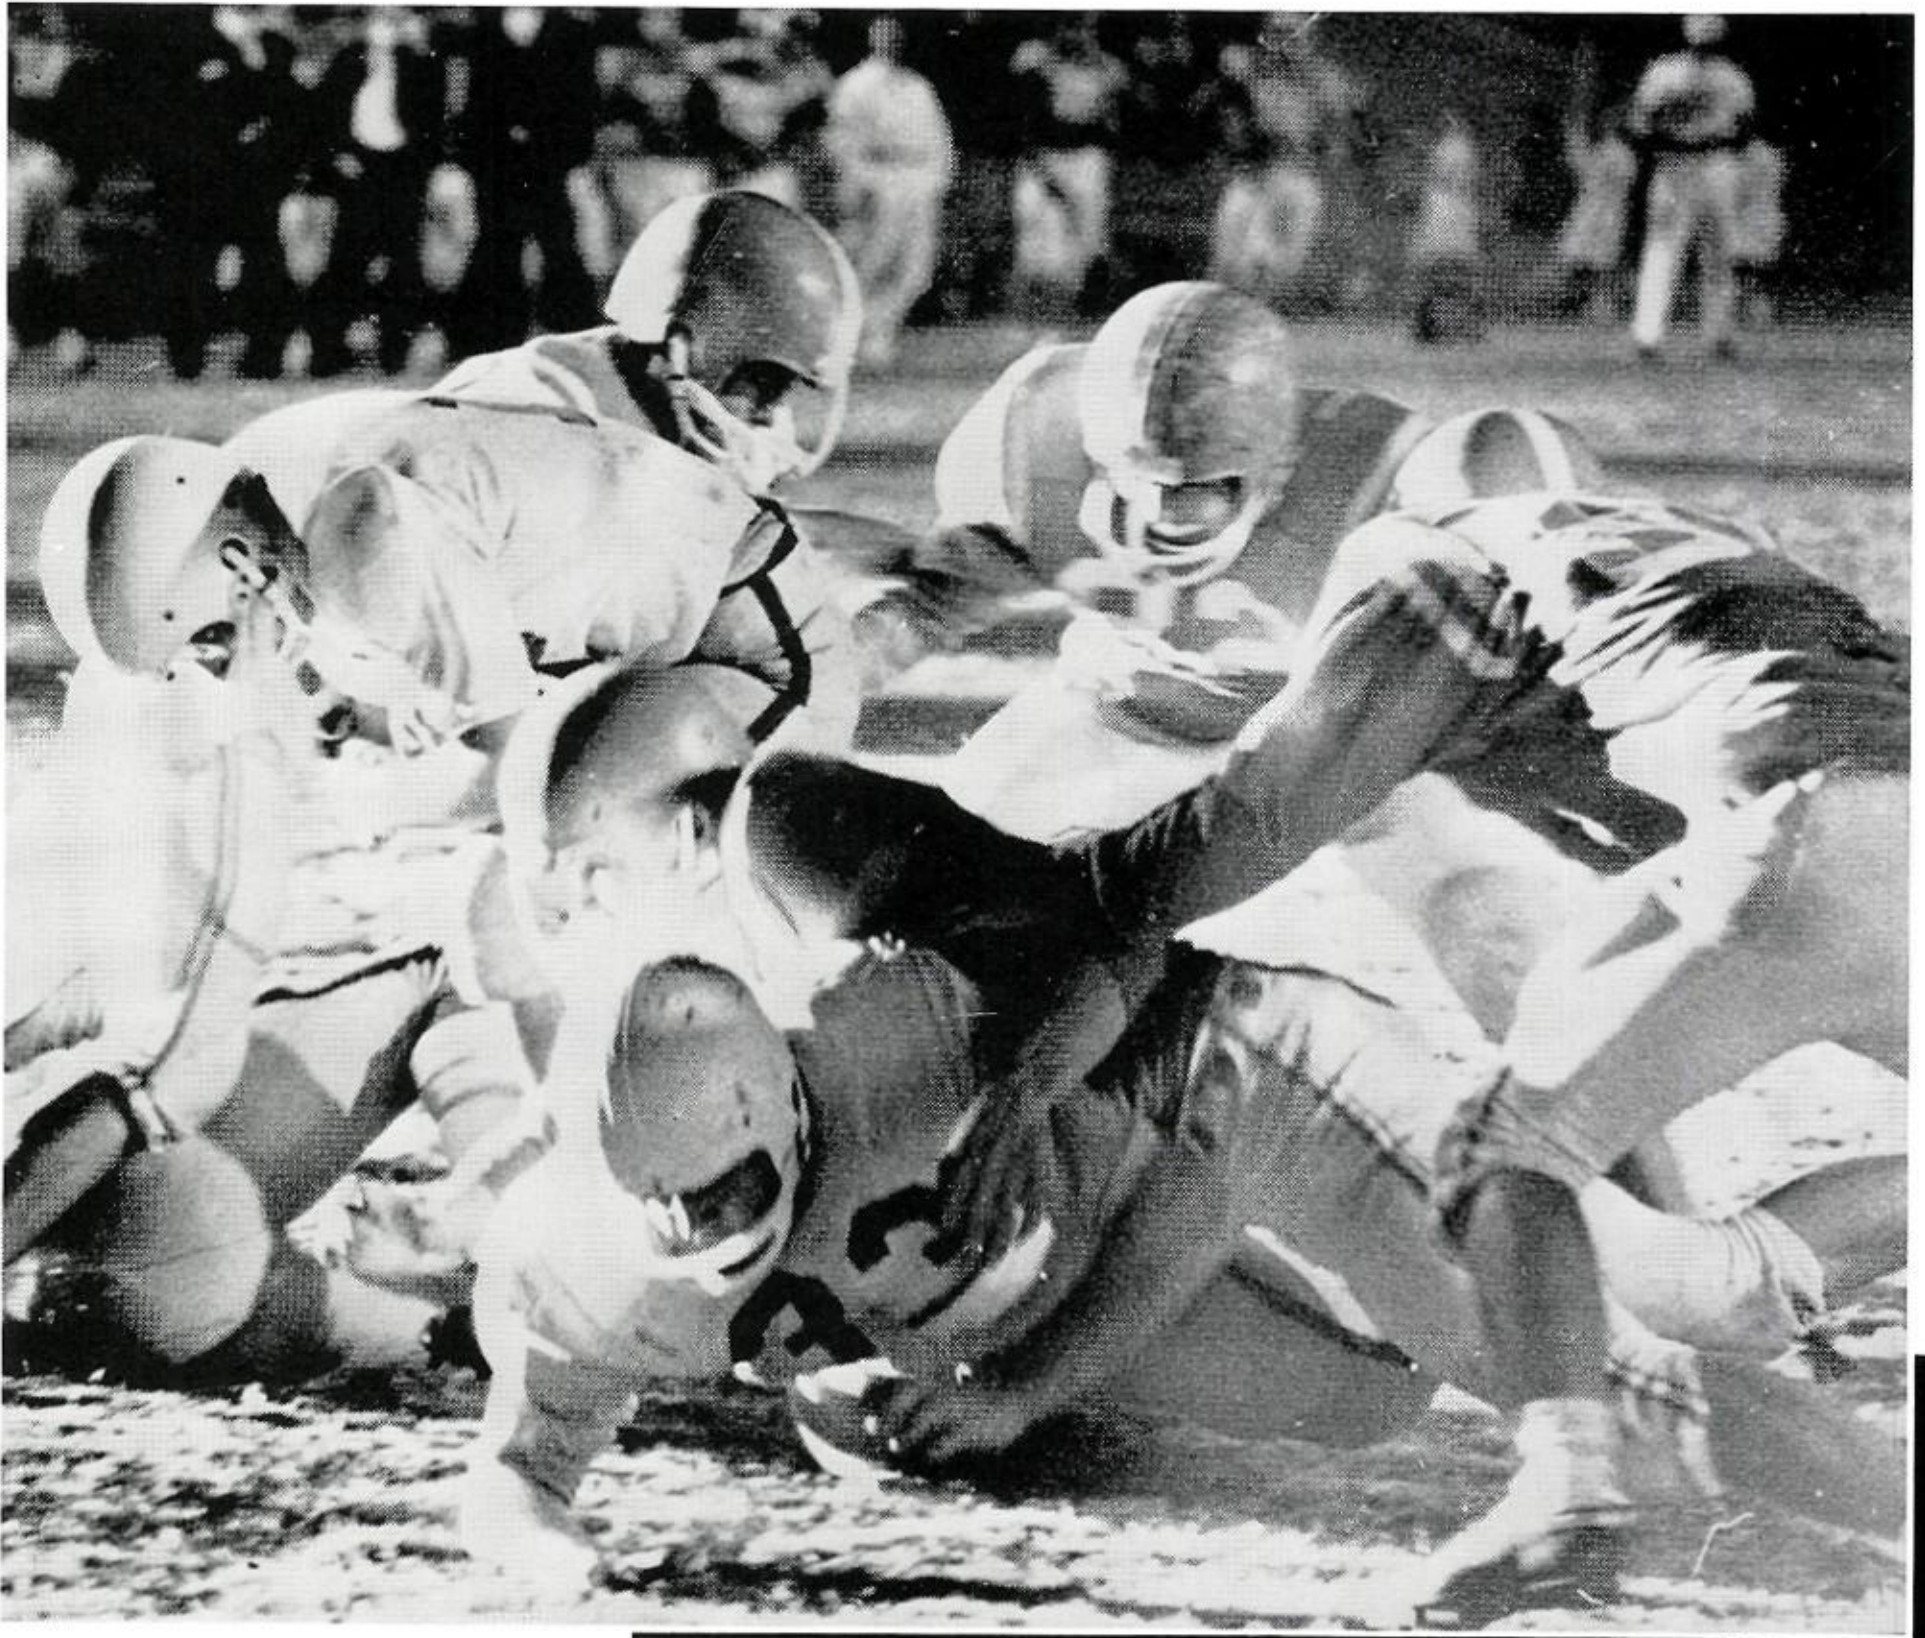

Canup awaits his chance to hurl the pigskin for another first down for Monterey in the game against the Sandies. Canup tossed for a total of 83 yards. Rushing was the chief offensive weapon in the game for the Plainsmen. John McIntyre, on a sweep around right end, made a first down for the 'Men.

more yards to aid the 'Men in their 27-7 victory over the Cap-rock Longhorns.

The Plainsmen line holds out the Pampa defense, as Tommy O'Kelly tacks on another point for Monterey in their victory over the Harvesters 28-6 on the Pampa field October 15.

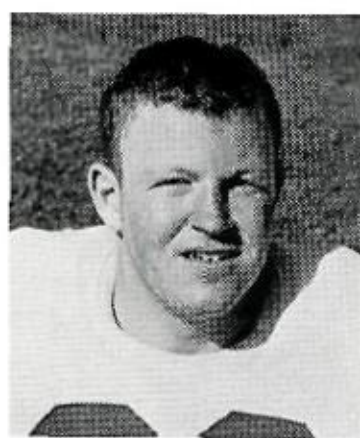

Caprock in First Wins

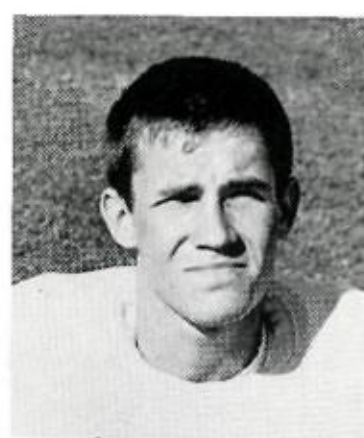

Avenging previous losses, the Plainsmen routed the Pampa Harvesters, 28-6 and the Caprock Longhorns, 27-7.

John McIntyre sprinted 68 yards to a touchdown in the first two minutes of play to spark the Plainsmen to their first victory of the season. Rusty Spradling, the game's second leading rusher, capped a fifty yard drive by plunging into the end zone from the four yard line. Junior McCarty pounced on a fumble to thwart a Pampa drive and set up the final Monterey touchdown.

It was beginning to look like a scoreless half in the Caprock game until the final three minutes, when Quarterback Ricky Canup uncorked a 21-yard pass to Bob Schmid for a touchdown. Rusty Spradling suppressed the Longhorns by picking up 107 yards of the 220 yard rushing gained by the 'Men. John McIntyre grabbed a Caprock kick-off in the third quarter for a sixty-yard touchdown to give the Plainsmen eleven their second win of the season.

Loss of Junior Quarterback Ricky Canup and numerous bad breaks aided the Borger Bulldogs and the Palo Duro Dons in chalking up victories over the Monterey eleven.

The deepest penetration of the Borger game proved to be John McIntyre's carry to the Bulldog nine-yard line. Although this drive was the most powerful MHS threat of the game, the 21-0 clamp held by the Bulldogs was not to be broken by the Plainsmen.

The ambitious Plainsmen were given a break with 2:56 remaining in the first half, when tackle Johnny Dalrymple fell on a Palo Duro fumble at the Don 27-yard line. Randy Bowlin completed a pass to Bob Schmid for 12 yards to start a Monterey drive. A pass attempt to Tim Horn was snagged by the Dons, which put a crack in the final Plainsmen drive to end the game with the Plainsmen on the bottom of a 35-7 tally.

Bulldogs With 21-0 Victory

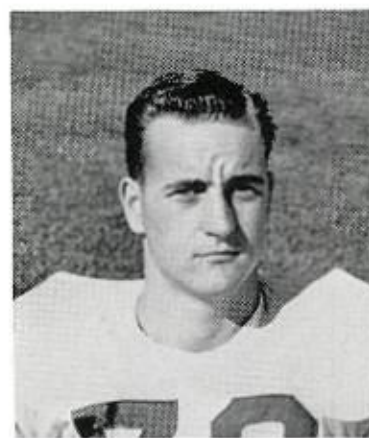

A typical John McIntyre punt return, complemented by beautiful downfield blocking from Danny Dutton and Robert Junell, vaulted Monterey to a 15-0 lead at half-time which was increased in the second half to give a 21-0 victory over the Plainview Bulldogs.

Fullback Rusty Spradling was the leading rusher for the Plainsmen, carrying 14 times for 80 yards. Spradling also ran in the first home team score on a 37 yard jaunt.

Monterey again took possession of the ball and scored in seven plays. With 2:45 remaining, Spradling also scored the first Plainsman touchdown on a 37 yard jaunt.

Men Lose

Played in a somber atmosphere the day after the untimely death of the nation's President, the enthusiasm of the game between the crosstown rivals failed to reach its peak.

The Lubbock Westerners, breaking a seven year tradition, took possession of the Silver Spurs after beating the Plainsmen 18-14 in Lowrey Field on November 23. The Plainsmen, playing above their heads, gave the Westerners a tough battle for the coveted spurs. Although the MHS eleven were outweighed, they did not lose their spirit or determination. John McIntyre, on a 26-yard pass from Randy Bowlin, scored the first TD for Monterey early in the second quarter. In the fourth quarter, Richard Saari plunged four yards for the second tally for the 'Men. Rudy Foster kicked for both extra points. Coach Ted Simon

Coach Bobby Moegle

Racking up a total of 296 points to their opponents' 52, the Lancers secured the unofficial B-Team district football title for Monterey. This is the first team since 1958 to go undefeated for a whole season. Led by Coaches Ted Simon and Bobby Moegle, these 22 Lancers have brought home five victories from out-of-town games and three from in-town games. Among the outstanding Varsity-members-to-be are Bill Hunter, Mark Livesay, Rodney McLeod, Robert Walker, Marc Kemper and Craig Hughes. The captains elected at the end of the season are Byron Price and Jack Buffington.

Hemmed in by members of the Pampa B-Team, Rodney McLeod attempts to cut through the line.

Byron Price, Lancer end, brings down the Cowhand ball carrier for no yard gainage. The Lancers won the game 20-12.

Coaches Direct Plainsmen

Coach Myers ponders the situation calmly, and then offers the 'Men a little advice.

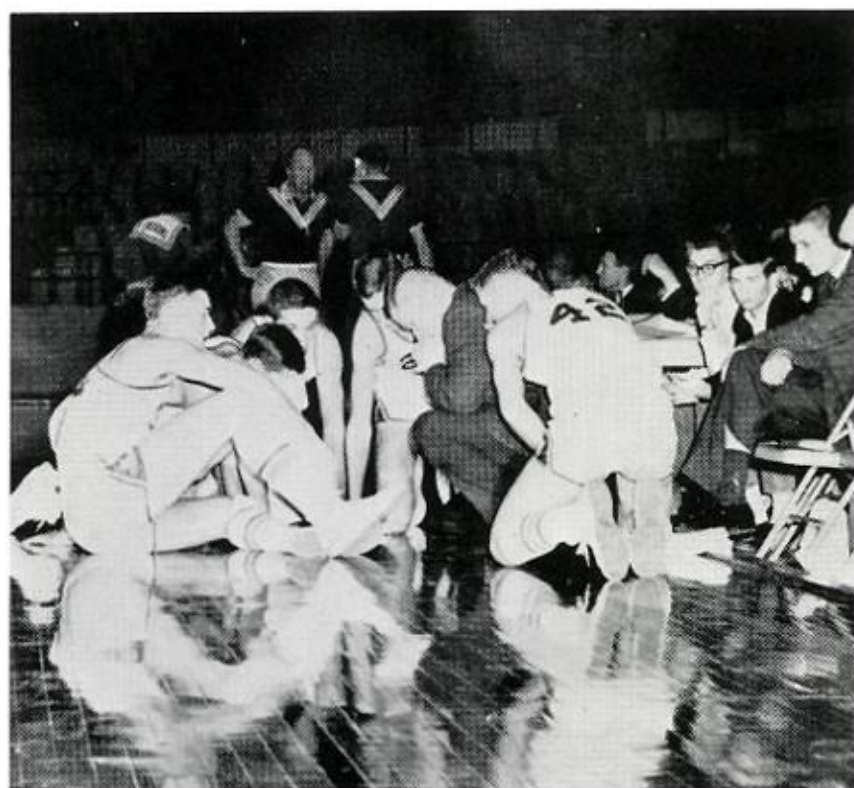

Below: Coaches Myers and Michalka discuss game plans to determine the best course of action for the contest.

In high school basketball one would have to go a long way before one could find a better coach than Gerald Myers, head basketball mentor at Monterey. In his four year tenure at Monterey, Myers has compiled a commendable 78-35 won-loss record. In his second year as head coach he led his squad to third place in the state finals.

Joe Michalka has not only served as "B" team coach but also served as varsity assistant coach and head scout. Despite his heavy schedule, Coach Michalka has consistently brought his clubs to winning seasons.

Coach Gerald Myers puts his pre-game plan into action as the Plainsmen huddle around him during a time-out.

Monterey Logs 15-8 Record

"The ball is in the air, and the game is underway," says the announcer. With the tip-off as the starting point, the 'Men begin again the battle of the hardwoods.

1963-64's version of the Monterey Plainsmen lived up to advanced billing and finished just where they were supposed to, in third place.

In pre-district play the Plainsmen could manage only a meager 4-3 mean. This record included a tournament win at Seminole and a very poor Caprock tourney showing. Despite only mediocre performances in early competition, the Plainsmen immediately jumped out in front and led the pack right up to the last game. In that last game the 'Men were defeated by league co-titlist Lubbock and all hopes for a piece of the district crown disappeared. Three of Monterey's five district losses were by a margin of six total points.

The Plainsmen were the best defensive team in district 3-AAAA and were probably one of the toughest defensive crews in the state. The Myersmen lacked only a consistent scoring punch and a break here and there to take all the marbles.

Plainsmen Rip Borger Five

Monterey's highly-touted Plainsmen opened their bid for district 3-AAAA basketball crown very successfully with a 50-42 triumph over the Borger Bulldogs. Monterey played an outstanding game for so early in the season. Led by Bob Schmid in the scoring and on the boards and Jerry Haggard and Will Howorth on defense, the Plainsmen were in the lead most of the way. Schmid and Haggard had 20 and 12 points respectively, while Schmid had 16 rebounds, Monterey's forte, defense, was really the difference as the 'Men limited the Bulldogs to an inept 29% from the floor.

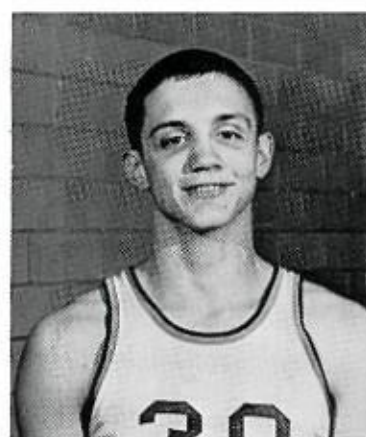

Eight games later, the Myersmen went to Borger. At the time they were trailing their crosstown rivals, the Lubbock Westerners, by one game. Monterey was seeking to bounce back after a triple overtime loss to the Westerners.

The Plainsmen came through like champs, once again exhibiting an air-tight defense and a somewhat erratic offense as they took Borger 42-39. The scoring was well-balanced with Gary Hughes, Ernie Gilkerson, Schmid and Haggard all getting 10 each. The win, coupled with Lubbock High's loss to the Tascosa Rebels, left the Plainsmen and Westerners tied for the league lead at 7-2 with only 7 district games left to play.

Monterey Drops Pesky Dons

The Palo Duro Dons brought the season's first snow with them to Lubbock and the weather was cold, but the Plainsmen were anything but cold as they literally blasted the Dons off the coliseum hardwoods 60-30. The speedy team from Amarillo brought an impressive 8-1 ledger into the contest. The Plainsmen were anything but awed as they tore the Palo Duro zone defense apart. Gary Hughes poured through 16 points, and Will Howorth kept pressure off the big men with some timely outside shooting.

Monterey's superior height literally kept the Dons out of sight on the backboards; Coach Myers cleared the bench as Monterey came up with its finest all around effort of the year.

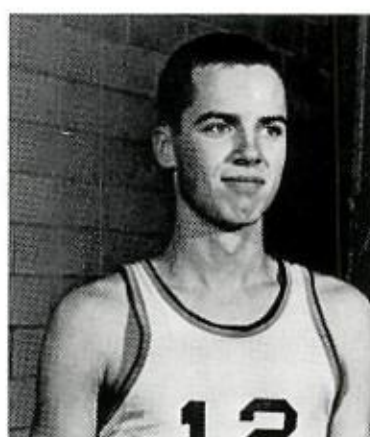

Later in the season Coach Gerald Myers took his crew to Amarillo for the second district tilt with Palo Duro. This time out the Dons were playing for revenge. With the home court advantage the Dons played well, and after three quarters the score was knotted 34-34.

With 1:06 left Gary Hughes dropped in two from underneath and Monty Landers hit a pair of free throws to assure the victory.

The victory kept Monterey in sole possession of first place as Pampa clipped the Lubbock Westerners 67-58.

Plainsmen Trip 'Horns Twice.

Monterey took to the road in their third district outing and found it much to their liking as they routed the brand new crew from Caprock by a large margin. The reserves played much of the game as Monterey captured its third straight league win.

When Caprock journeyed to Lubbock, they were a much-improved team, but one couldn't tell it by the score as the 'Men belted the Longhorns 94-61. Bill Abernethy garnered 16 points, 14 of those coming in the final stanza. Gary Hughes had 14 markers while Bob Schmid and Charles Whitt fired through 12 tallies for the victorious Plainsmen.

At this point the Plainsmen pulled to a one and one-half game lead over Lubbock High.

Top-Rated Bulldogs Gain Split

For the first time in district play Monterey was pegged as underdog as they went to Plainview to battle Coach Bob Clindaniel's highly regarded Bulldogs. Playing at home before 2,000 partisan fans, Ron Peret and Company were expected to put an end to Monterey's three game win streak.

For the first half of the contest it looked as if all predictions were true as the Plainsmen, seemingly awed by Plainview, dropped behind 28-22. The Plainsmen were very tight and Plainview seemed to take advantage of every miscue.

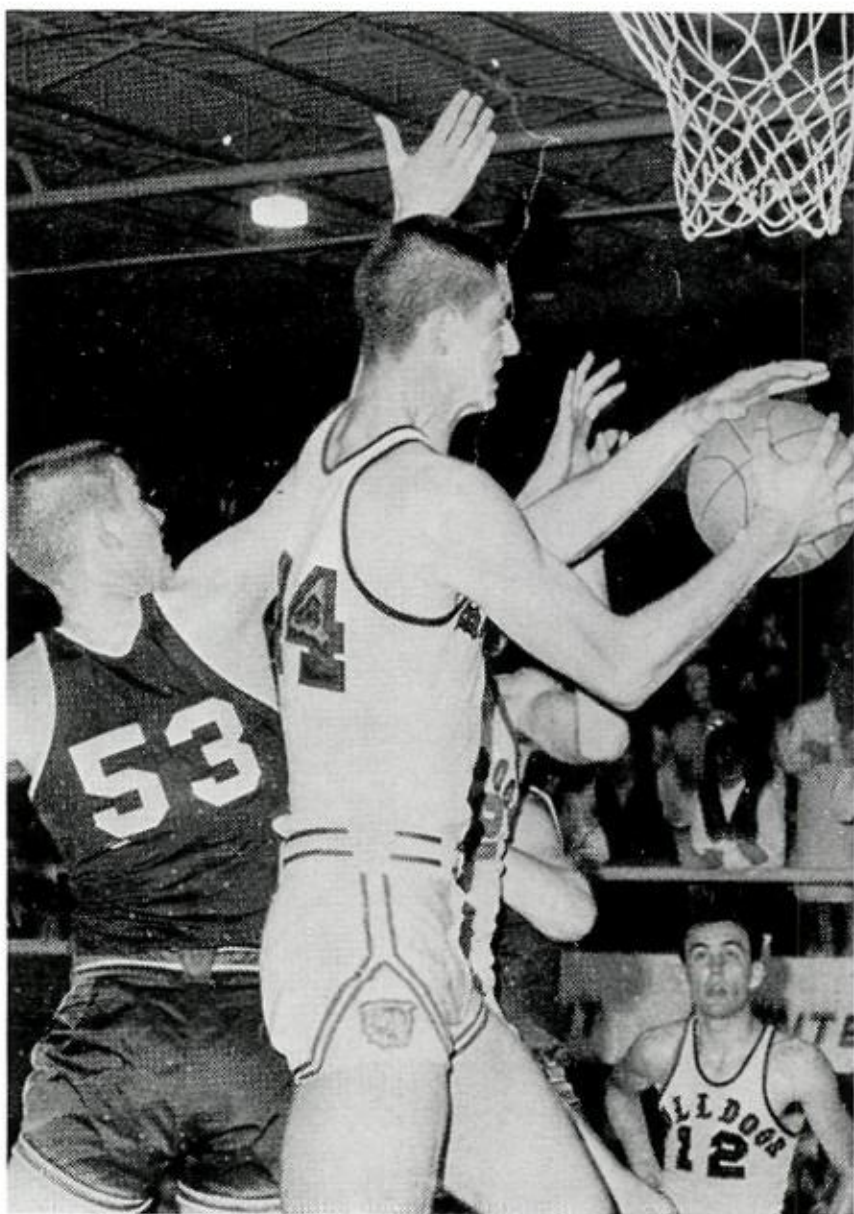

When the Plainsmen hit the hardwoods for the second half, one could tell Coach Myers hadn't been swapping elephant jokes with his squad. With Ernie Gilkerson leading the way, the 'Men cut off Peret and controlled the backboards. They came back to win it 52-49.

The second time around things didn't turn out quite so well for Coach Myers and his squad. This time it was Plainview's turn to come back, and come back they did to dump the Plainsmen 56-43 in the coliseum.

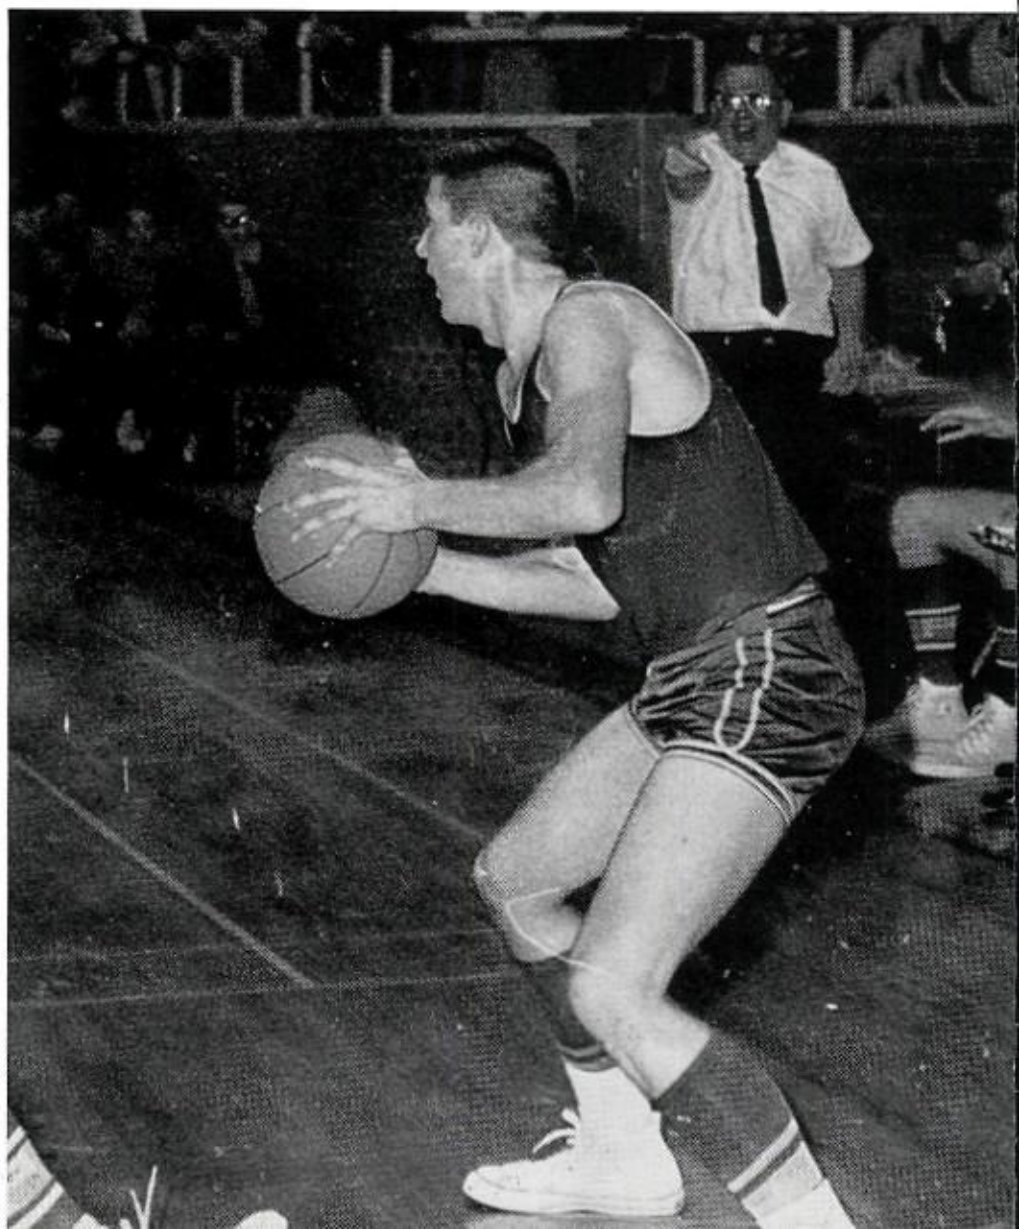

After three quarters Monterey trailed by only a single point 34-33. In the fourth quarter, however, the 'Dogs broke the game wide open to complete the final score of 56-43.

Monterey led in the point parade by Gary Hughes's 12 points, Bob Schmid's 11 tallies, and Monty Landers' 9.

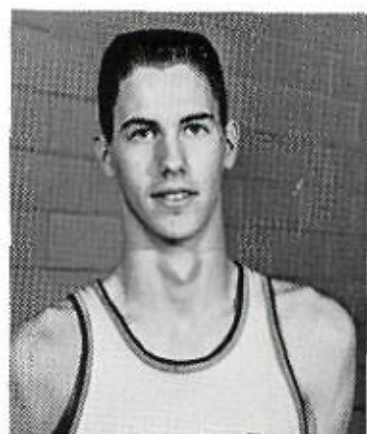

With muscles bulging Plainview's 6-8 giant Ron Peret snares a rebound from Plainsman Forward Gary Hughes.

'Men Sweep Past Sandies

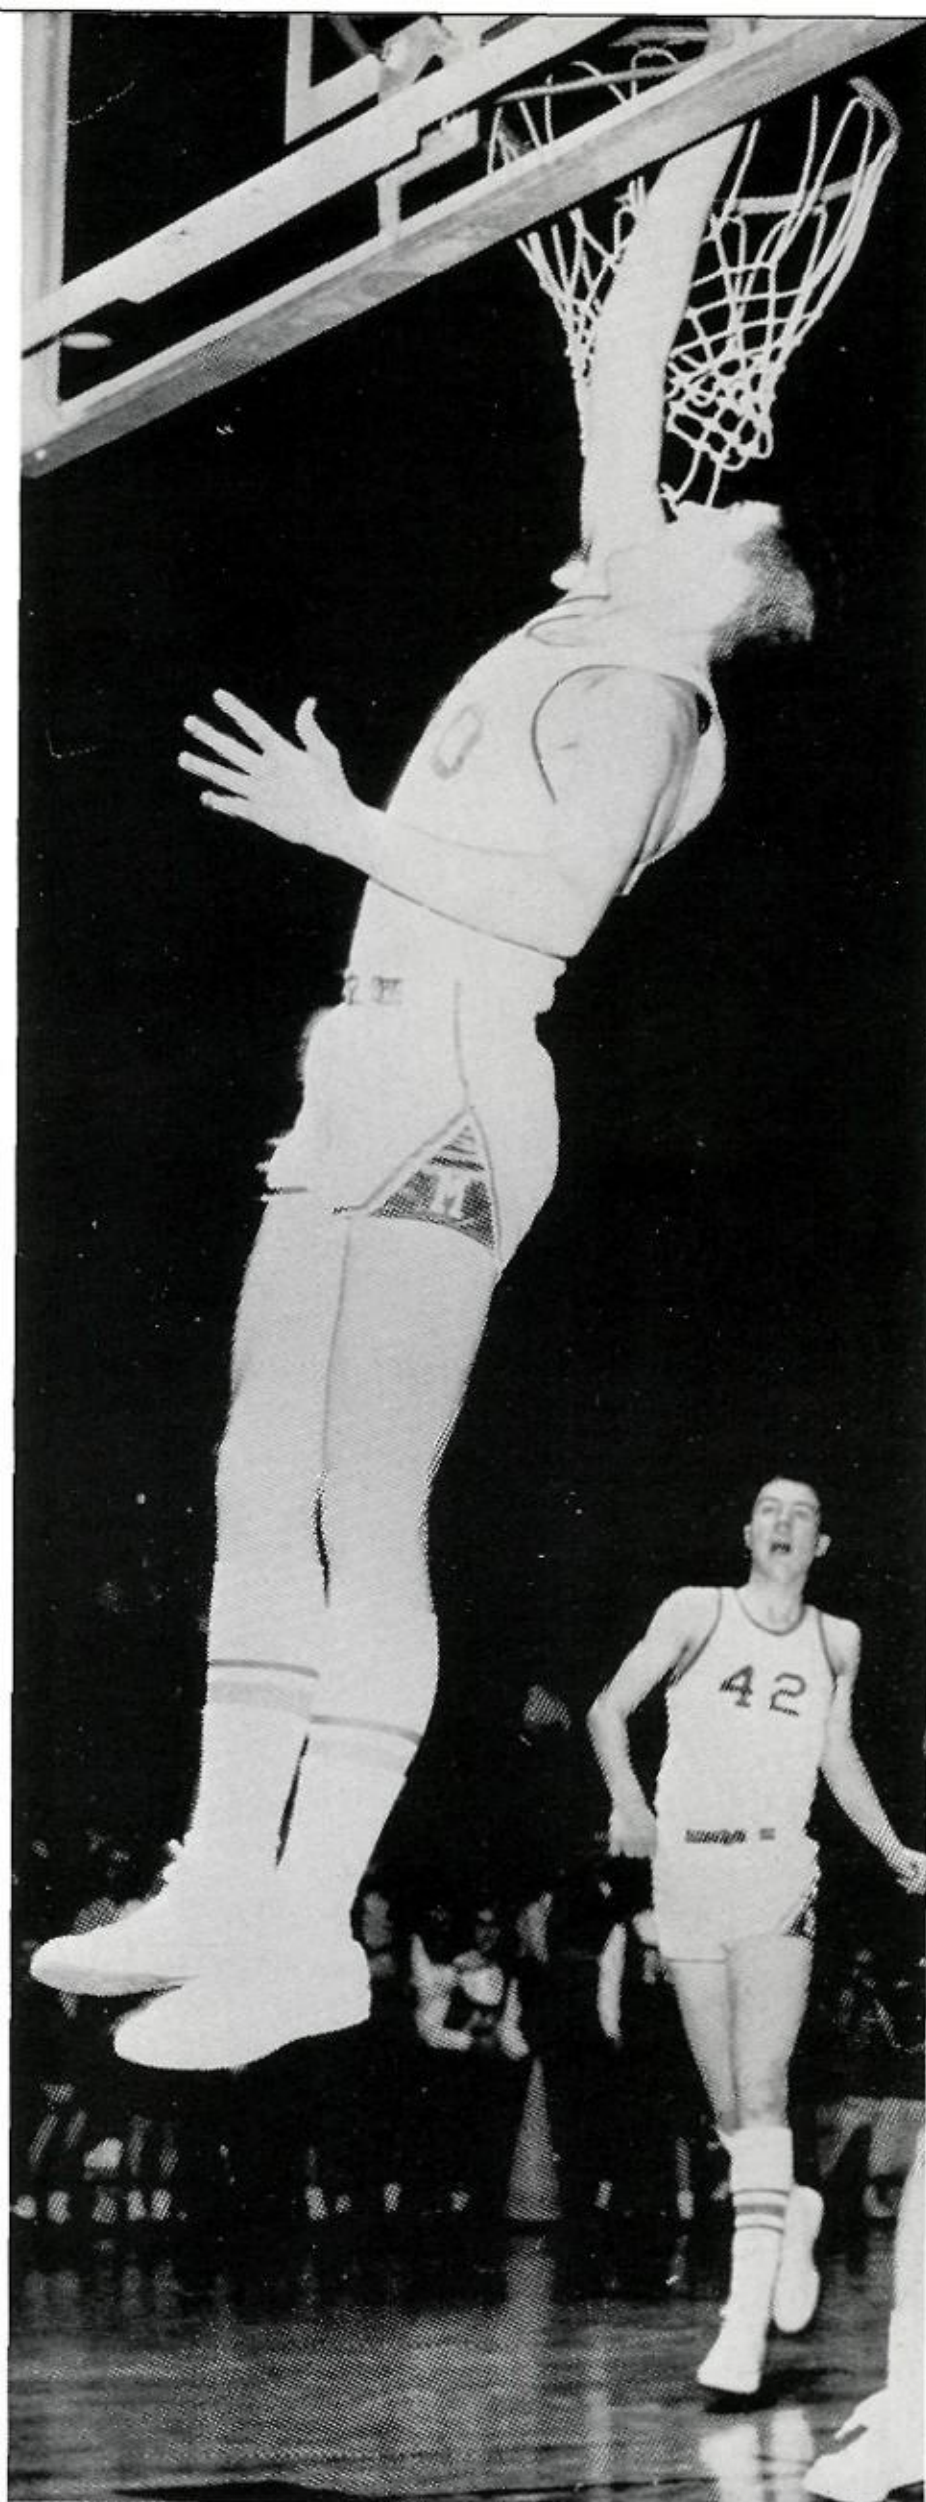

The Amarillo Golden Sandies can be double-tough in the Armory as the Monterey Plainsmen found out in its first district outing against the team from up North. The 'Men found themselves on the short end of the score for most of the game and were forced to play catch-up ball in the latter stages of the contest. Despite this the Plainsmen displayed a great amount of pride and desire as they came back in the fourth quarter to take the Sandies 41-39.

It was a typical game for the Myersmen as they stopped the Amarillo offense only to have their own hot and cold offense almost cost them the game. Gary Hughes scored 24 points to easily lead the scoring.

At Lubbock the Plainsmen smashed any Sandie hopes for an upset as they took a decisive 61-37 victory from the hapless crew from Amarillo.

The Plainsmen played to their full potential as their hot and cold offense was hot and their sturdy defense was smooth and stingy. Jerry Haggard, Will Howorth and Bob Schmid led the scoring brigade with 15, 12 and 19 points respectively.

The Sandies, who were never in the contest, were led by their all-district performer of last year Sammy Gant with 13 points, and Mickey Vaclav with 11 tallies.

Monty Landers goes high into the air to rack up two points. Ernie Gilkerson moves in to follow up the shot.

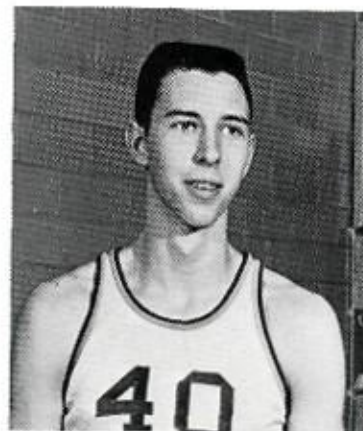

Plainsmen Nipped by Rebels;

Tascosa's tough Rebels threw a stick in the cogs of the Monterey basketball machine and the result was a 39-38 upset, Monterey's first district setback.

Tascosa received help from the Plainsmen as Monterey lost the ball 22 different times via violations, bad passes, etc. Only two Plainsmen reached double figures as Rebel Bill Bogan gained high point honors for the night with a dozen points.

In the second round of play Monterey went the same route as the Plainsmen dropped a cliff-hanger, 57-56, in the unfriendly confines of Tascosa gym.

It was a heart-breaker deluxe for the Lobbokites as they saw their chance for an outright championship dimmed considerably. Adding to the pain of the loss was the fact that the Plainsmen carried a seemingly insurmountable 42-28 lead into the locker room at halftime and a five point bulge into the last 50 seconds of play. Still the Rebels were not to be denied. They punched through 6 points in the final minute of play to end it all.

District 3-AAAA's basketball champion of 1962-63, Pampa, found going a little tough against Monterey's defensive whizes.

The first game, played in the Pampa field house, saw the crew from Monterey jump off to an early lead and hold the lead throughout the contest. Bob Schmid, who played little over half the game, poured through 18 points, pulled down numerous rebounds and played a tough defensive game. Surprise starter Charles Whitt hit for 16 points and Gary Hughes as well as Ernie Gilkerson added 10 markers.

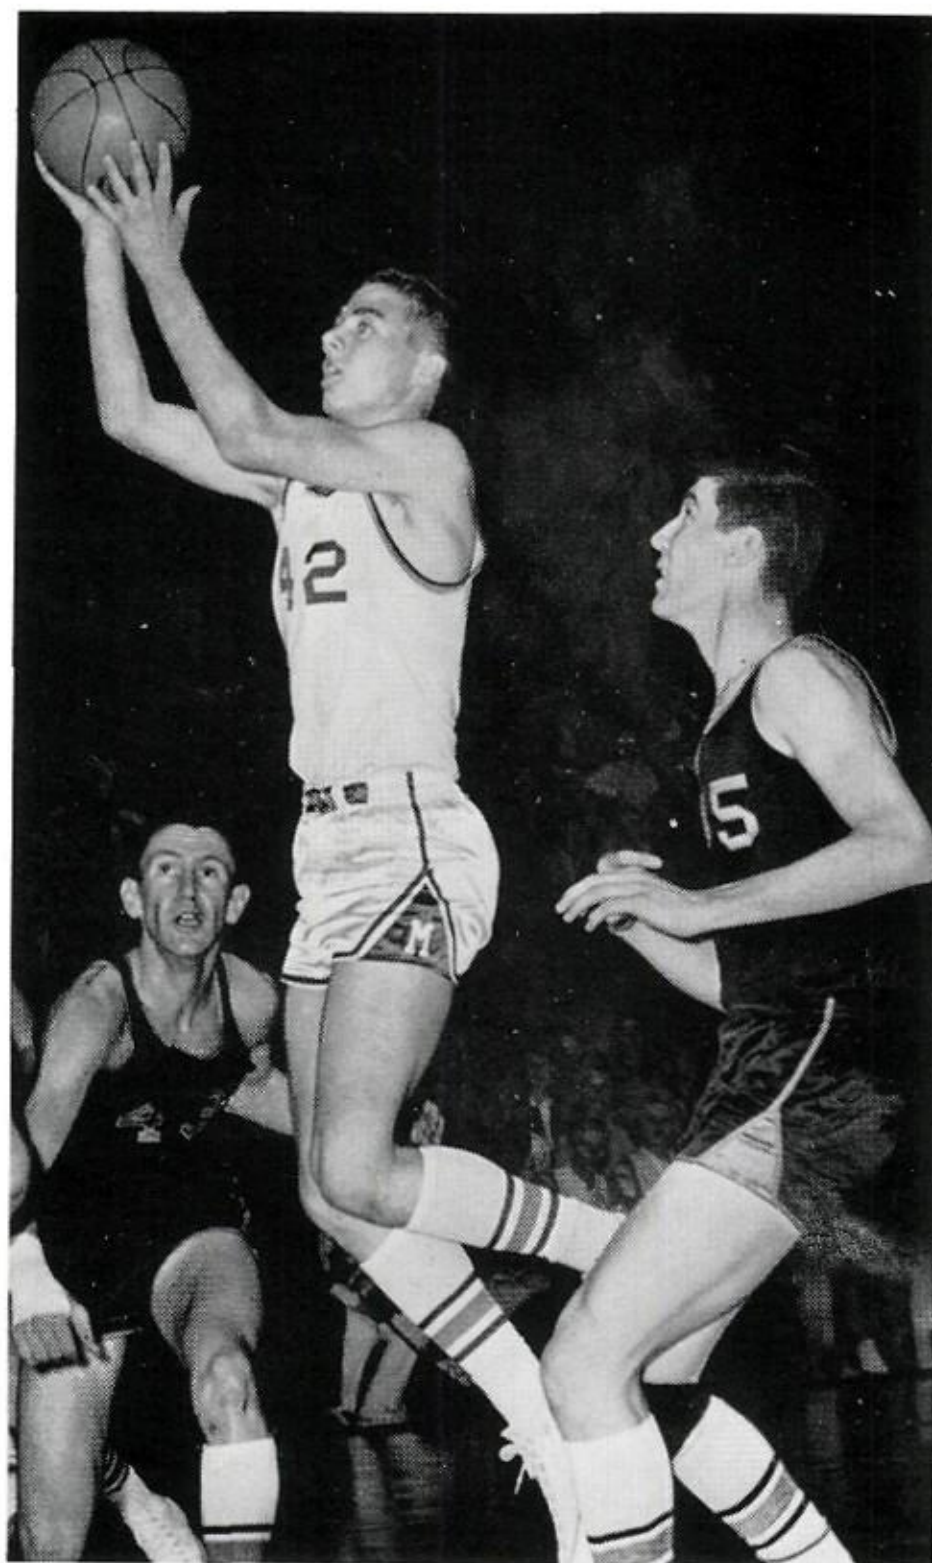

When Pampa came to town for the wrap-up of the annual two game set, the Plainsmen showed little courtesy as they clipped the Harvesters 69-60. Once again the Plainsmen jumped out in front and held the lead until the final whistle.

The victorious team from Monterey found itself in a tie for first place with the Plainview Bulldogs as a result of the triumph over Pampa. Both teams sported 11-4 records. The Lubbock Westerners were well within striking distance of the front runners with a 10-4 record and an extra game left on the schedule.

Lubbock Wrecks Monterey Hopes

Monterey found going pretty tough against their cross-town rivals as they dropped both league contests to district co-champion Westerners.

The first game was far and away the league's top thriller with Lubbock coming out with a heart-stopping 70-66 triple-overtime victory. Midway in the fourth quarter it looked as if Lubbock would sack up the victory in regulation time, but Monterey's tenacious pressing defense foiled the bid and sent the game into overtime. In the third overtime Lubbock's Gary Washington pumped through 6 points to stop the Plainsmen for good.

Monterey's finale saw the Westerners methodically blast the 'Men right out of the district lead by a 56-43 margin. The loss put the Plainsmen in third place. Jerry Haggard led the Plainsmen with 16 points and a fine defensive effort.

Monterey's Lancers came through with a winning season to continue the string of successful "B" teams at Monterey.

In non-district competition the Lancers ran up a 6-1 ledger. These wins included two tournament victories at Snyder tournament and at the Idalou Invitational Tournament. Upon entering league play, the Lancers went to work and compiled an 11-5 record. These 11 victories included an impressive 20 point victory over the League Champ Pampa Shockers. Monterey's old nemesis, Lubbock High, was once again a thorn in the side as they came from behind both games to clip the Lancers twice.

Pre-season feeling that the Lancers would flounder due to lack of height, was proved incorrect as they developed into a fine ball club. The final record for the club was 17-6.

With the type of material found on the "B" team, Monterey's basketball future looks bright.

Baseball Title

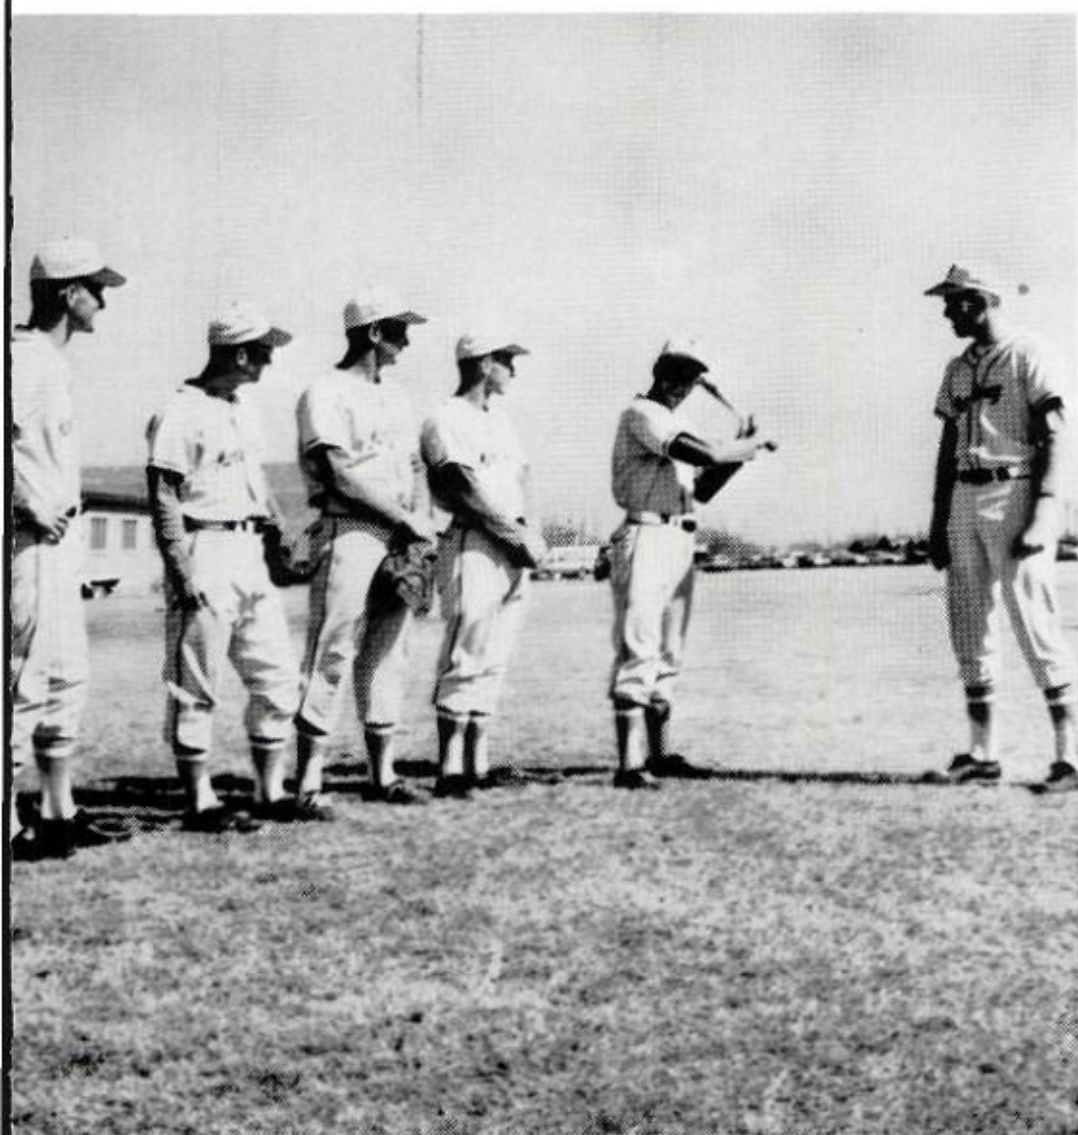

Faced with a challenging record, the Monterey Baseball Team rallied past their 1963 competition at the end of the district season. The Plainsmen Nine, after capturing the regional title, went on to place third in state. Scheduling a 32-game district season in '64, Moegle's 'Men realized the awaiting competition's potential and prepared to defend their crown.

With all-district raters Jerry Haggard and Don Barrett and returning Lettermen Gary Hughes, Gary White, Rudy Foster, Tommy Toombs, Carlos Byrd and Phillip Ellette, the 'Men should be able to equal last year's record.

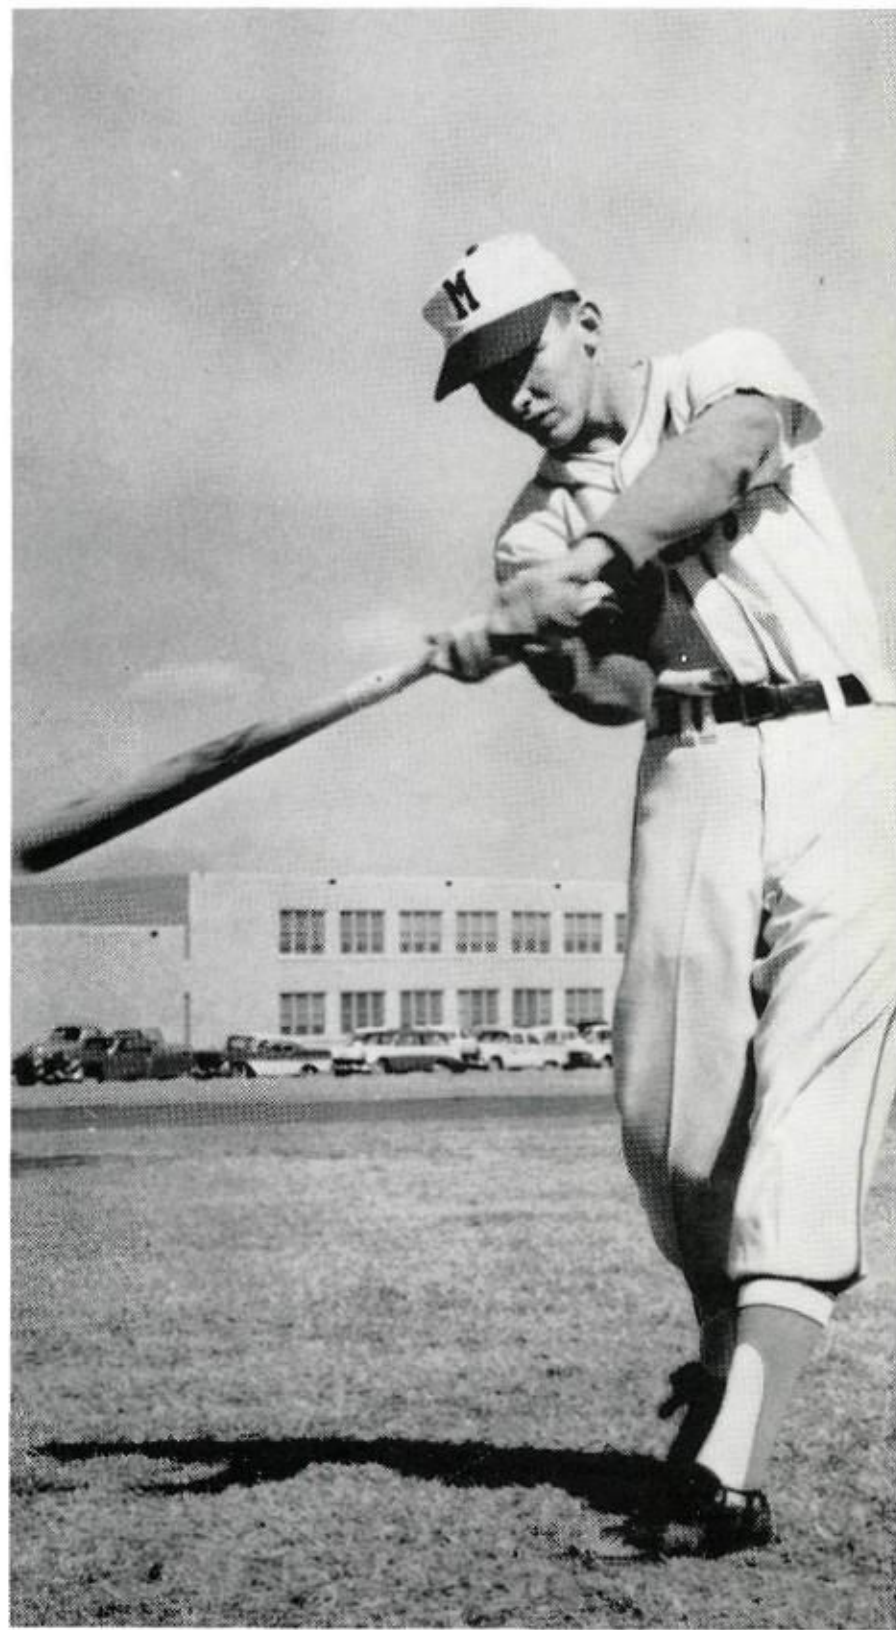

Coach Bobby Moegle

District Title

Youth and lack of experience did not hinder the '64 Cindermen. Improvement, the by-word of the entire team, was the motivation which produced the best efforts of the trackmen. Setting their own records or pressing competitors into setting records encouraged each district team to move forward in the district race.

Returning lettermen helped set the pace for the MHS tracksters. Danny Dutton, one of the most promising members of the team, threw the discus 152 feet before the district season even began. Jimmy Hobson and Bill Shipman have shown their ability as two of the fastest men on the team.

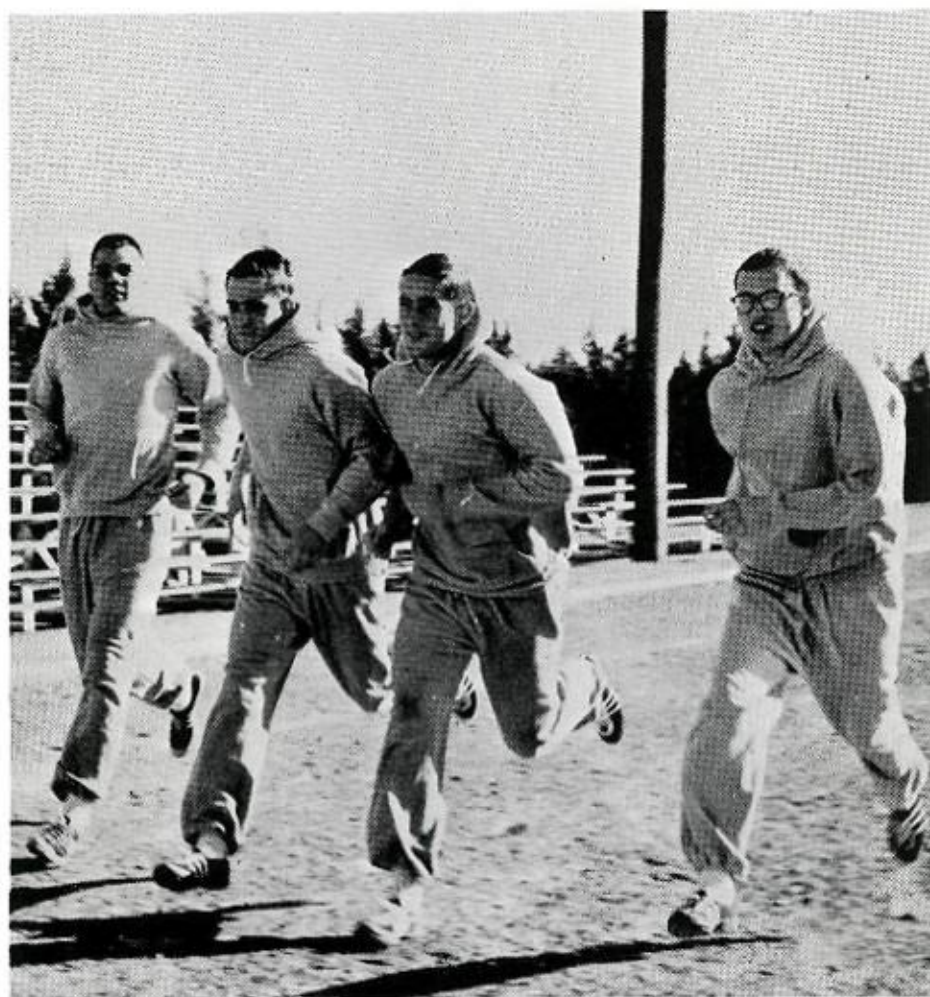

Weight man Jimmy Durretti improves his distance in the shot put for the Monterey cindermen.

Drive Into Swinging Season

Under the able coaching of Miss Jan Cannon and Mr. Charles Brewer, both the tennis and golf teams have successfully begun a season. Entering and winning tournaments have helped the teams to be known throughout the entire state.

Although this year's golf team is one of the smallest MHS has had, it is also one of the best and should turn in many wins for Monterey in their matches. The captain of the tennis team is Alan Kay; the golf captains are Robert McKinney and Jimmy Conine.

PE Training Strengthens

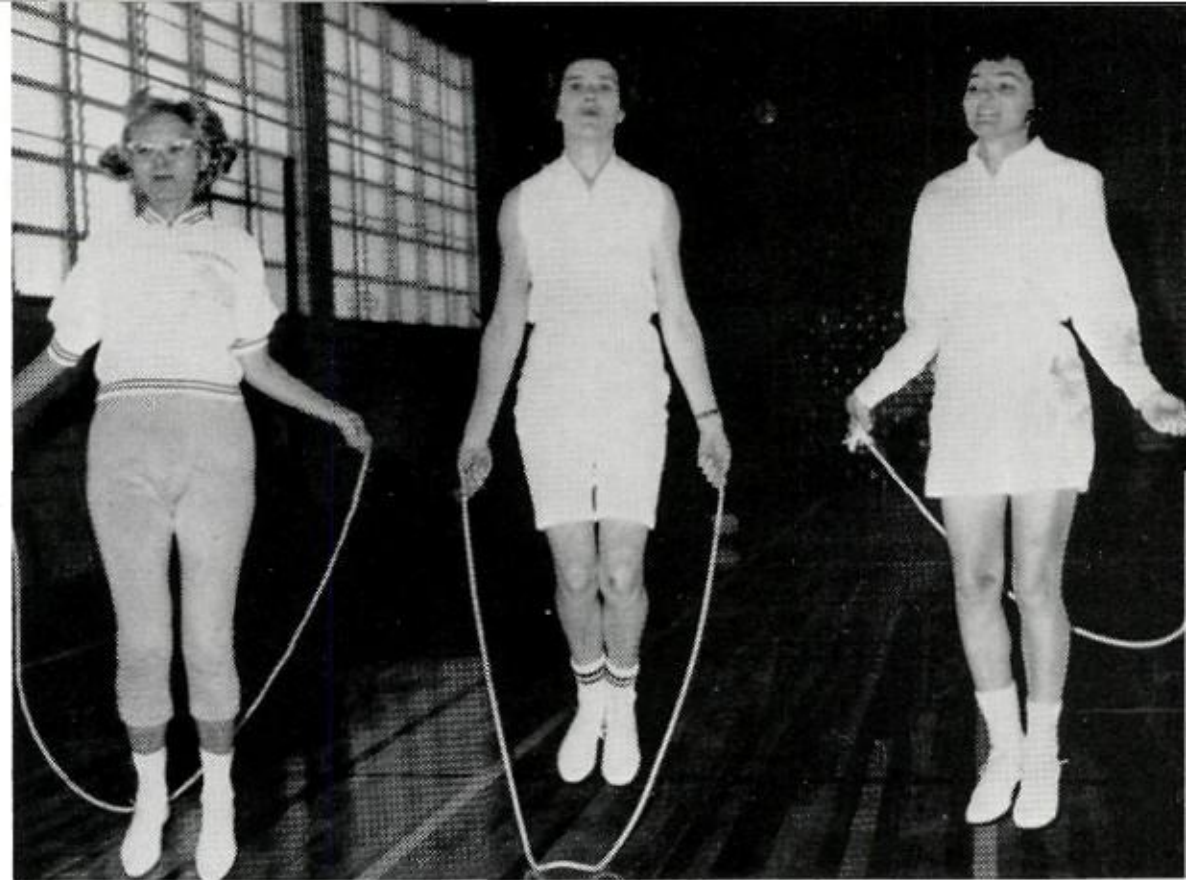

Basketball, volleyball and physical fitness testing rounded out the regular P.E. schedule this year. Checking the students' physical fitness, both in the fall and in the spring, only temporarily interrupted the soft-ball and volleyball games for the boys. After the weather got too cold for the boys to exercise outside, the fellows moved inside and began basketball tournaments.

At the same time, the girls' P.E. classes chose which course they preferred. Besides tennis, golf and modern dancing, the girls were offered general P.E., consisting of basketball and volleyball. Both classes were interrupted at midterm to take time out for square dancing. Classes resumed regular courses after three weeks.

Because of the crowded conditions, Seniors were not allowed to take Regular P.E. at Monterey this year unless they plan to major in P.E. in college. Each student is required to have one and one-half credits in P.E. in order to graduate.

curriculum

School is people and school society is a lot of people searching for a place to fill. The classroom can be a foreboding place to one who feels socially inept; it can be a comfortable social unit to one who is at ease with his classmates. Each student looks in his own way for knowledge, for social acceptance in the many classrooms in the large school that is Monterey. It is in the searching that we chance upon the happiness that is high school and upon the personality that is ours.

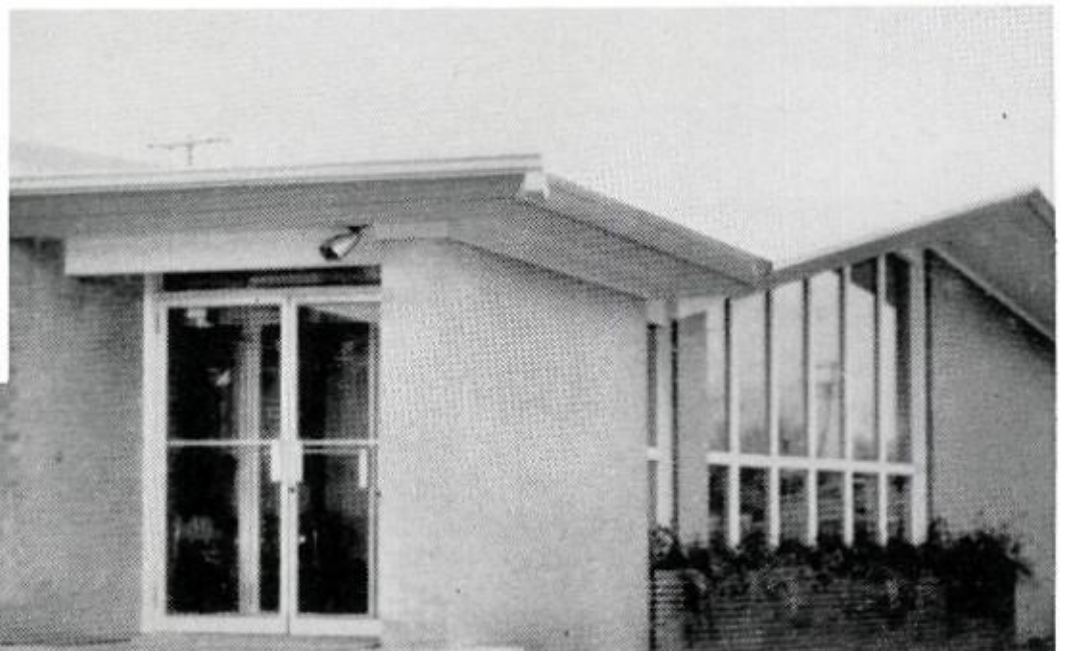

Supervisors Meet Challenge;

Growth and development in the Lubbock Public Schools has increased the heavy responsibilities which rest on Superintendent Nat Williams's shoulders. Twelve years of experience have made Mr. Williams well-acquainted with the demands of Lubbock's fast-growing school system. He supervises the over-all administration of every school in the district including the budgeting of allotted funds, the planning and construction of school buildings and the placement of personnel. Mr. Williams is responsible to and works closely with the School Board on all matters pertaining to the school system.

Serving with Mr. Williams as Assistant Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Ishmael Hill coordinates and supervises the work of the educational directors in addition to approving a personnel plan for each school in the Lubbock Independent School District. Dr. Hill also gives direction to the estimates of school population and to the designation and enforcement of attendance areas.

Arriving simultaneously at the Lubbock Public School Central Office Building, Superintendent Nat Williams and Dr. Ishmael Hill pause at the entrance. The building houses the chief school administrators and directors.

Directors Oversee Education

Four directors of education are responsible for executing certain duties which are important in maintaining the high standards of the Lubbock Public School System.

The improvement of instruction and revision of courses of study is Mr. Jay Gordon's job. As the director of education, Mr. Gordon works with the course of study taught in all the schools. The supervision of English and the language arts in the secondary schools is the main service performed by Mrs. Margaret James, coordinator of language arts.

Interviewing and employing the professional and clerical personnel in the school system is done by Mr. Robert Knight, director of personnel. Mr. Linus Wright, the business manager, is in charge of the budget and maintenance of all school plants.

Making long range plans for the construction and staffing of new school buildings, Mr. Robert Knight, director of personnel, and Mr. Linus Wright, business manager, examine the school budget.

Approval of instructional materials for language courses comes up for discussion as Mrs. Margaret James, co-ordinator of language arts, and Mr. Jay Gordon, curriculum director, confer.

Board Seeks Solutions

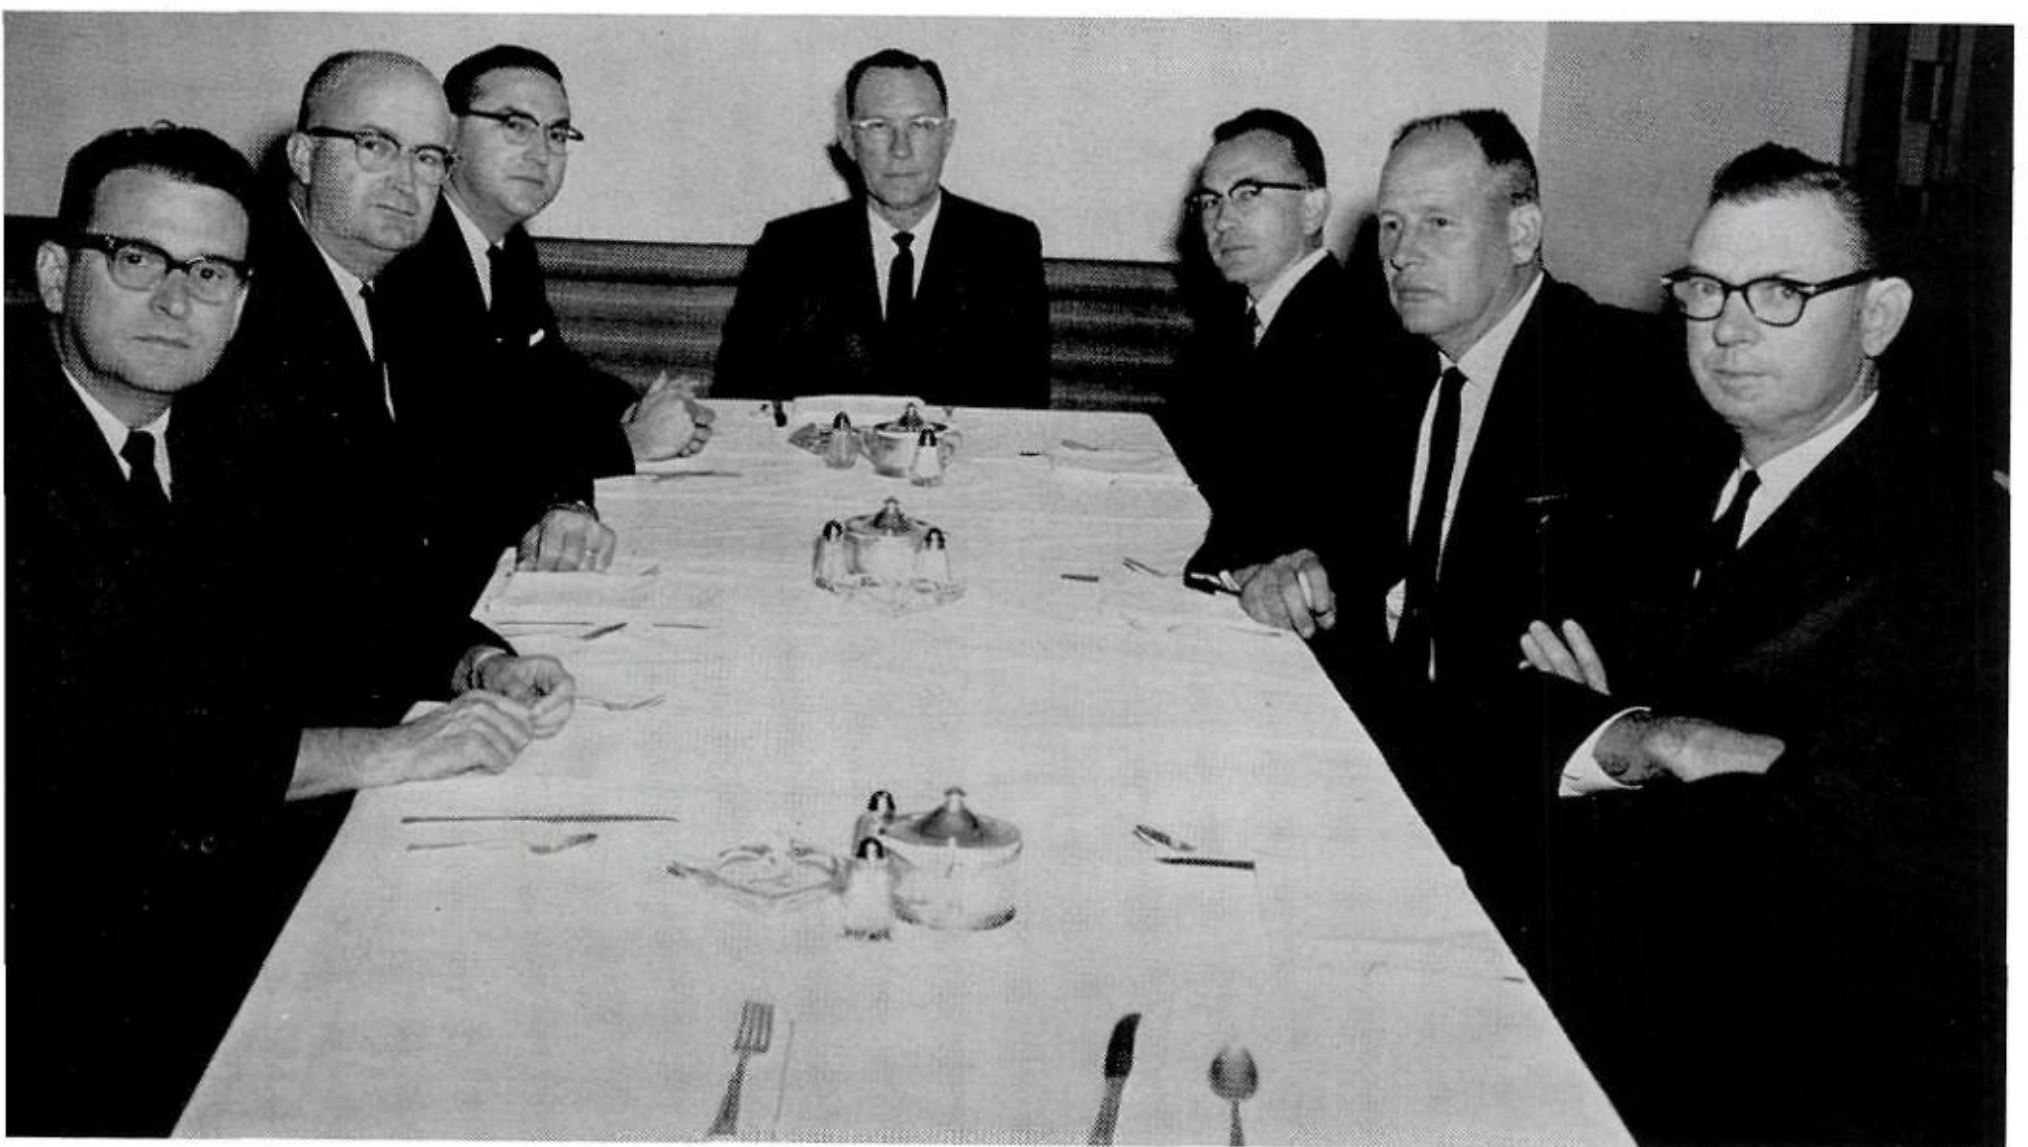

Laymen, elected by popular vote of the taxpayers of the Lubbock Independent School District, attempt to challenge students, teachers, and administration to a higher level of education. The school board is composed of seven Lubbock businessmen who meet from seventy-five to eighty times a year to solve numerous educational problems. These men hire all personnel who meet necessary qualifications, and they authorize expenditures for maintenance and construction of school buildings. They have the responsibility of accommodating the 1,400 to 1,800 new students in the school system each year.

Monterey students along with all other pupils in the Lubbock Public School System share fine educational opportunities provided through an eleven million-dollar budget.

Parents get a firsthand taste of student life in the classroom as they mingle with their sons and daughters during the annual visitation tour sponsored by the Monterey High School PTA.

PTA Broadens Horizons

In seeking to understand the family story, the Monterey Parent Teacher Association co-operates fully with not only the parents, but also with the teachers, administration and school board. The PTA serves as a link between the parents and teachers of Monterey students. Among the projects sponsored by this organization are the Open House and Classroom Visitation Tour in observance of American Education Week. Both of these activities give parents an opportunity to observe classroom work, to get acquainted with members of the teaching staff, and to obtain information concerning the course of study. For the first time in several years, a representative from the Monterey chapter attended the state convention held in San Antonio in November.

Preparing to welcome parents during American Education Week, seniors Connie Robinson and Linda Gill arrange registration book.

Principal, Assistants Maintain

Administering the large school plant that is Monterey High School requires a man of many talents. In Principal Floyd Honey, Monterey has a man who has brought a wealth of experience to his job since the day the school first opened its doors to students. Mr. Honey oversees the organization and administration of the school including the instructional program and personnel. Among his other duties are preparing the budget and payroll and supervising the school's athletic schedule. Mr. Honey served in the Lubbock Public School System as a teacher and coach before assuming administrative responsibilities. He sets an example for every Plainsman in the pride he shows in Monterey's fine record of scholastic and athletic achievements. One of the privileges of Mr. Honey's job is to accept trophies symbolizing these accomplishments which help to "put Monterey on top where it belongs."

Taking note of his schedule of activities is one of Principal Floyd Honey's daily tasks before making announcements over the loud speaker.

High Level of Learning

Three men share the administrative duties at Monterey High School. Principal Floyd Honey is assisted by Vice-Principal B. J. Randles and Assistant Principal Gerald Rogers in planning and carrying out the daily activities of both students and faculty. Vice-Principal B. J. Randles maintains discipline in school and at athletic events in addition to assisting in scheduling, registering and preparing permanent records. Assistant Principal Gerald Rogers directs the safety and civil defense program and oversees maintenance of the building and grounds. Mr. Harold Nichols, director of student activities, helps the student council to operate effectively as a representative voice of the student body and supervises Audio-Visual services.

Solving a difficult scheduling problem, Mr. B. J. Randles and Gary Jackson put their heads together. The ordering of all school supplies means much paper work for Mr. Gerald Rogers.

Checking his files, Mr. Harold Nichols inspects the grades of student council representatives. As head sponsor of the student council, Mr. Nichols is responsible for seeing that council members maintain high scholastic standards.

Counselors, Office Personnel

Mrs. Doris Webb aids Randi Robertson in scheduling her courses.

Lending a helping hand to the large student body at Monterey, four counselors serve in many capacities. Assisting students in finding out about themselves, their abilities, their aptitudes, and their interests is one of the challenges confronting Senior Counselors Miss Edith Caveness and Mr. George Bond. Aiding Plainsmen in living up to their capabilities, strengthening their weaknesses and finding opportunities for future advancement fills the day for Mrs. Doris Webb, sophomore counselor, and Mr. Ronald Gooch, junior counselor. Besides personal counseling, they furnish educational information, plan programs and interpret test scores.

The task of meeting the health needs of 2,500 students faces Mrs. June Ducker, school nurse, four days a week. Mrs. Ducker is responsible for health records concerning vision, hearing and dental conditions. In addition to advising students on health problems, she seeks correction for remedial defects.

Perform Student Services

Taking a count of money obtained from the sale of tickets to a basketball game is one of the jobs delegated to Mrs. Betty Pitts, bookkeeper.

In every organization there are those who work behind the scenes to make it run more smoothly. Students rely on the personnel who staff the Administrative Offices for many important services. The clerks employed in the Attendance Office handle telephone calls concerning students' absences and compile the absentee list for seven periods every day. Members of the clerical staff working in the Main Office are responsible for keeping permanent records on students and for financial matters having to do with school activities such as athletic events and pay assemblies. Secretarial duties in the offices of the administrators and counselors fill busy hours for three members of the staff.

The necessary job of checking books in and out to Plainsmen and making sure that a sufficient supply is on hand is filled by Mrs. Irene Richardson.

Library Supplements Classroom

Improvement and extension of the school library service in Monterey in order to help strengthen the educational program is the aim of Miss Pansye Harris's library staff. An effective diffusion of knowledge is made possible by easy access to all types of available materials. Among these are vocational pamphlets, periodicals, newspapers, and reference books. Miss Harris is assisted in her duties by Mrs. Belle Brown, Mrs. Clara Goodman, Mrs. Mary E. Lawson, Mrs. Beverly A. Nix, and seventeen student workers. The library is open long hours in order for students to do detailed research work outside of class. Students are also taught creative behavior in the library. All Plainsmen are encouraged to take advantage of some of the 12,200 books, 1,400 of which were placed on the shelves this year.

Whether studying or reading for pleasure, Monterey students Larry Best and Tony Smith find that a quiet atmosphere makes the library an ideal place.

Courses Inspire Creativity

With a little aid from Mike Anderson and Rick Parrack, Harvey, the invisible rabbit in the senior class play, makes big entrance.

Monterey Thespians learn to speak more effectively, to listen more efficiently and to make good use of the things which have revolutionized communication through the speech department. Courses are built around the needs of the student in his family life, his school and his community. The fundamentals of speech, dramatics, informative and persuasive speaking and plays production induce self-expression. The curriculum is composed of public speaking, extemp, oral interpretation and debate. Plainsmen perform in two plays for the Children's Theatre, junior and senior class plays and special school assemblies besides taking part in several area speech meets during the year.

Reflective Understanding

By strengthening the students' command of the English language and enabling them to speak and write effectively and correctly, Monterey English teachers seek to prepare Plainsmen for a college career or for their chosen vocation. English students are taught to read with understanding and to exercise a critical viewpoint. They also learn to appreciate the other peoples of the world.

Studies range from the reading of classic literature and poetry to learning the fundamentals of grammar and public speaking. For sophomores and juniors, the English department offers regular and honors classes, while seniors may elect between a basic, a regular, or an honors class. Teachers seek to stress the importance of proper communication whether oral or written in today's modern world. Theme and essay writing along with extensive vocabulary studies promote proper communication and serve as a preparatory background for college.

Math Instructors Stress

Seeking to make the study of mathematics meaningful, Monterey instructors strive to help the student progress from a knowledge of the basic fundamentals of arithmetic to an understanding of the complicated intricacies of trigonometry. The modern trend is particularly emphasized in algebra and geometry. More advanced studies in trigonometry, analytic geometry and speed math are offered students. Accelerated courses are available in the first four of these areas of study.

Note-taking and more note-taking is the regular routine in most science classes. Teachers find that this aids students in learning and remembering basic facts.

Scientists Unfold Mysteries

Whether Monterey students become participants in the field of science or consumers benefiting from scientific knowledge, they will have received the skills and appreciation necessary to take their places in the scientific age. Courses in specialized fields of physics, chemistry and biology are available for scientific-minded students. The study of applied science is designed to give the non-science student a broad general background. Experiments conducted in nine modern laboratories allow Plainsmen a greater insight into the enigmas of science.

With greater stress being placed on science each year, every student is required to take two courses of his own choosing. The practical knowledge gained from these studies will prove valuable to tomorrow's young adults as they assume their respective roles in a world closely associated with science.

Universal Understanding

In order for every Monterey student to be able to perceive the many perplexing problems which confront the world, several preparatory courses are required for graduation. The successful completion of studies in world history, American history, and government assures each Plainsman of a knowledge of both the past and the present. A course in American problems also helps lead the students to understand the rights and duties of a citizen in a democratic society. Students may choose to study world geography or Texas history. Discussions on current events provide an opportunity for every Plainsman to air his own views freely. A historical study of both testaments of the Bible also serves as an extra-curricular course.

Keeping up with current events, Carol Clover, Cheryl Baldwin and Mary Lynn Anderson take advantage of numerous news magazines.

Repetition is the key word in the MHS language laboratory as students work to perfect their pronunciation and to improve their hearing abilities. Foreign language classes listen to and practice from textbook exercises.

Growing Number of Students

Foreign languages become increasingly important in the curriculum with each passing school year. The mastery of either Spanish, French or Latin prepares Plainsmen for further language study in college. Oral work makes up a large part of each linguist's course as well as listening, reading and writing which also aid MHS students in comprehending their chosen language. A well-equipped laboratory serves to improve pronunciation, as do tape recorders which are placed in the classrooms. Future linguists who elect a foreign language are encouraged to study at least two years in order to obtain an overall background. A third year course enables students to read and translate novels and other literature selections while studying the people who speak these languages and the history and culture of their countries. Advanced Latin students have a unit on Roman civilization and are required to translate Virgil's Aeneid.

Studies Simulate Work Days

Business skills are instilled in Plainsmen who choose courses which provide training in the development of attitudes, qualities and abilities in commercial areas that will meet the needs of students for both personal and vocational use. Future secretaries, bookkeepers and accountants acquire a working knowledge of the jobs which they hope to hold after graduation. Studies in typing, stenography, bookkeeping and business arithmetic constitute a major in general business training courses.

For those Monterey students who wish advanced or additional training in office work, a course in clerical practice is available. Modern office equipment aids students as they seek to perfect their commercial accomplishments. Adding machines, calculators, dictaphone equipment and electric and manual typewriters are familiar sights in the MHS business department.

Journalists Chronicle Events

Taking advantage of a journalist's "best friend," Donna Hood searches her dictionary for the right adjective.

Students seeking an outlet for self-expression through art and words make up the MHS Journalism Department. The fruits of their efforts are the MONTEREY MIRROR, the CHAPARRAL and SHADOWS, an annual literary magazine composed of works by talented writers and artists.

The MONTEREY MIRROR, a bi-weekly publication, is one of the top-rated newspapers in the state. The year's events are recorded in pictures and prose by yearbook staff members on the award-winning CHAPARRAL. Preparation for work on either publication is offered through a journalism course which teaches fundamental principles of effective writing. Staff members spend many hours in class and after school preparing their work for publication.

Artists Employ Creativity

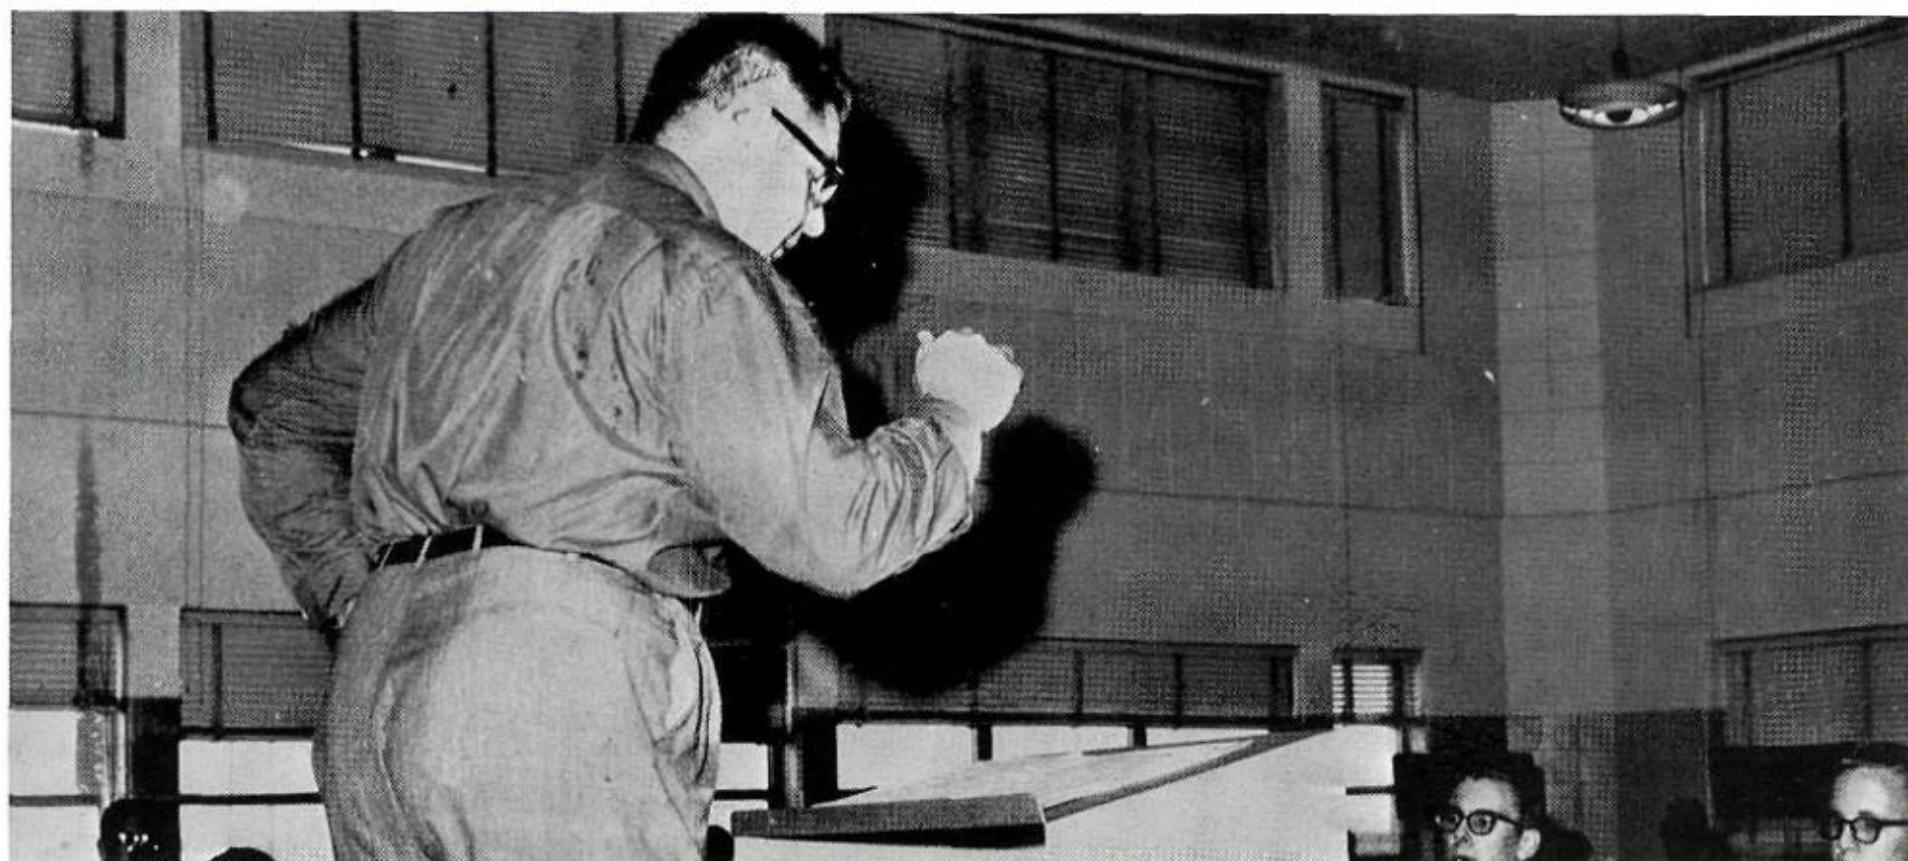

Testing her abilities in point perspective drawing, Vicki Keeling concentrates on geometrical designs.

Monterey's art department provides varied and adequate means of self-expression through creative activities. It also enables students to exercise selective judgment. Art courses help Plainsmen in choosing a vocation which utilizes arts and crafts. Students are exposed to art in the modern world through courses in applied design, graphic arts, pottery and painting.

Many facets of art are included in these studies such as sculpture, oil paintings, textiles, jewelry, costume design, industrial design and mobile design. Aspiring artists find that a casting machine, pottery wheel, laszlo universal hand press and kiln aid them in developing their skills more fully. Students are free to follow their own personal instincts and feelings as they express themselves on canvas. Each year Monterey receives paintings from selected "Plainsman Painters."

Familiar surroundings such as Monterey's scenic patio offer inspiration to Art Student Wayland Vancleeve and his teacher Mrs. Billie Marks. Pencil drawing is one of the many units studied by artistic Plainsmen.

"Strike up the band and let the music play" could be the chief thought running through Mr. Rex Shelton's mind as he leads his large group of musicians in a lively rendition of the Monterey "Fight Song."

Monterey's musical department provides entertainment not only for the students and faculty, but also for many other citizens of Lubbock. Five singing groups perform the finest choral literature within their capabilities in school programs and before numerous civic organizations. A mixed choir, a men's glee and a girls' choir are offered on the sophomore, junior and senior level.

Band and orchestra students achieve greater physical coordination, a knowledge of music and instrumental proficiency. These groups employ their classroom skills to good advantage when they represent Monterey in Interscholastic League competition and other contests annually. The choirs, band and orchestra appear at public functions and on school programs during the year.

Youthful Homemakers Practice

Homemaking education in Monterey aids every girl by preparing her to live a useful and satisfying personal, family and community life. Class experiences are centered on home activities and relationships which enable youth to assume the responsibilities of homemaking as family members today and tomorrow. The homemaking levels include food, nutrition, housing, clothing, textiles and related work with other courses offered in home and family living, family finance, child development, home nursing and civil defense.

Many projects, such as planning and executing meals, teas, style shows, a nursery play school and making dresses for special occasions, give Monterey's young homemakers practical experience for the future. Girls supplement their school work with home projects.

Seniors study etiquette, social problems, the stages of personality development and a preparatory unit on marriage. Home economics units are all aimed at making MHS girls successful wives and mothers.

Doing what comes naturally, Vicki Cercey and Segayle Walden complete the daily washing, drying, and folding operation familiar to all housewives.

Physical Education Classes

Each student at Monterey receives well-rounded training in basic physical activities for the purpose of maintaining fitness. An attempt is made to provide activities adaptable to individual needs in order to insure an adequate program. This is carried out through physical fitness tests given in the fall and spring of the year to determine the students' improvement. Courses in basketball, volleyball, tumbling, square dancing and softball are offered to both boys and girls. Boys' classes also participate in touch football, weight lifting, and combatives. Girls' studies include a unit on posture and spring recreational sports such as table tennis, badminton and shuffle board, with modern dance offered optionally. Both boys and girls may take tennis and golf. Good sportsmanship is emphasized in all of the sports taught competitively at Monterey. Athletic contests between the championship teams in the classes climax the units of study.

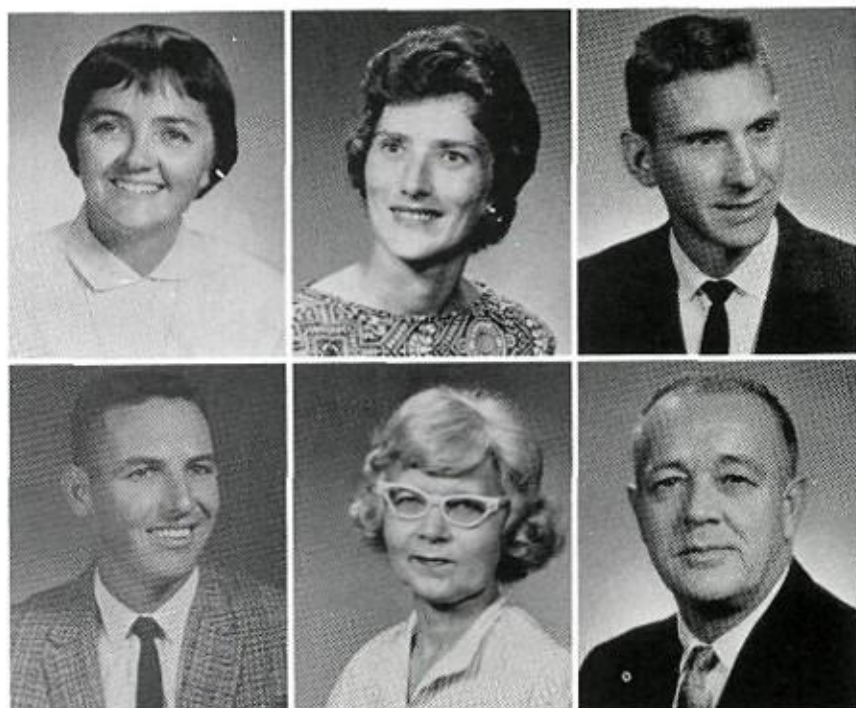

Shimmying up the rope, Treva Sheumaker demonstrates her scaling abilities while her classmates wait their turn.

Departments Lead Students

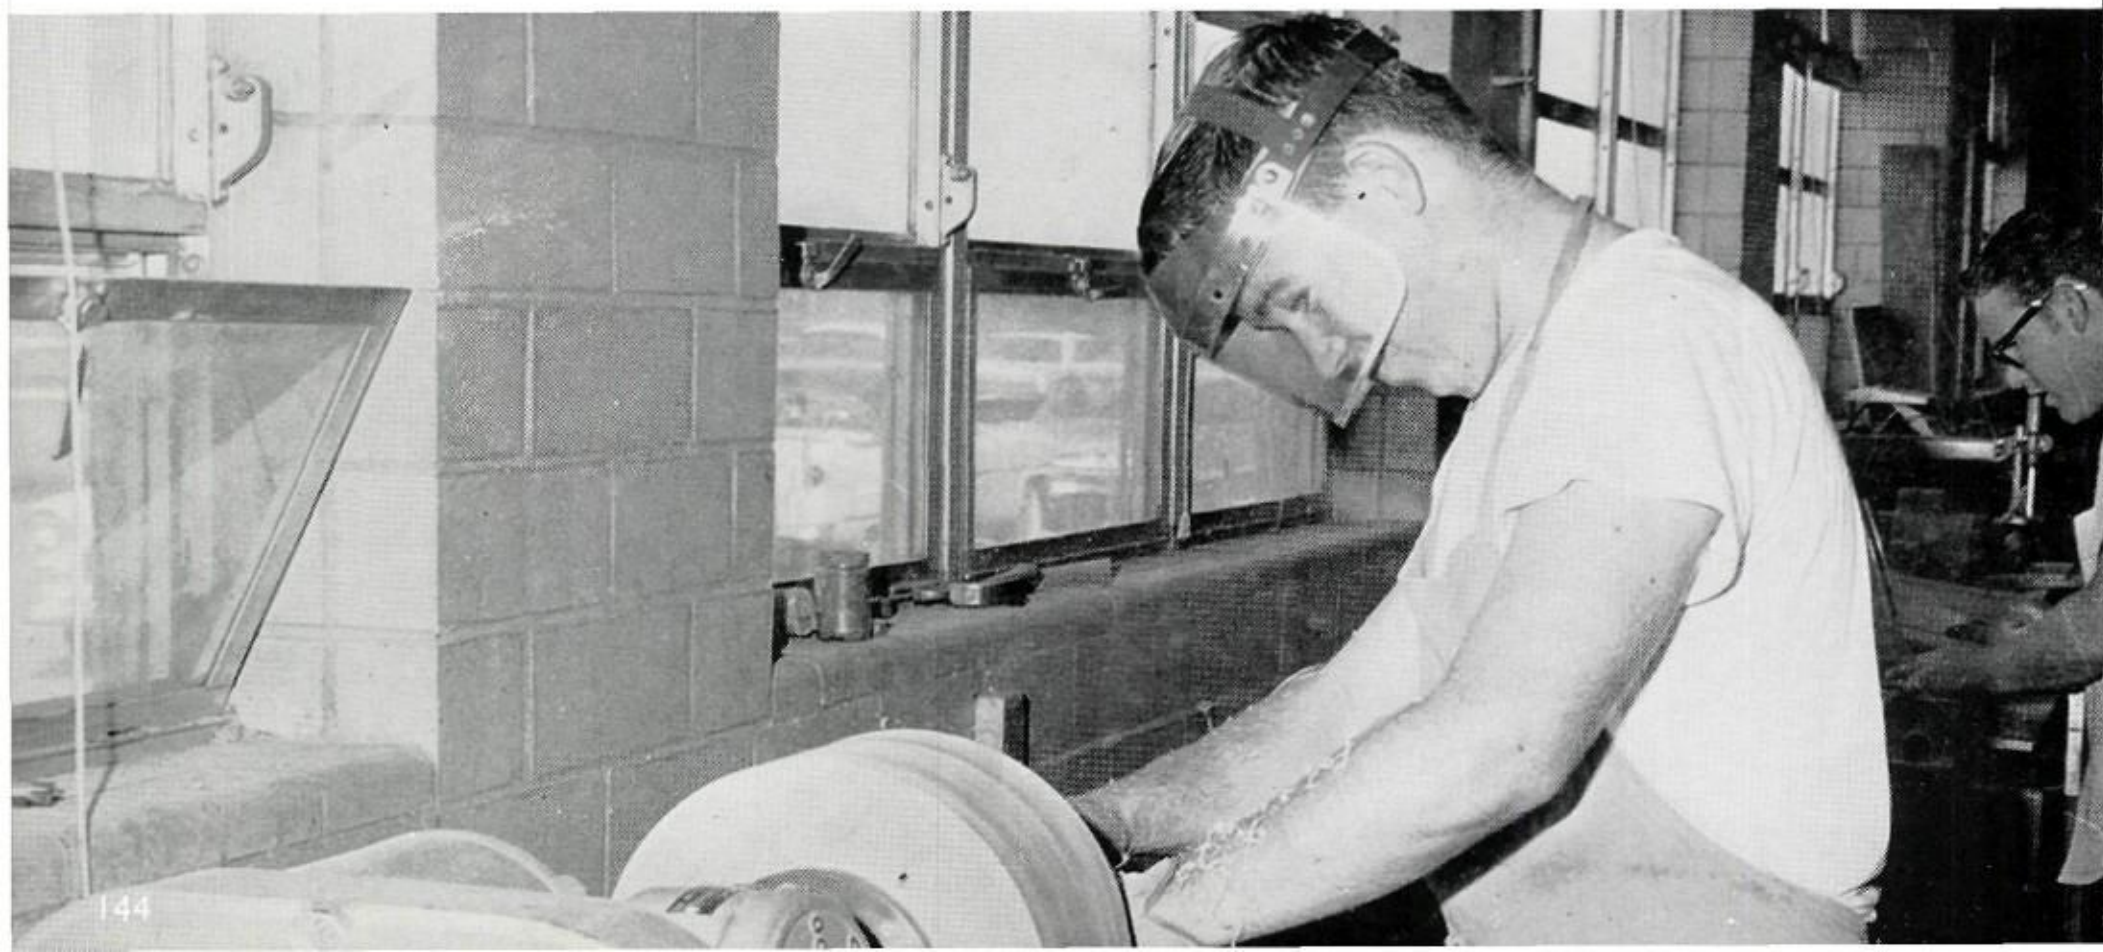

Believing that experience is the best teacher, shop and agriculture instructors prepare boys for careers in woodworking, metal crafts and farming. The basic purpose of the general metals course is to give boys a fundamental knowledge concerning metal industries such as welding, machine shop, bench metal and sheet metal. Students participate in industrial art shows and exhibits. Four areas of study are included in the woodworking branch of the department: building materials, tools, processes and industry. Activities such as the designing and building of chairs, tables, hutches, night stands, book cases, and boats fill already overflowing time.

Future farmers learn modern farming techniques in the classroom and put them in practice at the school's farm. The boys compete in livestock shows, a leadership contest and a judging contest. Individual projects play an important part in both these departments. Boys take pride in turning out finished products which meet high standards.

DE Students Learn by Doing

Designing movie ads is part of DE Student Evelyn Sheumaker's job as advertising manager for six Lubbock theaters.

Providing training in all types of retail and wholesale business, the Distributive Education Department gives students the opportunity to attend school and work at the same time. DE members take three morning classes before reporting for work in the afternoon at their assigned businesses. On-the-job-training is supplemented by regular classroom studies pertaining to business relationships in general.

Students are screened for the training stations in which they are employed just as their employers are a specially selected group. Students are placed in such fields as selling, management, advertising and finance according to their interests and abilities. The school year is climaxed by the Employer-Employee Banquet honoring training sponsors.

Not all the hard work at Monterey is confined to students and teachers. Services performed by cafeteria workers and custodians are extremely important parts of the daily school life. Working as a team, 31 members of the cafeteria staff prepare hot, nutritious meals for three lunch periods five days a week. Several cafeteria workers serve at the snack bar. Students assist in the cafeteria in such capacities as operating cash registers and helping at the snack bar. Many cafeteria workers have been at Monterey since the school first opened its doors nine years ago, as have the custodians.

Eleven custodians share the responsibility of keeping up not only the school building but also the large grounds. These people work long hours to give Monterey the clean, neat facade that it has always enjoyed. Whether waxing floors or washing blackboards, the custodial staff is efficiently performing maintenance tasks.

Finale Serves

As the year of 1964 draws to a close, the Senior class prepares to meet life. For many, the road ahead means college and advanced schooling. For others, it is the beginning of a career. The final school year has meant countless things. It was the year of the Senior Play, the Senior Carnival and Kid Day. It was more hard work under the leadership of classmates. It was graduation. It was remembering and anticipation. Monterey High School, 1964, was the ending and beginning of that short interlude between childhood and adulthood.

Responsibility, leadership, and personality are only a few of the prerequisites for class officers that have been met by Molly Abbott, secretary, and Monty Landers, president.

Thrills, laughter, fun and excitement were only a few of the things experienced by Juniors. There were the traditional Candy Sale to raise money for the Junior-Senior Prom, the Junior Assembly entitled "Home of the Blues," the Junior Party and the pep rally skit before the annual Monterey-Lubbock game. Adding to the already brimming schedule were the all-school affairs such as pep rallies, Mardi Gras, after-game parties, Exchange Assembly and vigorous election campaigns.

The Junior class was almost solely responsible for the campaign for president in the Texas Association of Student Councils. The middlemen enjoyed a year of hard work and planned activities. Looking forward to their last and perhaps greatest year, the graduating class of 1965 strived to make their class excel.

Juniors on the go was an ever-present factor at Monterey, and President I. D. Walker and Secretary Sue Ann Sides directed the affairs of middlemen.

Junior year is full of fun and preparation. V.-P. Ernie Gilkerson, Susan Rampy, Karen Abbey, Beverly Smith, Tommy O'Kelly, and Danese McDonald planned for the Prom.

Explodes With Excitement

Selling candy to raise money for the prom and planning the junior pep rally skit were important jobs of Junior vice-presidents Vic Condrey, Vicki White, Robert Junell, Lester Cox, Lou Scoggin and Tommy Toombs.

Busy schedules and not enough time seemed to plague Junior Councilmen, while candy, assemblies and campaigns filled a large part of the schedule of Ann Liston, Byrnie Bass, Sandi Parmer, David Woody, Jimmy Lokey and Vicki Keeling.

Tests Measure Achievement

Two days of exams seem endless to juniors as they struggle with facts and figures which compose the compulsory Iowa Tests. The results of the tests enable juniors to evaluate their progress and achievement.

Displaying the winning poster for the MHS-LHS game are Johnny Shindler, Donna Foster, Cindi Willham, Ruth Ogle, and Bill Deilke, artist members of Mrs. Newsome's homeroom. Preceding this football game each year, homerooms compete for top honors in the annual poster contest.

SOPHOMORE FAVORITES

Sophs Recall

Though there are many events that fill the year, Sophomores never forget the first day and their first step toward becoming Plainsmen. They faced new experiences of class elections, pep rally skits, club memberships and class assemblies. Using the theme, "I Left My Heart In San Francisco," the class planned and worked together to present their assembly to the entire student body. By taking each problem in its stride, the 973 students proved their capability. With determination and pride, Sophomores look forward to their year as "middlemen."

Knee deep in the responsibility of leading novice Plainsmen, Sophomores Bill Hunter and Ann Armistead carry a full load as they serve as president and secretary of their class.

Integrity, a witty sense of humor, and a winning attitude are combined in vice-presidents Ken Brummett, Connie Wilkinson, David Walker, Jackie Bise, and Frank Johnson. With qualities like these the soph council lead fellow students.

Past, Eye Coming Year

Greg Moorhead, Kathryn Smith, Lynn Hamilton, Lana Sirpless, Joe Tarver, and Craig Wright contribute time, energy, and hard work to make the Soph council a success. With cherished memories of their initial year, Sophs look forward to being Juniors.

Adding the characteristics of teamwork, sincerity, humor, and dependability, Craig Hughes, Don Botik, Vicki Robinson, Nancy Krebbs, Cornelia Cochran, and Jan Cash meet the qualifications of sophomore class vice-presidents.

Class elections mark the start of a new year for sophs. New Plainsmen are perplexed as to whom to choose for class officers, while six finalists nervously await the results of the cheerleader run-offs.

Getting off to a good start, Sophomore officers turn out in force for their first class council meeting. President Bill Hunter and secretary Ann Armistead discuss plans for the success of the class with council members Joe Tarver, Craig Wright, and David Fields.

"Put your machines on Master Record and turn them to play," is familiar to Mrs. Brown's first year French students in the language lab. Through the use of tapes, Sophomores hear French people speak, which aids in pronunciation and comprehension.

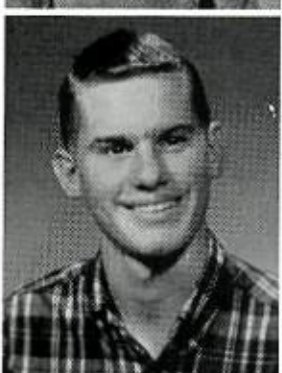

Bill Hunter, class president, accepts the plaque presented to Sophomores for their attendance at MHS's first night pep rally. The underclassmen came out on top in the competition which encouraged each class to come out to support the Plainsmen.

Students often finish their sophomore year with mixed emotions, wondering if they have accomplished all they should and could have, and yet looking forward to the year ahead of them. Examining her first two semester grades at MHS, Kay Assiter recalls all the tests, book reports and themes that filled the year.

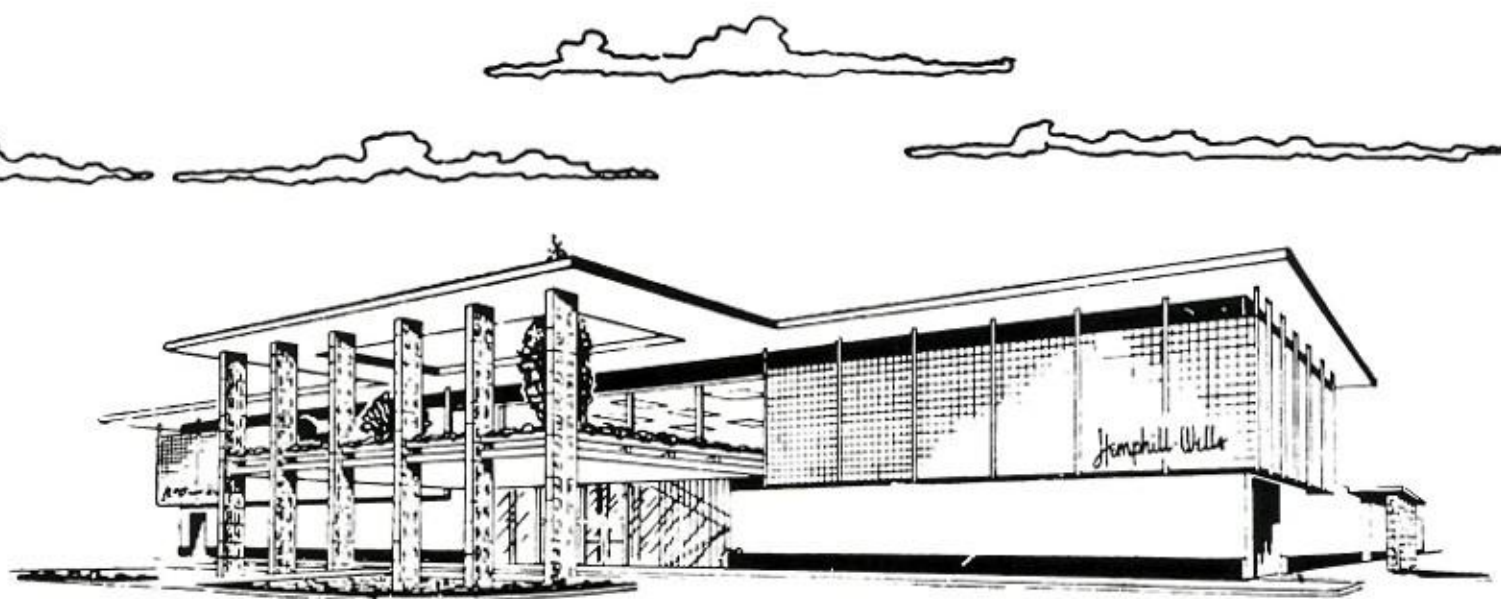

Thoroughly disgusted and anxious to get home, Mike Baily waits for his sister Kay to gather up all her "valuables" before leaving on the last day of classes. Though the frustrations of final exams are over, Sophomores still must go through registration for the following year.

Success in high school depends not only upon the home and the school, but on the community as well. HEMPHILL-WELLS keeps the needs of the high school patrons in mind. The large, modern Monterey store is conveniently designed to suit Plainsman needs. Visit the Hob Nob Room . . . the Gentry Shop . . . the Junior World Shop . . . and the elegant Gold Room . . . and remember, for many, happiness is something special from HEMPHILL-WELLS.

Greetings From LCC

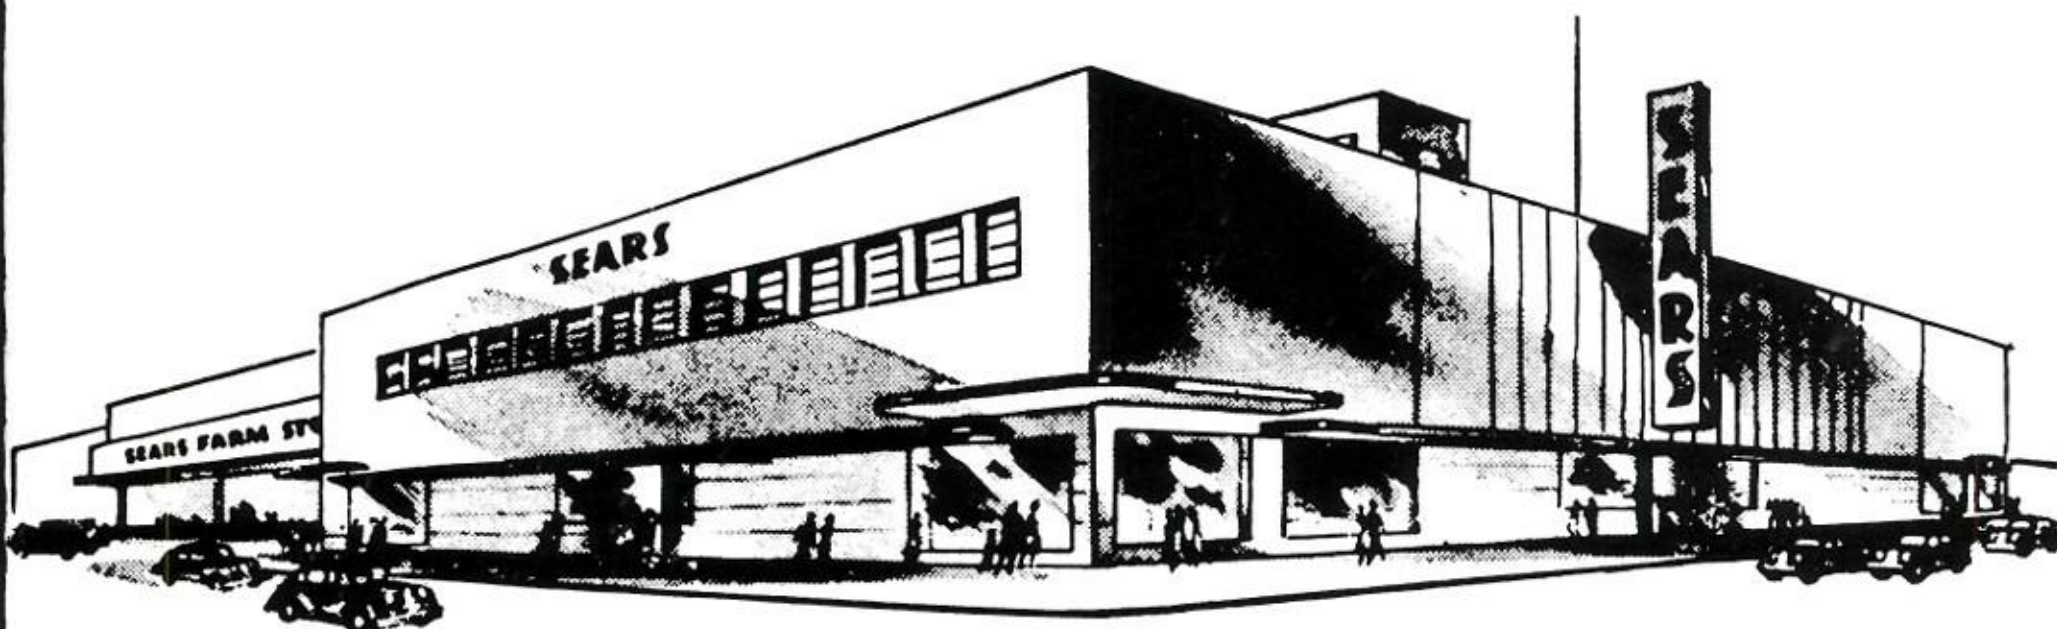

These students are typical of the many Monterey and Lubbock High graduates who have chosen to continue their education at Lubbock Christian College. They invite you to join them at the friendly junior college.

Lubbock Christian College offers individual attention and wide opportunity for extra curricular activity and leadership. The school is fully accredited by the Texas Association of Colleges and Universities. Graduates and ex-students of LCC have been accepted in more than 60 colleges and universities and have made outstanding records.

Visit your friends at LCC and ask them to tell you about the many opportunities at Lubbock Christian College. For information concerning scholarships, loans, and student employment, contact E. R. Higgins, Director of Admissions, 5601 West 19th, SWift 9-4301.

JEFFERSON STANDARD

When you choose your life insurance company, it's smart to choose a company that's one of the biggest, strongest and best. On every count, Jefferson Standard is among the leaders.

In ordinary insurance in force, Jefferson Standard ranks 32nd in size among the more than 900 companies in the U.S. Our total insurance in force today: over 1 billion 400 million dollars. In growth in assets, it is also far ahead of the average of leading companies. But most important to you—

In net interest earned on invested assets, Jefferson Standard leads all major companies. In 48 years, we have never paid less than 4% on funds held in trust.

Let Mr. 4% explain how to put your family in the "4% class"—with the company that's in a class of one: Jefferson Standard!

In portraying the year we have discovered that each Plainsman is in some way searching for himself. Although this search is a common one for teenagers, it is by no means easy. It is our hope that the '64 CHAPARRAL has effectively recorded a brief span of this quest.

To most of you, the CHAPARRAL is merely a pictorial history of one school year. To us it is so much more. It is representative of one-third of our time as Seniors; it is a sample of our best efforts; but most of all, it is representative of the people whom we are proud to call our staff.

It is to these "special" people that we extend our gratitude . . . JOHNNY ELLIS and KENT TIDMORE for ideas that made our book beautiful . . . CAROLYN DUBOSE for successfully reflecting the Plainsman's year in brief . . . MOLLY ABBOTT for serving above and beyond the call of duty . . . JULIAN SIMPSON and JOHN HENRY for compiling a record of Plainsman sports . . . DARLENE BOSTWICK and JEANIE HALIBURTON for meeting their deadline ahead of time with "only" one blank page . . . CONNIE CLINE for her painstaking work on the Faculty Section . . . JAN STOTTS and SUSI PETERMANN for constantly searching for a "new" picture idea . . . PATSY DANKLEFS for her quiet dependability . . . DANA JARMON for helping depict the Junior Year . . . PATSY STREGE for singlehandedly finding a place for 997 Sophomores . . . JACKIE GARRETT for the Advertising Section . . . COY HARRIS, RICK PARRACK and PAUL RICHTER for adding the pictorial to the historical . . . MIKE ANDERSON for extra service without complaint . . . THE NEWSPAPER STAFF for their support and concern . . . KOEN'S, MR. G. C. CLAPP and the masterful photography of MR. ROLLIN HERALD (they have fulfilled our wildest photographic dreams) . . . FLOYD HOBSON and TAYLOR PUBLISHING CO. . . and especially to our Sponsor, MRS. BETTY STANLEY, who has helped so many of us TO FIND OURSELVES.
